More About Gilgamesh.
Japan Has Troubles.
Potatoes and Prohibition.
Pope Pius Warns.

—BY ARTHUR BRISBANE—

THE FIELD Museum-Oxford University expedition in Mesopotamia finds a tablet 4,000 years old, supplying 50 missing lines in the epic of Gilgamesh, who was to the literature of ancient Babylon what Ulysses was to Greece.

Some of his adventures suggest writings in the Old Testament, especially his escape from a great flood, like the one that threatened Noah.

AMONG NORTHERN peoples, the adventures of Beowulf suggest the career of Gilgamesh, but Beowulf's wildest achievements, including his swim of six days and nights in the ocean dressed in full armor, and his fights with marine animals, seem tame compared with the Gilgamesh career.

Primative men were children, and all delighted in fairy stories, even when writing history.

TOKIO REPORTS a new cabinet planned to suit the Japanese army, following the murder of the 70-year-old Japanese prime minister by young army officers.

The civil authorities of Japan dwindle in importance to inframicroscopic size when war begins, and must defer to army officers that deal directly with the Mikado. The army feels that Japan is in its hands and no civilian must interfere.

ON THE OTHER hand, Japanese bonds and the yen drop, exchange markets of the world taking a cold view of patriotism in Japan. They know that Japan's army will fight magnificently, but know also that it would not be able to finance magnificently.

If the army decides what is to be done and spent, the civilian government may find it difficult to pay the bills.

THE MONEY problems of Japan's civilian government may be complicated by news that Russia has called up four army classes, totaling 800,000 more men, for immediate maneuvers.

A GERMAN expert warned the Kaiser that attacking Russia was like fighting a feather bed, "the farther in you go, the more you smother." Japan may find a feather bed in China.

Manchuria reports that 35 Japanese prisoners have been massacred in the town of Ilan and the town burned. The Chinese that killed the Japanese retreated after the massacre. Japan doubtless will avenge their deaths with many killings, but you cannot kill 400,000,000 Chinese.

MRS. VINCENT ASTOR, intelligent and prosperous young New Yorker, collected funds for a wet campaign yesterday at the corner of Nassau and Wall streets. Mrs. John N. Sheppard and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, also prosperous ladies, joined many others described as "society women" in a fight for beer, and against prohibition.

Prohibitionists will not underestimate the importance of this "society" attack. When Parmentier brought potatoes to France, working people would have nothing to do with them. The king ordered his nobles to wear potato blossoms in their buttonholes, and the little people said:

"Potatoes must be good, since the nobles wear their blossoms."

They have been eating potatoes ever since, cooked in 100 ways.

IN AN ENCYCLICAL of solemn warning headed Caritas Cristi, "Christ's Charity," Pope Pius XI urges an eight-day period of prayer and self-denial. The faithful are to abstain "at least from entertainment and amusement, however lawful," the prosperous giving to the poor what is thus saved.

THE POPE denounces Communism, Atheism, Socialism, exaggerated Nationalism, and at the same time denounces accumulation of wealth in the hands of a few individuals. With that paragraph in the encyclical ultra-radicals will agree.

The Pope sees in modern times "the satanical banners of war against God and against religion brazenly unfurled to the wind."

CONGRESSMAN COCHRAN'S bill punishing kidnaping with death or life imprisonment is approved by the House Judiciary sub-committee.

The difficulty, unfortunately, is not lack of severe penalties, but incapacity in dealing with crime and convicting and punishing murderers and other criminals.

Kidnaping, hijacking, bootlegging, racketeering, hold-up, murder, all are taken quite for granted. There is some excitement in such a case as that of the Lindbergh child. But generally indifference and inefficiency make crime a safe, profitable pursuit in this country.

NEW YORK CITY'S building strike, costing workers close to half a million dollars a day, is not quite settled. The men resist, naturally, an arrangement that reduces those earning $15.40 a day to $12 a day, and those receiving $13.20 a day to $10 a day. That is real depression for skilled mechanics.

On the other hand that amount of actual cash for eight hours' work would seem the height of prosperity to many of the country's twenty million farmers.

BARE RASKOB STOCK POOL PROFITS

Percy Rockefeller, Durant, Others Named as Sharing $5,000,000 Gain in Week

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—An amazing picture of pool operations on the New York Stock Exchange, in which a group of speculators rolled up a $5,000,000 profit in one week's handling of Radio stock, was given the Senate committee today by Thomas E. Bragg, New York operator.

Bragg was one of the managers of the pool. The other, Franklin Ellsworth, could not be found by the committee. Bragg said the pool operated from March 12 to March 20, in 1929.

William A. Gray, special attorney for the committee, revealed the pool plungers included Percy A. Rockefeller, Nicholas F. Brady, Walter P. Chrysler, Herbert B. Swope, W. F. Kenny, J. J. Raskob, L. P. Fisher, Charles M. Schwab, W. C. Durant, Mrs. David Sarnoff, wife of the head of Radio Corporation, and other prominent New Yorkers.

MILLIONS PUT UP

The pool bought 551,000 shares by putting up $9,667,500, and took down a profit of $3,217,570.53 in the eight days, through Meehan & Co. It likewise bought 257,000 shares, putting up $2,730,500 and taking $1,502,310.68 profit through Hutton & Co.

In the Meehan operation, Brady, Kenny, Raskob and Michael F. Brady each put up $1,000,000 and each received $291,710.80 profit for the eight-day venture.

The whole group in the two accounts made a total profit of $4,719,880.71.

Gray said the pool took some Radio stock, too, through Block & Maloney, which raised the total profits to $4,924,078.27. It ran their total investment to $12,683,000.

Gray exhibited a copy of the syndicate agreement on Radio stock. He read the agreement

Brooklyn To Get Meine

A trade involving Heine Meine, stubborn holdout of the Pirates, was practically consummated at a conference at the headquarters of the local club today.

Meine will go to the Brooklyn Dodgers, who have been asked to give several players in exchange for the star.

It was said Manager Max Carey, who conferred with President William E. Benswanger, of the Pirates, for two hours this morning, would have to talk finally with President Frank York, of the Brooklyn club, before the deal can be definitely closed. This is expected to hold up its completion.

FIRE DAMAGES LANDMARK

When Gertrude Wright, 17, adopted daughter of Fred Miller, 4121 Saline avenue, went to the front door to call her dog "Spitz" today, Seymour Wise, a Duquesne University student, living nearby, rushed up with the news, "Your house is on fire."

Firemen extinguished the blaze by scaling ladders to the roof of the two-story frame, a landmark, owned by the Board of Public Education. Damage was placed at $400. Two other children and Mrs. Miller were away at the time.

Schipa to Succeed Gigli in N. Y. Opera

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP.)—Tito Schipa, for many years leading tenor with the Chicago Civic Opera Company, has been engaged to fill the vacancy in the Metropolitan Opera Company roster created by the withdrawal of Beniamino Gigli.

Gigli resigned recently as the outcome of a dispute over salary reductions with Giulio Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan.

Fired Schoolboys Sent to Morganza

The two North Braddock boys who admitted setting fire to the school they attended May 7, "because they didn't like to go to school," were sent to Morganza today by Judge Sara Soffel in Juvenile Court. The damage estimated by J. A. Nugent, solicitor for the school board, at $25,000, is covered by insurance. Because of their age the Sun-Telegraph will not publish the names of the children involved.

Campbells, MacLeans End 200-Year Feud

LONDON, May 19.—(INS.)—The Campbells and the MacLeans, two famous Scottish clans who have been battling each other in a fued now over 200 years old, have finally agreed upon a truce, the Daily Mail said today.

The peace was announced, the Mail said, in a telegram sent by the Duke of Argyll, chief of the Campbells, to Col. Sir Fitzroy MacLean, leader of the former enemy clan. The occasion was the ninety-seventh birthday of Col. MacLean.

Reproved for Rum, Man Kills Himself

Reprimanded by his aged mother for drinking, police say, Edward Leonard, 43, of 11 Parkhurst street, went to the second floor of his home and shot himself in the right temple this morning. He died shortly afterward in the Allegheny General Hospital. The mother, Mrs. Rachael Leonard, told police her son, single, a laborer, had come home under the influence of liquor.

Ocean Flier Caught After Escaping Jail

CADIZ, Spain, May 19.—(AP.)—Pablo Rada, airman who flew the South Atlantic in 1926 with Maj. Ramon Franco, escaped through a 300-yard tunnel from Port Santa Maria jail today along with 23 other political prisoners.

A few hours after the break had been discovered, prison officials received word that the airman had been arrested near Seville.

THE PROBLEM

FROM Department of Labor and Industry statistics: "In March, 1931, the volume of building construction work in 45 Pennsylvania municipalities aggregated $4,203,826, while March, 1932, showed a decline of $1,948,944—a decline of 46.4 per cent.

RELIEF PLAN OFFERED BY GARNER

Billion Public Works Bonds, Another Billion to Dawes, Fund for Needy, Proposed

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP.)—Speaker Garner today in a formal statement made three suggestions to relieve the economic situation in the country and said he hoped the administration would cooperate with Congress in enacting them into legislation.

His program called for the issuance of one billion dollars in bonds for a government building program, broadening the base of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to add one billion dollars to its present two-billion-dollar capital, and passage of the Huddleston bill to place $100,000,000 in the hands of President Hoover to be used in relieving "extreme suffering in any section of the country."

OPPOSED TO DOLE

Garner said he was "unalterably opposed to the dole, but it must be apparent that before Congress adjourns some real effort must be made toward taking care of the unemployment situation as well as the people who are in physical distress as a result of lack of food and rainment." He added:

"Ever since Congress met in December it has been discussing and undertaking to pass legislation that would be helpful in relieving the present distressing economic conditions. Some far reaching legislation has been placed upon the statute books.

DISTRESS GROWING

"I have been hopeful that these legislative efforts would tend to bring about better conditions, but the facts are that the unemployment and distress of the people are greater now than when Congress was organized last December.

Garner said it was evident that the situation could not be remedied by international negotiations to remove barriers and restrictions upon international commerce, saying:

"Since the present administration will not permit legislation of this nature, we must consider what, if anything, can be done to improve the situation by direct action of the government."

Garner issued the formal statement from the Speaker's office after numerous conferences with various groups in his party and members of the Republican party.

Only a few minutes after Garner issued his statement, Representative LaGuardia (Rep.), of New York, quoted from it to the House and had it printed in the record. He said:

"The whole country is going to follow the leadership of the Speaker. It is a statesmanlike, constructive statement."

Progress of Rate Parley Kept Secret

City Solicitor Charles A. Waldschmidt and Charles P. Lang, in charge of public utility litigation for the city, are still negotiating with the utility companies for lower rates, especially electric light, it was stated today.

Lang, however, indicated nothing would be made public until a report is submitted to Council.

LETTER HINTED LINDY GRAVE

TRENTON, N. J., May 19.—(AP.)—Chief of Police William Walter disclosed today that 10 days after the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby he received an anonymous letter from Buffalo, N. Y., saying the baby might be found by following the Lindbergh telephone lines. He turned the letter over to state police.

The baby's body was found a week ago near the special police telephone lines to the Lindbergh garage.

The letter said:

"We all thought we could make some easy money. We got a place near Elizabeth, N. J., and one of the fellows who is pretty smart runs a wire to this place and listens to everything the Lindbergs say.

"I quit the fellers because they don't agree. Follow the Lingberg telephone wire and you will find the baby and the three fellers. The fellers were pretty nervous.

"If I did not like the baby I would not write this, but if you want the baby and the fellers you must keep this secret. These fellers have a radio and reed plenty newspapers. If you catch the fellers and the baby will you let me go free."

The letter was signed simply "Thank You" and bore no name. It was printed with pencil.

'Jafsie' Busy Trying Get Started on Rest

Visits Police Station Despite Orders Of Physician

By JANE EADS

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP.)—"Jafsie" spent a busy morning today trying to get started on the rest his doctor has ordered him to take.

With "Al" Reich, former national amateur boxing champion, driving his car, the elderly key man in the Lindbergh baby murder investigation, emerged from his home in the Bronx in the middle of the forenoon and drove first to the jewelry store where he frequently stops to have his watch regulated.

Two New York City detectives followed in another car.

After a brief stop at the jeweler's they proceeded to a Bronx police station, where they stayed half an hour. Reich said:

"They're trying to get him to go and look at some more rogues gallery pictures, but he doesn't want to. The doctor wants him to take a little vacation, and we're trying to get him started on it."

A messenger boy with a telegram awaited him when the tall, stooped old man—known as Dr. John F. Condon in the Bronx, but as "Jafsie" to the rest of the world—entered the driveway of his home.

His daughter knocked on an upstairs window and then came running out to talk to him, as he scanned the telegram. He accompanied her back into the house.

Fifteen minutes later he emerged again and, after apparently driving aimlessly for a few minutes, his car and the car containing the detectives returned to the police station. Reich remarked:

"Mrs. Condon is half dead with worry over this business."

He did not say whether Mrs. Condon was "Jafsie's" wife or a daughter-in-law. She has not been mentioned before and it was generally believed Dr. Condon was a widower.

BULLETINS.

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP.)—Assistant District Attorney Ralph K. Jacobs, of Brooklyn, announced today he had sent out to detectives to find Mrs. Mary G. Ford, Brooklyn public school teacher, and "bring her in for questioning in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping and ransom payment."

Jacobs said he was informed Mrs. Ford, who was absent from school today, paid rent for a Riverside Drive apartment with $20, $10 and $5 bills. Other information, he said, was given by school authorities.

NORFOLK, Va., May 19.—(AP.)—Director of Public Safety Charles B. Borland today said full investigation revealed that John H. Curtis reached New York at 10 o'clock the morning of April 2, the day "Jafsie" paid a futile $50,000 ransom to the supposed Lindbergh kidnapers in a Bronx cemetery.

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 19.—(AP.)—John H. Curtis, jailed Lindbergh hoaxer, today was exonerated of any connection with the actual kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby or collection of ransom, as New Jersey officials pressed plans for the questioning of his companion, the Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, at Norfolk, Va., concerning his activities as a negotiator in the case.

The clergyman, revealed yesterday as having flown to Hopewell on March 28 to request Col. Lindbergh to deposit $25,000 in a Norfolk bank as "earnest money" in connection with alleged negotiations with the kidnapers, declined to come to Hopewell, but said he would give all information to the police at Norfolk.

QUIZ FAVORED BY GOVERNOR

Gov. Harry A. Moore, of New Jersey, immediately announced he favored "sending someone to Norfolk to see what he has to say," and indicated a representative probably would be named by Col.

Stork Visits Sleuth's Wife After Losing Auto Race

County Detective Michael Stabile, who lives at 2757 Ammon avenue, Dormont, responded to an emergency call out of the ordinary this morning when he bundled his wife into the car with which he trails criminals and started full speed for the Magee Hospital.

A baby girl weighing 7 pounds and 13 ounces was born soon after their arrival.

It was said both mother and child were doing well. Stabile was overjoyed at the arrival of his first baby, despite the fact that he had previously confided to friends that he was hoping for a son to grow up and play golf with him.

DEAN FACES NORFOLK QUIZ, REFUSING TO GO TO N. J.

CLEAR CURTIS IN ACTUAL KIDNAPING

H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of state police, Col. Schwarzkopf said he was "very anxious" to confront Curtis with the dean.

The ex[illegible] Curtis came in the morning's [illegible]. Schwarzkopf [illegible] there was [illegible] any way [illegible] actual kidnaping [illegible] baby and [illegible] ransom [illegible].

This statement was made after an investigation [illegible] Curtis' whereabouts [illegible] the baby was kidnaped and [illegible] April 2 when [illegible] "Jafsie" paid $50,000 through a hedge in a Bronx cemetery to the supposed kidnapers.

"JAFSIE" LAUDED

Col. Schwarzkopf mentioned that Dr. Condon had been most co-operative with police and had offered to come to Hopewell or anywhere else with the investigators.

Col. Schwarzkopf said:

"A message received from his daughter this morning indicates that Dr. Condon's physician has ordered that he rest for several days before his activities are resumed. As soon as Dr. Condon is rested we will continue taking him around."

Schwartzkopf's statement also made comment on the telegram from Dean Dobson-Peacock in which the Norfolk associate of the Curtis activities declined to come to Hopewell, but said he would give all information to police going to Norfolk. Schwarzkopf declared:

"Under these circumstances it will not be possible to confront Mr. Curtis with Mr. Peacock, which at this time we are very anxious to do. There is no legal way in which we can force Mr. Peacock's presence in either Hopewell or Flemington. The fact that Peacock requested the deposit of $25,000 in Norfolk is substantiated by Col. Lindbergh and others who were present when Peacock made the request."

ACTIONS ACCOUNTED FOR

The full statement as it applied to Curtis follows:

"On April 2 Mr. Curtis was in the company of Lieut. Richards, and his actions are accounted for. There is nothing that would in any way link him with the actual kidnapers and the collection of the ransom money."

"When Mr. Curtis was first questioned he manifested concern for the safety of his family and we requested Director of Public Safety Charles Borland, of Norfolk, Va., to protect the Curtis family. No reports have been received that any threats have been made against any member of his family.

"It is understood that Mr. Curtis has a brother, George, who, however, lives in or near Norfolk and nowhere in the vicinity of New York. At no time did Mr. Curtis see any one of the actual ransom notes, nor the signature on them. In fact, it was the request of Col. Lindbergh for actual truth of his contacts with the kidnapers that was the basis for the desire to have Mr. Curtis bring from his alleged kidnapers a letter of communication bearing the signature known to be that of the kidnapers.

Curtis, after 10 weeks of promise as a negotiator for the return of the child alive, was in jail at Flemington. The charge was obstructing justice. Conviction provides a penalty of three years in jail, a $1,000 fine or both.

WAIVES HEARING

The 47-year-old boat builder who blames financial worries for his attempt to foist his gigantic hoax upon the world, waived preliminary hearing when he was called to answer the charge late yesterday at the Lindbergh home.

The sight of jail and iron bars loosed rancor and he spoke bitterly of a fellow Norfolk negotiator, Dean Dobson-Peacock, and slightingly of the third member of the Norfolk group, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired.

The clergyman Curtis said was a "publicity fiend" and joined the hoax for the publicity it would bring. This the clergyman at Norfolk denied expressing doubt that Curtis would make such a statement.

Burrage was referred to by Curtis as "an old fogey." The retired commander has been exonerated by police of any knowledge that he was lending his name and aid to a hoax fashioned about the tragic fate of the son of his friend, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

REQUEST FOR MONEY

The police intended to pursue further their inquiry into the request by Curtis early in his "ransom negotiations" for $35,000 from Col. Lindbergh. Dean Dobson-Peacock at Norfolk said the request for the money was made but that the money was to be deposited in the name of all three intermediaries.

There was an intimation from Norfolk police, who have been looking into the activities there of the "negotiators," that Curtis' confession was far from complete, that he was holding back "something important." From other sources there were intimations that his detailed account of negotiations with the kidnapers—an account he gave the authorities a few hours before confessing it all was a lie—may in fact have held some elements of truth. These intimations were that some of the persons he named as the kidnapers may be actual persons despite Curtis' subsequent disavowal of the story.

RASKOB STOCK PROFITS BARED

under which the operators limited their holdings to 1,000,000 shares of Radio long or short. It showed that Bragg and Ellsworth as its managers would split 10 per cent of the profits. During this operation Bragg admitted he was in Florida.

SCHWAB INVESTMENT

Charles M. Schwab invested $200,000 in the pool and received a profit of $58,242.15, Gray said.

W. J. Higgins and Bradford Ellsworth each made a profit of $145,839. Walter P. Chrysler invested $500,000 and got $145,855.39 profit. Jessup and Lamont, a brokerage firm, put up $100,000 and got a profit of $29,171.08.

Herbert B. Swope put up no money, was given some of the stock and made a profit of $58,242.15.

George F. Breen, I. P. Fisher and J. J. Riordan each made a profit of $72,327.70.

W. C. Durant put up $400,000 and received $145,855.39 in profits.

Percy A. Rockefeller put up $75,000 and got $29,171.08 in profits. In another account Rockefeller, Bragg and Ben E. Smith were given 8,000 shares, put up no money and took a profit of $46,673.73.

The four Fisher brothers all netted profits from the pool. A. J. Fisher and William A. Fisher each put up $75,000 and scored a profit of $29,171.08 each. L. P. Fisher and Charles T. Fisher each put up $150,000 and profited $58,342.16 apiece.

J. A. Stillman, the noted banker, took a profit of $29,171.08 after putting up $100,000.

Gray produced a mysterious expense account of funds paid out by the pool. It included $10,000 to J. P. Tumulty, former secretary to the late President Wilson, and $19,000 to Eddie Dowling, the actor.

Bragg couldn't tell why either payment was made.

GOT ONLY 5 PER CENT

Gray brought out that though Ellsworth and Bragg, promoters, were supposed to get 10 per cent of the profits, they really got but 5 per cent. Bragg was asked:

"Did M. J. Meehan & Co., keep the other 5 per cent?"

Bragg said:

"Yes, sir."

"And besides, M. J. Meehan & Co., got their regular commissions on these transactions, amounting in all to $580,000?"

"I think so."

Senator Glass (Dem.), of Virginia, asked:

"Was there not just as much gambling in these operations as when a fellow sets at a card table with an extra card up his sleeve?"

Gray replied:

"A little more so. The other fellow at the card table might see the card up his opponent's sleeve, but the public could not see it here."

Mrs. D. Cohalan, supposed to be the wife of a prominent political leader in New York City, was credited with a $10,000 investment in the pool. She received a profit of $2,700.

Yacht Lender Sees Curtis as Insane

BALTIMORE, May 19 (INS)—The opinion that John H. Curtis must be insane was expressed here today by Col. Charles H. Consolvo, owner of hotels in Norfolk and Baltimore whose yacht, the Marcon, was the vessel principally used by the Norfolk hoaxer in his mythical search for the Lindbergh kidnapers.

Consolvo said he had known Curtis casually for some years and that when he approached him with the request to borrow the yacht for the ostensible purpose of recovering the child he readily consented. He said he never saw the vessel from the time he lent it to Curtis until the end of the tragic hoax.

Two Plead Guilty To Kidnaping Pair

CHICAGO, May 19 (AP)—Two of the four men charged with kidnaping Dr. Max Gecht and his wife, Georgia, pleaded guilty today as testimony was about to be given in their trial. They were William Thomas and John Pitagera.

Assistant States Attorney C. Wayland Brooks said the state would recommend life imprisonment.

Kidnaping Hoax Confessed By Homesick Runaway

SCRANTON, Pa., May 19—(AP.)—A homesick young man who ran away last September after financial reverses admitted to police today that a fantastic kidnaping story with which he hoped to disguise his movements was purely imaginative.

J. Drew Fague, 31-year-old justice of the peace and former Democratic nominee for Congress, confessed that he wrote the ransom demands his wife recently received, and that he applied the adhesive tape which bound his mouth and hands when he was found lying beside a highway yesterday.

He related, after hours of questioning by detectives, that he left his home near Williamsport last September 17, intending never to return. He made his way to New Orleans, working en route, shipped aboard a fruit boat to Colombia and returned to Boston last month.

The desire to see his wife and his home again became overpowering. He returned to Pennsylvania and early this month sent Mrs. Fague "ransom letters" from Reading, Bloomsburg and Plymouth. Tuesday he decided to go home, he said, and taped himself up to give credence to his story of having been kidnaped.

Authorities said no charges would be made against him.

NORFOLK HOLDS CURTIS STORY INCOMPLETE

Some See Shipbuilder Acting Under Gang Death Threat; Mystery Man Seeks Dean

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service.

NORFOLK, Va., May 19—Residents of Norfolk today simply refused to accept as the whole truth the amazing confession of John Hughes Curtis that his "negotiations" to recover the kidnaped Lindbergh baby were the product of a reeling imagination.

All along Curtis' two associates here, the Very Rev. Harold Dobson-Peacock, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, and Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, retired, have felt there was more to the shipbuilder's tale than he told. Today the entire populace was swept with an inescapably obvious wave of this belief.

Some believe the erstwhile Norfolk social dictator, who stepped jovially into the role of chief intermediary for the world famous airman in his search for a stolen son, has hidden something sinister; they don't suggest what—behind his statement the whole wretched affair was a fabrication.

HINT GANG THREAT

Others hold Curtis is acting as directed at the point of a gun by gangmen with whom they believe he was dealing. Still others think the confession, police inquiry and subsequent stir constitute a blind to throw the Lindbergh kidnap-murderers off their guard in order to further the search for the criminals.

An odd incident occurred at the home of Dean Hobson-Peacock about midnight which resulted in the placing of an extra force of police about the locality in which he lives.

A strange man who Mrs. Dobson-Peacock described as "tough looking" rang the doorbell, and when Mrs. Dobson-Peacock went to the door and asked his business, he announced his name was Terrell and that he wanted to see Dean Dobson-Peacock personally. When a member of the household went to the door, almost immediately, the man ran down the steps, shouted something unintelligibly, and drove off in an automobile.

SILENT ON CURTIS CHARGE

The Christ Episcopal Church rector was plainly chagrined at Curtis' latest expression, which denounced him as a publicity seeker, violator of confidences and manufacturer of news, but offered no reply.

He cleared up a controverted point as to whether he ever asked Col. Lindbergh for money during the negotiations. He explained that he "relayed" terms outlined by Curtis to Lindbergh, but added pointedly that the terms called for no money to be actually turned over to the kidnapers unless and until the baby was returned.

Acting for Curtis, he went on, he asked Col. Lindbergh to deposit $25,000 in a Norfolk bank to the joint account of the three negotiators, binding it with provisions that the amount could not be released unless the baby was returned. Lindbergh refused to meet the terms.

AGREES TO QUIZ

The clergyman said he had no objection to submitting to questions, but has no intention of traveling up to Trenton for that purpose. Dean Dobson-Peacock received several communications from Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, of the New Jersey police, requesting his presence in Trenton, but did not reply to any of them until today. At that time he sent the New Jersey official the following telegram:

"Replying to your telegrams of yesterday and today requesting my presence in Hopewell I stand ready at such times as you may select to meet at Norfolk you or Gov. Moore's accredited representative and will fully and freely give all information in my possession pertaining to the subject."

Lindy Grave Hawker Must Give Up Stand

PRINCETON, N. J., May 19—(AP.)—The hot dog stand established near the improvised grave of the murdered Lindbergh baby by an opportunist who saw a chance to enrich himself on the hunger of morbid sightseers is to be removed.

Dr. John Grier Hibben, retired president of Princeton University, telephoned today to Gov. A. Harry Moore and asked that the stand be taken away. Gov. Moore promised swift action.

Ismused, reached Cavalle and extricated him.

Dean Pushed Lindy Hoax To Get Publicity for Self, Curtis Charges

HOPEWELL, May 19.—In a statement to Inspector Harry W. Walsh, of the Jersey City Police Department, John H. Curtis, the Norfolk faker in the Lindy kidnaping search, told of his association with the Rev. H. Dobson Peacock. The statement follows:

"Between 10:30 and 11 a. m., on the morning of March 10, I went to my office and called Dean Peacock and told him I had a very important matter that I would like to talk to him personally about and invited him over to the office.

"Immediately upon his arrival he cleared the office out and I told him this fantastic tale that I had concocted about meeting a contact man who claimed he knew the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby. After discussing the matter for some time he decided the best thing to do would be to get in touch with them over the telephone.

PHONE TO HOPEWELL

"We interviewed the manager of the telephone office and asked if it were possible to get a private wire through without leak to Hopewell. We asked for Col. Lindbergh, Mrs. Morrow or her secretary. Were told that we could not see Mrs. Morrow as she was indisposed and the secretary was not there and the party talking to me who told me his name was Rosner and said he was private secretary to Col. Lindbergh and would accept the message. Dean Peacock explained who he was, talked first, told that he had been dean of the cathedral in Mexico City, that he knew Mrs. Morrow and her family in Mexico City. Rosner replied that what we should do would be to have a picture taken of the face, chest, back of the child, and send the undeveloped film to him.

DEAN WRITES LETTER

"After that conversation I told the dean that it looked as if we could not get in touch with him and the only thing I saw was to drop it then and there. The matter lay in abeyance from Thursday till the following Tuesday night, when Dean Peacock called me to the telephone and told me that he had written a letter to Mrs. Morrow and to come around and see him at the parsonage, which I did. He read the letter to me, which was in effect that he had tried to get them over the telephone, could not, and consequently was writing them.

"At that time I called the dean's attention to the fact that Admiral Burrage knew the Lindberghs and why not get in touch with him. He stated he would not do this unless we do not hear from this letter. He did not want me to take it up with Burrage, because, he said, you know what sort of an old fogey he is. We received no reply to the letter and I was inclined to let the entire matter drop, until March 19, when, at the suggestion of Dean Peacock, we went to the house of Admiral Burrage and told him about the matter, and it was decided the best thing to do would be to get in touch with the Lindbergh home by telephone. Admiral Burrage called the Lindbergh home, told them who he was and, after a brief conversation, both the dean and I told the one who answered the telephone who we were, also what our mission was.

SPURRED ON BY DEAN

"The party on the other end of the line took Dean Peacock's telephone number and Admiral Burrage's number and promised to communicate with them at 11 o'clock the next morning.

"From that time I carried on my operations and transactions in connection with the Lindbergh case much against my will, having expressed a desire to drop it on March 15 entirely and because of my knowledge that the whole thing was untrue and carried on because I had been continuously urged and encouraged by Dean Peacock, who was enjoying the publicity that he was getting out of the newspaper stories. This also applied to his entire family. Night after night in his urgent manner to keep himself in the public press he called my home inquiring as to whether or not there was anything new and pressing me for information which would be of news value in the hope of getting more publicity.

SAYS DEAN FAKED STORIES

"Any news that I gave Peacock in confidence he gave to the newspapers and to the neighbors and on two or three occasions confidential information that I had given him concerning this case returned to me through my wife or daughters. Many of the stories concerning our actions in this case that appeared in the newspapers were manufactured by Peacock, were untrue and he had a knowledge of their untruthfulness at the time he released them for publication."

Pastor Offers Lindys Chateau in France

PARIS, May 19.—(AP.)—Robert Davis, former pastor of an Englewood (N. J.) church, who baptized Anne Morrow, wrote a letter today to her mother, Mrs. Dwight Morrow, offering his chateau in the south of France as a retreat for Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

FARLEY PUSHES ROOSEVELT AT HARRISBURG

New York State Chairman Attends Democratic Meet; Test of Strength Near

By MARK SHIELDS

HARRISBURG, May 19.—Indicating the national importance attached to the election here today of a Democratic state chairman and national committeeman, James A. Farley, Democratic chairman in New York, and national leader of the Roosevelt-for-president movement, came into Harrisburg to lend his influence to the chairmanship candidacy of Warren Van Dyke, one of the state Roosevelt leaders.

Farley occupied a hotel suite adjoining the headquarters of Van Dyke and Joseph F. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, and impressed upon Pennsylvania committeemen the importance of the election of Van Dyke as chairman.

DELEGATES AT STAKE

The presence of Farley confirmed the prediction that the presidential preference of approximately a score of delegates to the Democratic national convention is at stake at today's organization meeting of the state committee.

If John Collins, state chairman, and Sedgwick Kistler, national committeeman, are re-elected this afternoon, many delegates who have been wavering in their preference will swing solidly to the leadership of Alfred E. Smith, whom incumbent party chiefs in Pennsylvania recognize as their national shepherd.

I. Warren VanDyke and a friendly national committeeman succeed in unseating Collins and Kistler, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, will be the gainer, including possibly six delegates from Allegheny County, in reality for Roosevelt, but inferentially bound to Smith because the preference vote of their districts in the primary favored the 1928 presidential candidate.

GUFFEY MAY LOSE

The Roosevelt-VanDyke forces were uncertain this morning who would be their candidate for national committeeman. Early plans to advance Joseph F. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, were subject to revision, and it is possible Judge Samuel Shull will contest with Kistler.

If Collins should defeat VanDyke substantially, the battle which will furnish the first test, Guffey, rather than Shull, will be the national committee candidate. It is admitted Kistler is a more formidable candidate than Collins.

Both sides were claiming 75 state committee votes this morning. There are only 113 members of the committee, a problem in arithmetic which defies solution if both Collins and VanDyke are any good as political prophets.

LAY CHICAGO PLANS

There are some committeemen from districts favoring Roosevelt who will vote for Collins this afternoon, which improves his chances. Many of the delegates were present, and there was free discussion of the effect of the committee vote upon the lineup of the state at Chicago. The VanDyke-Guffey contingent continues to claim 66 votes for Roosevelt, but that is an overly-optimistic estimate.

There is considerable talk of Speaker John Garner as the ultimate destination of several Pennsylvania votes if no early decision is reached.

Allegheny County Democrats were here in full force. In addition to the committeemen and Guffey, County Chairman David L. Lawrence was early on the scene, attempting to line up votes for VanDyke. It is predicted at least nine of the Allegheny committeemen will vote against Collins.

Means Faces Lindy Fraud Trial June 6

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP.)—The trial of Gaston B. Means on charges of larceny after trust and embezzlement of $104,000 in an alleged Lindbergh ransom fraud was set today for June 6.

The former Department of Justice agent is accused of obtaining the money from Mrs. Edward B. McLean, estranged wife of the Washington publisher, on false representations that he could recover the Lindbergh baby from his kidnapers.

Lindbergh Condoles Widow of Air Pal

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—(INS.)—Although in deep sorrow himself, Charles A. Lindbergh today remembered his former flying partner, Jack Lynch, by sending a telegram to Lynch's widow. The message read:

"Deep sympathy."

Lynch and W. A. Clark III, a grandson of the late United States Senator W. A. Clark, of Montana, were killed in an airplane crash in Arizona Sunday.

BIRTH CONTROL ADVOCATES AND FOES HEARD IN CONGRESS

MRS. SANGER AND DR. RYAN TESTIFY

Woman Leads Arguments for U. S. Sanction; Ex-Chief Of Medical Group Heard

WASHINGTON, May 19. —(AP.)—While advocates of birth control, led by Mrs. Margaret Sayer, were taking advantage of the first opportunity since 1873 to present their views before a House committee, the Senate judiciary committee today heard strenuous opposition.

Speaking as she said, in behalf of 25,000,000 women of child-bearing age, Mrs. Sanger, a veteran fighter for her cause, appeared before the House committee in behalf of the Hancock bill. It would amend federal laws to permit dissemination of birth control information by licensed medical sources.

The committee room was crowded as Mrs. Sanger said:

"Forty-seven states permit physicians to give such advice, but while they can advise orally, they must 'bootleg' their supplies."

Representative Hancock (Dem.), of North Carolina, the sponsor, made a strong presentation of the "arguments advanced by its proponents," but said he himself had not studied the matter sufficiently to form a conclusive opinion. He argued for it, however, as an emergency measure.

Testifying on the Hatfield bill to permit dissemination of information by physicians, Dr. William Gerry Morgan, past president of the American Medical Association, told the Senate group the legislation was dangerous, that all contraceptive methods have "more or less harmful effect," and that there is no foundation for the charge that doctors are handicaped in dispensing advice to mothers suffering from physical infirmity. He added:

"And God forbid that they should desire to offer it to any others."

Morgan said he did not believe the medical profession as a whole favored any such legislation, observing that the Medical Association only last week refused to indorse this or any other legislation for the same purpose.

Dr. John A. Ryan, economist and social worker, said:

"Advocacy of birth prevention as a remedy for poverty diverts attention from measures of economic and social justice. The propaganda for birth prevention helps to continue a cruel injustice to the working classes."

He argued that the present great decline in birth rate already was having harmful effects on this country and that an increase in birth prevention will bring the population to a stationary level even before the 1945-1970 period at which this is now due. In addition to economic arguments, however, Ryan said:

"My fundamental objection to this practice is based upon the fact that it is intrinsically and everlastingly immoral."

SCHWAB, IRVIN DEMAND U. S. SLASH COSTS

Congress Retarding Trade Recovery, Steel Men Say; Industry Has Readjusted

NEW YORK, May 19. —(AP.)—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, today told his fellow manufacturers that balanced budgets, smaller costs of government and credit expansion were necessary to business recovery.

Mr. Schwab's address, made before the American Iron and Steel Institute, of which he is president, drew prompt indorsement from William A. Irvin, recently elected president of the U. S. Steel Corporation. Irwin said, when introduced to the meeting:

"I am in hearty accord with all Mr. Schwab has said. Although at this time no man can say when the tide will turn, we are filled with hope and have every confidence in the future."

PUBLIC MUST PAY

Referring to public expenditures which Schwab had declared "must be adjusted to the ability of the public to pay," Irvin said:

"We must eventually pay for every dollar of expenditures authorized by our public officials."

Steel manufacturers reported little change in business conditions, but it was noted that operations had at least stopped declining and that prices were holding.

G. N. Verity, chairman of American Rolling Mill Company, said:

"The whole trouble today is at Washington."

H. G. Dalton, chairman of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, said the increase in oil prices should eventually help the steel pipe business.

Tom M. Girdler, president of Republic Steel, pointed out that automobile orders were a little larger.

I. E. Geohegan, vice president of Gulf States Steel, asserted that steel conditions in the South showed little change.

HOUSE IN ORDER

The steel industry, Schwab declared, has put its own house in order and the Federal Reserve system is doing its part. He added:

"I am still an optimist, even amid present conditions. I continue to have hope and belief in our future because I have lived so long and have seen our people work their way out of so many trying situations."

Unless there is improvement, a steel output of only 16 to-17 million tons, the smallest since 1908, is indicated for the industry this year, Mr. Schwab pointed out. The five leading companies in the first quarter this year failed to earn interest, depreciation and other charges by $25,000,000, and "losses at this rate compel the most drastic readjustments in the relation of costs to income."

Mr. Schwab continued:

"We as taxpayers cannot afford to carry in our costs the burden of taxation that we could bear in the years 1925 to 1930. The burden of local taxes under present conditions of business becomes self-evident when we realize that in some of the communities where our steel plants are located the local taxes total as high as 10 per cent of our cost of production."

Mr. Schwab said steel employers hoped the wage reductions would be compensated for by improved employment.

MAGEE CHOSEN METHODIST BISHOP

Seattle Man Wins on 17th Ballot; Women Lose Fight for Equal Rights

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 19.—(AP.)—Dr. Julius Ralph Magee, district superintendent of the Seattle, Wash., area, was elected bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church today by the general conference on the seventeenth ballot.

Magee received 561 votes, 25 more than the two-thirds majority necessary for election.

As soon as his election was announced he was escorted to the platform where the board of bishops sat.

Bishop Magee will probably be formally consecrated on Sunday. Dr. J. Ralph Magee is a brother of the Rev. John B. Magee of the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal Church, Pittsburgh.

DECISION UNEXPECTED

The election came unexpectedly after previous failure to reach a choice had started a renewed movement to have two episcopal areas abolished to obviate the necessity of electing two new bishops.

Other leaders on the seventeenth ballot were R. S. Cushman, Rochester, N. Y., 421; L. O. Hartman, Boston, 287; L. C. Wright, Cleveland, 95; A. E. Day, Pittsburgh, 54; J. M. Gray, Detroit, 48, and W. E. Shaw, Peoria, Ill., 37.

Ministerial equality with men is a goal which woman still have to attain in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

They marshaled their arguments for equal franchise in the ministry before the general conference last night, and there were times during the two hours and a half debate which followed when it seemed as if their crusade would be successful.

The final vote, however, vetoed the amendment which would allow women, married or single, to share the same status of ordained ministers and to become members of the various annual conferences which compose the church. The vote was 417 to 331, with a number of women voting against equal ecclesiastical rights.

RETAIN STATUS

The women retain their present status in Methodism. They can be admitted to "local orders" under which they are allowed to preach, and to administer baptism, marriage and the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. But they are still "supply" or substitute preachers and they cannot receive an appointment to a pastorate.

Their crusade for equal ministerial rights dates from the day when Frances Willard, founder of the W. C. T. U., applied for membership in an annual conference and was refused. Miss Florence Resor, a local preacher of Buhl, Minn., advocated the women's cause last night as a matter of social justice, but her arguments did not quite overcome the male opposition to a woman minister on the grounds that few churches would accept her, and that her pastoral duties would be hampered by marriage and maternity.

ADMITS RECTOR KISSED MANY WOMEN

London Preacher 'Busybody,' But Not Guilty of Any Misconduct, Says Lawyer

LONDON, May 19.—(AP.)—The Rev. H. F. Davidson, 62, did indeed kiss innumerable women, his counsel assured a consistory court today, but there was nothing about this habit to which a body could object.

The minister is accused of having been guilty of misconduct while Vicar of Stiffkey—which is pronounced Stewkey.

R. F. Levy told the court in behalf of Mr. Davidson that the rector was a troublesome busybody, Levy said:

"He kisses his landlady, he kisses his landlady's daughter, he kisses the maid, he kisses all sorts of people, but it is not in a sensual way. It's a kiss on the cheek or the forehead."

The counsel said that while Mr. Davidson had had associations with hundreds of young women, they always were laudable and not improper associations. He urged that the only direct evidence of misconduct came from one witness, Barbara Harris, and he protested against the atmosphere of prejudice which he accused the prosecution of having created.

The charges against Mr. Davidson were made by the Bishop of Norwich. They are being heard by a consistory court sitting at Church House, Westminster, and at the conclusion of the case a report will be made to the bishop.

Jury Fails to Name Constable's Slayer

A Coroner's jury today failed to name the slayers of Constable Vernon P. Moses, of Ross Township, fatally shot May 3 at Keating car barn. Witnesses testified at the inquest that the shooting was done by one of three men in an automobile with whom Moses was arguing. County detectives said they were continuing their investigation.

Bankers Vote to Quit Drawing Up of Wills

Meeting Here Bans Drafting of All Legal Papers

Discontinuance by banks and trust companies of drafting of wills and deeds of trust today was recommended by the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association at the closing session of a two-day convention in the William Penn Hotel.

The declaration of principles, resulting from a six-month study in co-operation with members of the Bar Association, will require readjustments of methods in many institutions. Drafting of all legal papers to which the institution is not a party also is to be discontinued by the new ruling.

NEW RESTRICTIONS

Further stipulations prevent banks and trust companies from being represented as counsel by their officers, agents or employes in cases where they are fiduciaries. An exception is provided for banks in suburban localities, where the company attorney devotes only a part of his time to the institution. In such cases he will be permitted to serve his own clients who may be customers of the institution, but does not include persons who are his clients because of their first being customers of the bank.

O. Howard Wolfe, agent for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in the Third Reserve Bank District and cashier of the Philadelphia National Bank, was elected president of the association to succeed John W. Chalfant, of Pittsburgh. Other officers named were: Vice president, Joseph Hill, of West Chester; treasurer, D. C. W. Birmingham, Pittsburgh. Mr. Chalfant was honorary member of the council of administration.

URGES PUBLICITY

Broader use of newspaper publicity and advertising to inform the public of bankers' problems was urged today as one means of strengthening the banking system by Mr. Wolfe.

Urging a new psychology in banking, he said:

"Banks heretofore have not been careful enough to educate the people into the purposes and functions of banking. The result is that when people become alarmed, there is a concerted demand made for the payment of deposits which had been invested and loaned in accord with proper banking functions. Because banks, neither now or at any time, are able to compel all their borrowers to pay at once, the assets are unwisely termed as 'frozen.'"

Foster Son Sought In Death of Woman

SEATTLE, May 19.—(AP.)—Mrs. Sadie Carter, 53, was found dead in a closet of their home today by her husband, J. H. Carter, a mechanic. Her foster son, Richard, 19, who disappeared mysteriously last night, was being sought by police.

A diamond ring belonging to Mrs. Carter was missing, her husband said, and her purse, found in the closet with the body, was empty.

Washington County Girl Wins U. S. Title

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, May 19.—(AP.)—Pauline Crockett, of California, Pa., won the national high school championship for dramatic declamation late last night. Other winners were: Francis Perkins, Peoria, Ill., humorous declamation, and Parnell Mahoney, Sioux City, extempore.

Miss Crockett's reading was entitled "The Fool and St. Joan."

TOW LINE PULLS GLIDER DOWN

Mrs. Rae Trader, licensed flier and prize winner in an aviation meet Sunday, was recovering in McKeesport Hospital today from injuries suffered last night when a glider in which she was attempting to go aloft crashed 75 feet to Curtiss-Bettis Field. She suffered a broken left ankle, lacerations and bruises. Her glider was virtually demolished.

The primary glider in which Mrs. Trader was riding was being towed by an automobile carrying her husband, R. V. Trader, and William Price, of Bettis Field.

As the glider gained momentum and rose, Mrs. Trader sought to release the tow line, but the device failed and the glider was bound fast to the automobile. At the edge of the field, Mrs. Trader turned the glider and the automobile also was turned to keep the rope from tightening. The car was unable to stay under the glider and the craft crashed.

MOVIES UPHELD BY MRS. DIEHL

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., May 19.—(INS.)—Four o'clock bridge by mother while her children spend the afternoon at the movies seeing gangster pictures and racy bedroom scenes was censured by Mrs. Ambrose Nevin Diehl, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the division of motion pictures in the general Federation of Women's Clubs.

Speaking before 2,000 clubwomen at the opening of the four-day convention of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Diehl asked:

"What do you expect when mothers use theaters for day nurseries? When children go wrong, it is so easy to place the blame on the movies—to say it is the fault of the moving pictures and the present day life reflected on the screen—when in reality it is the failure of parents to guide and influence their young properly."

Mrs. Diehl added that children make good movie critics.

Kelley Again to Try 4 Massie Suspects

HONOLULU, May 19.—(Universal.)—John C. Kelley, special prosecutor in the Fortescue-Massie "honor slaying" trial, has decided to proceed with the Ala Moana case despite the fact that Mrs. Thalia Massie will not appear as the complaining witness, it was learned today.

Kelley has discovered a legal precedent for re-trying the four natives, accused of attacking Mrs. Massie, despite her absence on the mainland. The retrial will take place May 25.

Ince Settles Suit Over Fight in Club

HOLLYWOOD, May 19.—(INS.)—A damage suit filed following a fight in a Hollywood night club was settled out of court today by Ralph Ince, screen director, who was sued for $35,000 by W. M. Patch, a broker, the latter's attorney announced.

In preventing Ince from attacking the club manager, Patch asserted, he suffered an injured spine, impairment of sight of one eye and a bruised head.

Husband 'Traded' For Kidnaped Child

CHICAGO, May 19.—(INS.)—Details of a strange bargain whereby Mrs. Katharine N. Read has given over her husband to Mrs. Ethel Much in trade for her missing 9-year-old child were revealed today.

In return for a promise that her daughter, Carol Elizabeth, would be restored to her, Mrs. Read has agreed that she will drop a kidnaping charge placed against her husband, Fred J. Read, former investment house official, and ask for an absolute divorce which will enable Read to marry Mrs. Much.

Duffield Replaces Hibben at Princeton

PRINCETON, N. J., May 19.—(INS.)—Edward D. Duffield, a life trustee of Princeton University and insurance company president, today assumed his new post as acting president of the institution.

He will serve until a permanent successor is elected to the retiring president, Dr. John Grier Hibben.

GROUCHO, BEER WIN AT W.-J.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 19.—Groucho Marx, gloom chaser, was nominated for President of the United States at the fourteenth mock convention at Washington and Jefferson College, the decision coming on the third ballot at midnight.

Benito Mussolini, portrayed by R. E. Bierwirth, West Newton, essayed to overwhelm the convention, but was "assassinated." Al Capone was put on the spot. Roosevelt, Smith, Baker, Reed and others passed out of the picture.

All candidates pledged the return of beer in response to an insistent clamor from the floor.

The platform urged the appointing of enough government commissions and committees to relieve unemployment, the presentation of $1,000,000 annually to each war veteran and to prohibit all aliens except football players entering the United States.

Special awards were: Best impersonation, George Joy, Johnstown, Pa.; second, R. E. Bierwirth, of West Newton, Pa.; third, W. F. McCready, Pittsburgh; best nominating speeches, first, Daniel McCurdy Scott, Pittsburgh; second, Paul Heany, Washington; third, R. E. Bierwirth, West Newton; comic costumes, L. R. Davies, Pittsburgh; O. J. Waters, Chicora, Pa.; S. P. Delisi, Saltsburg.

Kelly, Kendall, Erk To Pitch for G. O. P.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP.)—Lanky Clyde Kelly, of Edgewood, Pa., the somewhat stout Samuel A. Kendall, of Meyersdale, and Edmund F. Erk, of Pittsburgh, have been picked as three of the four pitchers for the House Republicans in their biennial baseball game with the Democrats. The game is scheduled for June 4, in the American League stadium.

George F. Brumm, of Minersville, will play shortstop on the Republican team.

A., Congress of Clubs, League of Women Voters, the Conference of Jewish Woman's Organizations and the State Federation of Clubs. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

FLEISCHER PAL CAPTURED

CHICAGO, May 19.—(INS)—Seized by federal agents when he [illegible] with a rendezvous with his aged mother, Henry Shore, alias Shorr, alleged member of the Purple Gang of Detroit, was to be returned to Michigan today.

Shore has been sought with Harry Fleischer for 18 months as co-owners of one of Detroit's largest breweries, a plant which was closed in February, 1931.

Police here learned that Shore had been closely associated with the Fleischer gang and it was intimated that he may be questioned in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

Prevented from seeing his mother at her Detroit home which was closely guarded, Shore, through friends, arranged to meet her here. Shore and his wife arrived at the apartment house yesterday last night and as he embraced his mother federal officers rapped at the door.

The Detroit fugitive raced out the rear door but was seized by two policemen.

Swissvale Church Collections Stolen

After jimmying four doors in the cellar of the St. John's Lutheran Church, Monroe and Schaver avenues, Swissvale, thieves yesterday stole four collection boxes, the Rev. Mullen, pastor of the church, reported to the police today. There was approximately $2 in each of the boxes, police said.

Barnett, Famous Jokester, 'Kidded' In Court

A man of foreign appearance appeared before Judge Harry Rowand in Common Pleas Court and told him he owned a barbecue and dance pavilion on Frankstown road, Penn Township, and wanted a special police officer to protect the place and keep order. The Judge asked:

How many languages do you speak?"

"Five."

"How many does your officer speak?"

"One."

"What is it?"

The applicant realized the court knew him. He was Luke J. Barnett, famous comedian and entertainer, also barbecue proprietor. On his request presented by Attorney J. Howard Devlin, Judge Rowand appointed as officer John Grant, 327 Pitt street, Wilkinsburg, former police officer of Wilkinsburg and Edgewood.

Ukrainian Chorus To Sing Tomorrow

Members of the Ukrainian Chorus and Folk Ballet will give a program of music and dances tomorrow night in Carnegie Music Hall under auspices of the Ukrainian Bi-Centennial Committee. DO-X ARRIVES AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., May 19.—(AP)—The giant German airliner DO-X arrived over Halifax, N. S., at 11:15 a. m. Pittsburgh time today on a flight from New York.

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—The German airliner DO-X, its great motors roaring over Long Island Sound, took off at 5:05 this morning (Pittsburgh time) for Harbor Grace, N. F., on the first lap of its return trip to Europe.

The airliner was loaded yesterday for its long flight. There was a crew of 14 aboard.

Plans are to remain in Newfoundland until favorable weather reports for her flight over the Atlantic to the Azores are received. She is bound for Lake Constance, Switzerland, her home port.

Emory Mission Unit To Meet Tomorrow

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Emory Methodist Episcopal Church will meet tomorrow afternoon in the church, North Highland avenue. Mrs. C. H. Collins will be in charge of the program and Mrs. W. H. Pratt will conduct the devotional service. A program of motion pictures of educational institutions supported by the society will be shown. Miss Constance Aldenhoven, pianist, will present several numbers.

Small Girl Injured By Hit-Run Driver

Center avenue police today were searching for a hit-and-run driver whose machine struck Florence Miller, 6, of 319 Dinwiddie street, in front of her home late yesterday. Bruised, the girl was treated at Passavant Hospital.

LANDIS FAILS IN COMEBACK

CHICAGO, May 19.—(AP)—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, high commissioner of baseball and former federal judge, struck out yesterday in his comeback as a lawyer.

Municipal Judge Thomas A. Green returned a verdict in Police Court finding the white-haired law veteran's client, Mrs. Julia Luciett, guilty of using another's charge account without permission to obtain less than $100 worth of clothing.

Landis accepted the verdict and said he would not appeal after Judge Green admitted his client to probation.

The famous baseball "czar," who, when a federal judge, imposed a $29,000,000 fine on the old Standard Oil Company, in his closing argument thanked the prosecutor "for his patience and forbearance," the court "for its patience" and declared:

"My deficiency is due to my idleness as a lawyer."

His appearance as counsel for Mrs. Luciett, telephone operator in the hotel where he lives, marked the first time in 30 years the former judge had acted as attorney for defense in a criminal case.

Blast Wrecks Home, Pedestrian Killed

CHICAGO, May 19.—(INS)—A pedestrian was killed today when buried under a wall of a bungalow partially destroyed by an explosion. A woman living in the house was injured seriously. She was said to have tried to light a gas heater, but police suspected the blast may have been caused by a bomb. The bungalow is next door to the former home of John (Dingbat) Oberta, beer baron, who was slain by gangland enemies several months ago.

Doctor Loses Suit To Collect Thaw Fee

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—Dr. Smith Ely Jelliffe, alienist, yesterday lost his $10,000 suit against Harry K. Thaw, for whom he was an expert witness in the Stanford White murder case 25 years ago.

Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe, after hearing the physician's testimony, directed the jury to bring in a verdict for Thaw, who was not in court. The Judge declared the cause of action was outlawed. The trial of the suit began Monday. Dr. Jelliffee testified he had received a letter of thanks from Thaw, but never any money. Judge Coxe based his ruling on the New York statute of limitations.

Rum Boat Taken After Long Chase

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 19.—(INS)—After a 70-mile chase under gunfire by two Coast Guard patrol boats, the liquor-laden speedboat Bernadine of Newark, N. J., was captured at Sagawong Point, L. I., today. The crew had beached the boat and escaped.

Commanders of patrol boats 405 and 404 brought the Bernadine into port and reported to Commander R. W. Dempwolf that they had sighted her in Long Island Sound about 1 a. m. She refused to stop, they said, and sent out a smoke screen.

Nicaraguan Bandits Wound U. S. Marine

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(INS)—Sgt. Harry D. Hutchcroft, U. S. Marine Corps, of Cleveland, who also holds a commission as lieutenant in the Nicaraguan Guardia, was severely wounded in a clash between his guardia patrol and Nicaraguan bandits, the Navy Department was advised today.

His patrol engaged the bandits near Sisin, northwest of Cabezas. Casualties among the bandits were not given. Hutchcroft was the only guardia casualty.

32 VOTES ADDED BY ROOSEVELT

Associated Press.

Thirty-two more votes picked up yesterday by Franklin D. Roosevelt in South Carolina, Vermont and the District of Columbia placed the leading contender for the Democratic presidential nomination within reaching distance of a majority in the party convention.

He had today 428 votes, exclusive of 100 from New York and Pennsylvania which, while disputed, his managers expect him to receive. Tomorrow and Saturday 40 more delegates will be chosen in Tennessee, Oregon and Nevada, with prospects he may get them all. This would run his claimed total of delegates selected by the end of the week to 568.10 shy of the majority. This does not mean nomination as a two-thirds vote is required.

Two states in the party conventions yesterday acted on prohibition. Vermont Republicans sought resubmission before the year's end. Vermont Democrats declared for repeal, with light wines and beer in the meantime. South Carolina Democrats defeated a referendum proposal by the closest vote had in that state since prohibition began, and declared for a campaign on "economic issues" alone.

REDS THREATEN 60 AMERICANS

NANKING, May 19.—(AP)—The safety of 60 Americans, most of them missionaries, was threatened today at Pengpu by a host of 20,000 Chinese Communists which was overrunning Northern Anhwei province.

The Communists had surrounded a force of 7,000 Nanking troops west of Pengpu and threatened to cut the Tientsin-Pukow Railway south of there, blocking the arrival of reinforcements to aid the embattled government troops.

Reports from Americans at Pengpu said they doubted the Communists would be able to capture the city, but the apprehension was acute.

The Chinese government rushed troops to Pengpu last Monday at the request of the American legation. Three thousand troops were sent from here and another division from Soochow.

The ability of the Nanking government to protect Pengpu or to oppose the Communists effectively was considered doubtful here because of alleged failure to pay the government army which was sent against the rebels.

HER RECORD PERFECT

MISS EMILY DUNN

E. McKeesport Girl Not Absent, Late In 12 Years

Twelve years of perfect school attendance is the record of Emily Dunn, 21, of Greensburg avenue, East McKeesport, who will graduate from Indiana State Teachers' College May 23.

Miss Dunn started her attendance record in the fifth grade. She added four more years to it at McKeesport High School and is now completing the twelfth year of her never late, never absent score at Indiana.

Besides attending every class session, Miss Dunn also takes an active part in campus activities and belongs to Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary scholastic fraternity.

APPOINTMENT AROUSES BARR

Appointment of Jo Ray, 4630 Fifth avenue, as secretary of the County Planning Commission, was a surprise to Commissioner C. M. Barr. At the Commissioners' meeting yesterday Barr questioned Mrs. J. O. Miller as to Ray's qualifications.

Mrs. Miller said Ray was a Cornell graduate with a bachelor of landscape architecture degree and has been associated with one of the country's outstanding landscape architects. Barr replied:

"When the Planning Comission is going to take any action it should communicate with the Commissioners. We are electing a man to an important job and should know the details."

He then moved that the appointment be made. Commissioner C. C. McGovern amended the motion to make the secretary's salary $3,500 instead of $3,600, and the commission stenographer's $1,800 instead of $2,400.

Woman Attempts Suicide by Poison

Mrs. Caroline Campbell, 23, of 6244 Station street, was in St. Francis Hospital today in a serious condition as the result of drinking a poison solution, taken, police said, in an effort to end her life.

Mrs. Campbell had recently separated from her husband, police were informed, and was despondent. Her cries attracted the attention of her brother-in-law, Frank Berone, who called a physician.

OBITUARY

Worley Funeral.

Funeral services for Andrew Jackson Worley, 67, who died Wednesday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at his home, 5600 Aylesboro avenue. Born in Blacksville, W. Va., he lived for a time in Waynesburg, where he attended school and came to Pittsburgh to enter the realty business. His wife, Mary Belle McCready, died in 1929. He was a member of the Pittsburgh Country Club, Chartiers Heights Country Club, a past master of Centennial Lodge No. 544, F. & A. M.; Cyrus Royal Arch Chapter No. 280; Chartiers Commandery No. 78, Knights Templar; Syria Temple, and Lodge No. 831, B. P. O. E. He leaves two sons, J. Howard Worley and Raymond M. Worley, of Pittsburgh; a sister, Mrs. Jesse I. Penney, of Ingram, and a brother, Joseph M. Worley, of Brookline, and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Louise H. Siedle.

Private burial services were held at the Homewood Cemetery for Mrs. Louise H. Siedle, who died May 4 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Withers, of Reno, Nev. Mrs. Siedle was the widow of William R. Siedle and lived in Pittsburgh until a few years ago, when she went to Reno to live with her daughter. Besides her daughter, she leaves three grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Caroline E. Straub, of Pittsburgh, and two brothers, Otto G. and Charles J. Schultz, of Morristown, N. J.

William M. Horn.

WASHINGTON, Pa., May 19.—William M. Horn, 93, who served in the Civil War with the 100th Pennsylvania Regiment, and was a descendant of Hartman Horn, who with his brothers, founded the town of Washington when they built a blockhouse here June 4, 1792, is dead at his home at Taylorstown. His grandfather, Hartman Horn, was the first treasurer of the county; his grandfather's brother, Christopher Horn, was the first Sheriff of the then Augusta County, Virginia, while another brother, John Horn, was the first County Commissioner.

Ehmer Funeral.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. in his home for Adolph D. Ehmer, 44, of 149 Ormsby avenue, Mt. Oliver, who died yesterday. Burial will be in Zimmerman's Cemetery. Mr. Ehmer was engaged in the lumber business for many years. He was a member of Maddock Lodge No. 339, Knights of Pythias, the Monterey Republican Club and the Carson Evangelical Church. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mollie Ehmer; two sons, Howard and Harold Ehmer; a daughter, Miss Dorothy Ehmer, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Newman.

FUNDS FOR TAX CHECK SHORT

The Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes lacks $810 of the sum needed to pay 175 special subordinate assessors hired several months ago to make a physical check of taxables in the county.

A letter from Leo Riordon, chief investigator of the Department of Claims and Investigations, and George Meyers, chairman of the tax board, read to the County Commissioners yesterday, asked that $810 be transferred from the general account to the special account for the assessors.

The letter was ordered returned for more details. There is no general account, and the $15,000 appropriation is exhausted, necessitating an additional appropriation, it was explained. No report on the progress of the check of the taxables was made.

LOVE STORIES DIVORCE MAN

Norman Cyril Brown, 3341 Beacon Hill street, Dormont, proprietor of an ornamental metal business, handed his wife, Martha Osborne Brown, a newspaper clipping headed "Wives Displace Sweeties," based on a story of husbands being kept at home by dull business conditions, and told her she should be like the wives mentioned. Mrs. Brown testified in Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Brown, who lives at 86 Mayfair drive, Mt. Lebanon, was granted a divorce by Judge George V. Moore. The Browns were married June 19, 1917.

Dale P. Jennings, 423 Pressly street, filed a divorce suit against Richard Jennings, of Brookville, in Common Pleas Court, charging desertion.

Divorce suits were filed by Jane Taylor against James E. Taylor and by Sadie LeWinter against Sidney LeWinter.

Divorces were granted William A. Bond from Anna A. Bond and Rose E. Till from Clayton H. Till.

Petitions for Port's Status to Be Sent

Petitions signed by several hundred officials of local industries, asking officials of the United States Treasury Department and the United States Commissioner of Customs to retain the Port of Pittsburgh as headquarters customs office for Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, will be sent to Washington within a few days. The petitions point out that consolidation of the Port of Pittsburgh with Philadelphia would be a handicap of business here.

WILBUR VIEWS CHALLENGED

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—(AP)—Echoes of Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur's statement regarding beneficial effects of depressions on children were heard when Walter West, executive secretary of the American Association of Social Workers, said a "protest meeting" to challenge the Secretary's assertion would be held tomorrow.

Secretary Wilbur addressed the National Conference of Social Workers Monday night, and among other things he said children receive better attention in times of economic stress than during prosperity, when their parents are apt to shift responsibilities for the children to others. West said:

"Many of the social workers feel Dr. Wilbur's statement should not go unchallenged. They feel he has gathered a few facts together and drawn conclusions from them which do not picture the real situation."

ZONE CHANGES FOUGHT IN CITY

Several hundred residents of various sections of the city stormed the Council chamber yesterday afternoon to protest changing the zoning ordinance permitting properties to be used for commercial purposes in residential sections.

The chief opponents came from Beechview, where several score residents objected to R. McN. Neeld converting his property at Neeld and Cadance avenues for commercial purposes. Some of the neighbors said he already has several old street cars on his place. Neeld said he desired to use one section of his property for office purposes.

Objection also was made by W. T. Mossman, representing Willis L. King, to the application of owners of property in Center avenue, between Moorewood and Devonshire streets, to convert the north side of Center avenue for commercial uses.

Pinchot Urges Use Of Pennsylvania Coal

HARRISBURG, May 19.—(AP)—Gov. Pinchot has urged consumers of bituminous coal to use Pennsylvania-produced coal whenever possible. He said that during last year Pennsylvania consumers got 300,000 tons from West Virginia, sufficient to give a year's steady employment to 300 miners.

Dr. Robinson, Noted X-Ray Expert, Dead

VIENNA, Austria, May 19.—(AP)—Dr. I. Robinson, pioneer roentgenologist, prominent for his contributions to the X-ray diagnosis of pulmonary and dental ailments, died yesterday at the age of 58.

S. A. R. Invited To Ft. Necessity

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—An invitation to attend the dedication of Fort Necessity near Uniontown, Pa., on July 3, was extended to the National Congress of the Sons of the American Revolution by Monroe M. Hopwood of Uniontown, former historian of the society.

South Greensburg Cuts School Taxes

GREENSBURG, Pa., May 19.—South Greensburg taxpayers will be saved approximately $4,000 in school taxes next year as a result of action of the school board in slashing $2 from the per capita assessment.

State Sets June 1 For Route 88 Repair

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., May 19.—The State Department of Highways will begin work June 1 repairing Railroad street, West Brownsville, part of Route 88, District Engineer C. A. Eichelberger has assured officials here.

TAX EXEMPTION UP IN WILKINS

A mass meeting will be held in Gilmore School, Wilkins Township, tomorrow night to discuss a proposed ordinance which would exempt from taxes for five years builders of new homes, Andrew A. McKeever, township tax collector, announced today.

Attorney William N. McNair, a resident of the township, explained the ordinance was suggested as a means of encouraging the building of new homes so unemployed men could get jobs. About 1,500 persons are expected at the meeting.

Commissioner B. H. Goodwin is in favor of the proposed ordinance, it was said, and if sufficient sentiment for it is expressed, he will introduce the ordinance at the next regular session of the Township Commissioners, June 6.

Attorney McNair said the plan has been successful in New York and in Bethlehem, Pa. If passed, the ordinance's sponsors said they expect 200 houses to be erected this summer.

Growing, Growing, GROWN!

ALMOST before you realize it, he'll be a man. And how carefully you safeguard his food, his rest, his play—for you want him to grow up the strongest, healthiest man in all the land.

Of course, you worry when he doesn't want to eat. And that's why we are writing to tell you about a cereal so different and tempting, that children can't resist it.

Give your child a bowl of Kellogg's Rice Krispies and milk. Delicious, toasted rice bubbles that actually crackle in the milk or cream. The snapping and popping fascinates youngsters . . . just watch them eat!

Dietitians say that crisp cereals can be an important part of your child's diet. In fact, they advise serving two cereals daily—a different one at supper-time.

And Kellogg's Rice Krispies are one of the best cereals for children ever made. Tempting. Nourishing. Yet so easy to digest, they do not overtax. They invite restful sleep when served for the nursery supper.

You'll appreciate the care used in making Kellogg's Rice Krispies. No hands ever touch this cereal. Gleaming machinery, spotless ovens, sunlit kitchens. And Rice Krispies are sealed in a WAXTITE bag which is placed inside the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Quality guaranteed.

HOLDS PUBLIC WILL PAY FOR TELEVISION

Must Be Good as Movies Before It Reaches Homes, Gruskin, Director Says

Television will be in the home just as soon as it is pictorially as good as home movies and not before, and the public is going to pay at least part of its cost, in the opinion of George Gruskin, youthful managing director of the Sanabria Television Company which is demonstrating one of its machines at Rosenbaum's this week.

Persons who are not buying radios in the belief that television is "just around the corner" are advised by Gruskin that an orthodox radio set will still be necessary for the reception of the music and speaking on television programs.

Gruskin, who is only 22, explained he was not going to be the one to prophesy, but he is convinced television has gained tremendous impetus in the past year. His company now is working on two new systems which, he hopes, will make television reception as practical as home movies.

Whereas present-day talkies use a 5,000-line "definition" or fineness of picture, the present television apparatus uses only 45 lines, Gruskin explained. He was firm in his assertion his company would not produce home television sets until they were equal to the movies.

Gruskin was equally firm in his statement that the public will pay for their television entertainment in one of the following three ways: government control, with taxation of the sets; rental of the sets; or payment of monthly charge to a utility which will install the set and a meter to record its use of current and the particular programs it received. He believes the third is the most practical.

LEWIS SEES 3RD PARTY NEAR

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A warning that both political parties will be "consumed" in the formation of a third party by the end of the year, unless Congress enacts a definite program for unemployment relief before adjournment was issued today by Senator James Hamilton Lewis (Dem.), of Illinois.

Lewis said this third party would base its platform on unemployment relief through government control of business.

He predicted there would be an open revolt at both the Republican and Democratic conventions unless the parties presented a program assuring some form of immediate relief for the jobless millions.

Lewis said the action of party leaders yesterday in announcing that Congress would not adjourn until relief legislation had been passed was prompted by the growing signs of this threat to the two great political parties.

Chicago Laborers Demand Job Loan

CHICAGO, May 19.—(Universal.)—Sound economy dictates swift action by Congress in passing a $5,000,000,000 bond issue for national public works, according to resolutions adopted here today by the Building Laborers' and Hod Carriers' Council composed of 17,000 workers.

Copies of the memorial have been sent to the President, the Vice President, presiding officers and members of both branches of Congress. It says the soundness of the plan is supported by opinions of our ablest economists as the most direct, most practical and surest means of launching an industrial revival.

Engineers Advocate U. S. Work Program

NEW YORK, May 19.—(Universal.)—Fifteen thousand members of the American Society of Civil Engineers are unified in their advocacy of a national program of public construction work as a means of relieving unemployment.

Col. Herbert S. Crocker, president of the society, has named a committee headed by John P. Hogan, consulting engineer, of New York, to urge before Congress the advisability of enacting legislation to make this program effective through federal financing.

Advance Physical Tests Open May 23

Advance physical examinations for children who are to enter school next fall in Penn Township have been arranged by the township school authorities. These will be held from May 23 to 31 in the different school buildings and, if desired, children will be vaccinated, that they may not be handicapped with sore arms when beginning school in September.

Three Feared Lost, Boat Found Empty

HULL, Mass., May 19.—(AP.)—Fear that two men and a woman, who disappeared in a small boat while fishing off here yesterday, had perished, was expressed today when the boat, filled with water, was found stranded on a ledge about two miles from Hull.

The missing trio are Fred Dammons, 45; Lewis Phillips, 40, and Mrs. Vivian Loud, 40, all of Rockland.

Raid Nets 117 Singers, Songs Go on In Jail

PHILADELPHIA, May 19 (AP).—German melodies, rendered by 117 full, rich voices, floated from the interior of a Philadelphia police station early today, where 35 women and 82 men, arrested in a raid on the Maennerchore Singing Society, awaited hearings.

Members of the society were singing when police broke in upon their dress rehearsal in Arion Hall and seized a quantity of alleged beer behind a bar; they continued singing on the way to the police station in eight patrol wagons, and they were still going in full-throated harmony when Magistrate Edward J. Connor arrived to conduct the hearings.

Charges of frequenting a speakeasy were dismissed and all but two of them were discharged.

ASK FARM JOBS FOR IDLE HERE

Farmers of Allegheny County have been sent questionnaires in an effort to find jobs for the unemployed of the county in the rural districts.

This effort toward a back-to-the-farm movement is being sponsored by the Allegheny County Agricultural Extension Association, the Allegheny County Emergency Association and the United States Department of Labor Employment Service.

In the appeal to the 2,500 farmers of the county it is pointed out that many of the jobless worked on farms in their youth or are skilled in carpentry, cement work, painting or the mechanical trades.

All persons selected for farm work will be carefully investigated. Farmers have also been asked if they have any acreage that they are willing to cultivate on shares.

SALES TAX HELD U. S. ONLY HOPE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(Universal.)—"In the direct sales tax on manufactures, advocated by William Randolph Hearst, lies the country's only hope for solution of its muddled budget problem."

Louis B. Mayer, vice president of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and state Republican leader, voiced that belief today. Mayer is here to attend the meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He said:

"Only by distributing the tax burden evenly and in a manner by which it won't be felt, can Congress hope to balance the national budget without throwing business into chaos. Any other form of taxation will penalize certain industries and be odious and a failure."

DETROIT URGES U. S. RELIEF

DETROIT, May 19.—(AP.)—Mayors of all cities in the country with populations of 100,000 or more will be invited to meet here at some date yet to be fixed and unite in a demand for federal aid in meeting financial emergencies created by tax delinquencies and welfare needs of the unemployed.

Mayors of 18 Michigan cities, meeting here yesterday with Mayor Frank Murphy, requested Mayor Murphy to call the larger conference to reinforce the resolutions they adopted asking federal aid.

Mayor Murphy said he would call the meeting after conferring with other mayors, including James J. Walker, of New York, and Anton Cermak, of Chicago.

An Exclusive Horne Value!

Dayton Electric Refrigerator

4.86 Cu. Ft. Model

$129.50

The proper preservation of food is an important health factor, and the extremely low prices of electric refrigerators make it possible for every home to have this safeguard.

The conveniences of an electric refrigerator . . . and a constant night-and-day supply of ice . . . are insignificant compared with the savings that are possible through quantity buying of foods and the elimination of food spoilage.

The Dayton . . . in four popular sizes . . . offers all that is modern and efficient in the way of refrigeration. The initial cost of a Dayton is exceptionally low, and the operating expenses are negligible.

Take advantage of our Monthly Payment Plan and have a Dayton in your home for the summer. A small down payment may be made when your refrigerator is installed, and the balance paid over a period of months.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

A Columnist Who Can't Afford a Sec'y, but Doesn't Envy Hoover with His 10, Writes to Himself, the Mug

Dear F. Y.: The Little Red Book's tip on the romance between Chic Baker, the taxi hostess, and Prince Suksvasti of Siam, plastered the Page Ones. Chic phoned to thank you for handling the yarn so delicately . . . and I thanked her for Turning On the Heat with the royal blood and giving you a lead-off item. She wants you to come up to the Orpheum and dance with her. I advised her vs. such generosity and warned her to wear shin-protectors. . . . Stepin Fetchit, the ebony-hued screemie gent, called early. . . . He was all duked out in black suede shoes and they arrived in the office a full 1/2 minute before he did. . . . He carried a polished cane and said he was happy because a hoss named after him came in 3d at the Derby. . . . I told him that to do right by him the horse should never have run and that he should sue it for libel. . . . The whole conversation confused him and he said he'd phone you. . . . Call Sophie Tucker. . . . Borrah Minnevitch cabled from London: He said he boarded the Bremen without an English visa and that Lou Holtz, Tex Guinan and Roxy, who were on the boat, told him not to worry. When they arrived at Southampton the customs officers refused to let him off. . . . But 50 passengers signed "responsibility" papers for his good behavior and now he's got to answer to them all. . . . I wish you'd sign something like that too.

Harry Richman, who sings "I Love a Parade" with a sincerity that thrills his audiences, fell down this time. He didn't even come in front. I went to see the longest parade in NY's history. Later. From 9 in the morning until 11 at night, the Beer marchers foamed up and down 5th Ave. . . . but neither Richman nor the song's authors, Harold Arlen and Ted Kohler, got a glimpse of it. . . . Which proves they're all a lot of mammy singers. . . . I hear Harold Stern, the band leader, came to the parade on a white horse and, as usual, was late. . . . So for 3 hrs he sat astride the nag at 59th St., waiting for his section, not knowing that it had passed long before. . . . Harold brought a baton instead of a whip, but the horse didn't know anything about him being a leader and edged all over the corner. . . . The rider was nervous and afraid to get off and nearly missed his broadcast later in the day. . . . Joe Moss, who plays for all the parties on the Social Register train, dropped in. . . . He bragged about knowing all the debs by their 1st names and I told him that was nothing . . . you had their phone numbers. . . . Mrs. Joe Leblang settled the ticketmaster's will on Tues. and all the employes finally got their legacies — Joe died over a yr. ago. . . . Jack Dempsey, who has been heralded as a pauper, actually cleaned up $400,000 on exhibition fights in the last 8 mos. . . . And expects to double it this summer and fall. . . . Which proves that the rumors everybody heard were just a lot of hicky-boy.

Fo Yoeng See, the tong man, wants you and Abe Lyman to come down to Chinatown for a special dinner on Thursdee. He promises an elegant feast topped off with Nekaps, the Chinese gin. . . . If you can't go, may I be your ghost-eater? . . . And could I go for that lanky Lothario' . . . Milton Raison, who is out on the coast with a swell contract used to be press-agent for Larry Schwab, the producer. . . . Last wk Larry looked Milton up and asked him: "You remember when you used to write me for a job?" And when Milton said "Yes," Larry continued: "Well, where can I write you for a job now?" . . . Of course, it was only a gag, but it Gives You An Idea. . . . Micky Rosman, the poultry king, told me that the chickens the local butchers were selling at 35 cents a lb. were selling at 7 cents. . . . Lou Ashendorf reports a sign in a 53rd St. speak: Not responsible for your girl unless checked by the management. . . . Harry Van Hoven wants you to know that midgets pay more for their shoes than grown-ups.

AMUSEMENTS -:- Tales About the Theater and Those Who Entertain -:- SCREENLAND

Rogers to Do 'Jubilo' Again

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, May 18.

Way back in the silent days Will Rogers played a whistling tramp in a picture called "Jubilo." Remember? Well, there's an excellent chance that he'll do this story again as his next Fox talkie.

That political comedy, "If I Were President," seems to be off the list. Rumor says Will didn't like the idea of poking fun at the nation's Chief Executive. Not in celluloid, anyway.

It was 10 years ago when the comedian made Jubilo for the late Samuel Goldwyn Company. Clarence Badger directed, and Josie Sadgwick wonder what's become of her? played . . . feminine lead.

Since Will is just finishing Down To Earth and since he has a date for the Democratic convention, there'll be nothing done on his new film for some time to come.

Will Rogers

They tell a story about a studio publicity man who was having a tough time selling Groucho Marx on a certain stunt. He called him again and again on the phone, but Groucho always stalled.

Finally the publicity man went out to the comedian's house and pinned him down to an answer.

"Okay," said Groucho, "we'll do it now."

As they were leaving the house the telephone began shrilling.

"Just a minute," said Groucho. "I'd better answer that. It's probably you again."

AND SO TO GOSSIP

You can hear a perk of rumors about what actually happened in that quarrel between Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey. First Bert pulled out for the East to make personal appearances, and now Woolsey is leaving, too. He and Tim Whelan will go to Mexico City to book acts for their show. Dumb Belles. . . . The coast is to have still another stage production of "Blessed Event." While Reginald Denny is playing the columnist here for Henry Ducy, Buster Collier will enact the role in Portland. . . . R-K-O is to release synchronized versions of some of the old comedies. Charlie Chaplin made for Pathe. . . . Pastel evening frocks in sheer wools have made their appearance in Hollywood. . . . Elissa Landi doesn't look so mysterious in sailor pants. . . . The Corn Beef Cabbage and Culture Club is being formed as a competitor to the thriving Westside Asthma and Riding Club. Wisecracks flow freely at these gathering of humorists.

Supper-clubs here report things are picking up. Between dark and near dawn at the Frolics the other evening I saw many film celebrities. The imperturbable Charles Butterworth danced with Claudia Morgan. Joan Blondell was in for a while with George Barnes, one of Hollywood's ace cameramen. Roberta Gale, all in white, danced with an unknown to me young man. At another table were Shirley Mason, Sidney Lanfield and Helene Costello. Gilbert Roland dropped in with the Roy Del Ruths. Jack Howard, who is Jimmy Durante's closest pal, told me some funny gags. Erich Von Stroheim was with a large party, but didn't dance. Danny Danker also sat it out with a pretty blonde. I stayed up much too late, as usual. But this week I'll crawl in early every night. Well, maybe not tonight, when Phil Harris' band opens at the Ambassador Cocoanut Grove.

SIGN THELMA TODD

Until further notice, Thelma Todd will be acting before the cameras at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. She's been signed to play the siren in Buster Keaton and Jimmy Durante's new comedy, "Speak Easily." Ruth Selwyn is the heroine of this one.

Universal has bought a story sight unseen from Ward Morehouse, New York columnist. In fact, he hasn't even written it. Carl Laemmle has his promise to deliver the script September 1.

Friars' Show Cancelled

The engagement of the Friars' Frolic, booked for the Alvin for Saturday, has been cancelled. This an annual affair in New York, home of the Friars, a theatrical men's organization, had begun what was planned to be a trans-continental tour, but the road proved to be unprofitable and the tour was abandoned after the Baltimore engagement. The advance sale here was good. Many noted entertainers had been announced to appear.

New Comer Makes Hit In Hollywood

Each year Hollywood introduces a flock of new faces to the motion picture public. By mid-summer, many of them are forgotten and a very few have become nationally known. In this year's list of successes will be the name Tom Brown.

He has been in Hollywood but a few weeks and is already making his first picture. He has the leading role in "The Ferguson Case" at First National and besides this he is signed ahead for the lead in "Tom Brown of Culver" by Universal.

Kennywood's Season In Full Swing

Kennywood Park's summer season is in full swing today with Casper's Diving Horses as the feature attraction. Music for the park's dances is being played by Art Giles' orchestra. Next Monday evening Kay Kyser's orchestra will provide the dance music.

Darkness

Mae Clark comes to the Warner screen Friday in "Night World."

Fairbanks, Jr. In Enright

By EDWARD W. GOSS

If in your heart there hides a desire to find yourself famous overnight you should go to the Enright and see "It's Tough To Be Famous" with Doug Fairbanks, Jr. and Mary Brian.

After viewing this picture you will become convinced that being famous is no job for you. Doug, Jr., as a young officer in the United States Navy, will show you what a mess he found himself in just because he saved his men when they were in a very tough spot, the "spot" being a sunken submarine.

The picture is good — many laughs and just enough sobs — and there's a love interest. Doug, Jr., the celebrity, weds an old school mate, played effectively by Mary Brian. Here's where the pinch comes in. It seems the younger Douglas Fairbanks just can't manage to be married and famous at the same time — that is with any degree of success. Radio speeches, luncheons, tabloid headlines and all that part the idol of millions and his beautiful wife. But it doesn't last too long for Doug, Jr., gives up his "famous career" and things end as they usually end on the screen.

"It's Tough To Be Famous" is packed with action.

Fields, Turpin, Oakie In Comedy Film

An outstanding comedy cast was assured for Paramount's untitled Olympic games feature with the announcement that the principal roles will be played by Ben Turpin, W. C. Fields and Jack Oakie. Edward F. Cline will direct.

Comedy Featured In Sheridan Square

Comedy has the floor in the Sheridan Square. The picture is "The Passionate Plumber" with Buster Keaton, Polly Moran and Jimmy Durante, all of them funny.

Poor Siegfried Turned Bore When Dippel Went Into Business

By GEORGE SEIBEL

From the Far West comes the news that Andreas Dippel is dead. Heart disease ended his life at the age of 65. Dippel was once the great Siegfried of the Metropolitan Opera House. When I first heard him, and saw him wielding his sword, Nothung, on the anvil, I thought I was beholding one of the young Norse gods. He was a perfect specimen of Germanic humanity. He had a voice that seemed to fit into the Gothic naves of oak forests.

Mr. Seibel

Occasionally in later years I heard him again in various of his 150 roles. The first impression could never be effaced and could never be surpassed.

Then came a day when Andreas Dippel came into my office like any ordinary business man. The shining god had descended from Valhalla. Instead of associating with Valkyries and similar glittering creatures, he had become a mortal promoting an operatic scheme. It was his United States Opera Company, a chain-store system of providing grand opera in various communities.

Siegfried was the go-getter.

The plan failed.

Grand opera is not a thing that can be sold in boxes like breakfast food. It is something that must grow in a congenial soil. But if it could have been sold, Dippel could have done it. He was one of the most persuasive mortals that ever took to the business of merchandising art with a capital A.

HERO BECOMES A BORE

Then came one of the most disconcerting experiences in my life. Dippel had found me a man with open ears and responsive sympathy. He came into my office almost daily — unfolding his plans and voicing his hopes. The incredible, the unbelievable, came to pass. The man I had worshiped from afar like an almost mythological divinity became a bore. Day after day I looked forward with dread to his appearance. It was almost sacrilegious, but it was a cold fact. Siegfried had become an ordinary mortal — and the ordinary mortal had become uninteresting, breaking in as he did during the business hours of the day.

Now Dippel is dead, and the curtain has been rung down on a real tragedy. He died almost in penury and indigence. The man who had received a princely salary as the leading Wagnerian tenor of his time, and who had probably made a fortune in various ventures, at the age of 65, was reduced to doing chores for a moving picture concern in their synchronization studio. Hurt by a street car, he spent many months in the hospital. He has been buried by the Motion Pictures Relief Association.

STARTED AS A BANKER

Andreas Dippel was born in Cassel, Germany, and was employed in a banking house during his early career. Cassel is a great town for opera — it is a great town for all kinds of art. It was once the capital of the kingdom of Westphalia when Jerome Bonaparte had his brief, hectic and inglorious reign. It is now one of the most beautiful of Germany's beautiful cities, with the most magnificent park anywhere on earth.

Dippel joined the Royal Court Theater sometime about 1885, and a few years later began his operatic career as the Steersman in Wagner's "Flying Dutchman" in the Municipal Theater of Bremen. He came to America in 1890, making his debut at the Metropolitan in "Asrael," a forgotten opera by Franchetti. Maurice Grau secured him as a permanent singer in 1893, and for 12 years he was the great tenor of the Met, with a repertoire of 150 roles.

When Gatti-Casazza came to take the helm, Dippel was made administrative manager, and continued as such until 1910, when he took the management of the Chicago Opera Company, at a salary of $25,000 a year.

After three years it was seen that this enterprise was hopeless.

STRUGGLED AGAINST FATE

He developed various schemes including tabloid opera in moving picture houses. He did a fashion show and had a plan to inject art into jazz. He even sold life insurance for a while.

Nothing seemed to succeed.

Finally an operatic benefit at the Metropolitan provided him with funds for a new start. He went to Hollywood three years ago, worked there for two years in some subordinate capacity, and now he is dead. Siegfried has been killed by a street car and heart disease.

Every symphony orchestra in the world should put the Funeral March from "Die Goetterdaem- honor of the most glorious Siegmering" into its next program in fried of the past generation.

BITS OF LIFE

All in a Day

By Mark Hellinger

I FEAR me very much that the lady bootleggers are passing from the picture. I heard many stories about them some seven or eight years ago, but until the other evening I failed to hear about one of them for a long, long time. And they were such picturesque characters, too.

With the arrival of a bar in practically every store and home the business of the lady bootleggers took a definite tumble.

Thus, as I said before, I had heard nothing about these ladies until the subject was revived over Lady Bridgework's tea table the other afternoon. Much to the amazement of the dukes, the countesses and the gangsters who were present, one of the guests told a story about a lady bootlegger he had recently encountered. And I deem it good enough to pass on to you in this space.

This damsel, it seems, lives on the third floor of a walk-up apartment in the Fifties. When the bell rings, she runs down the stairs, looks at the gentleman without, and admits him. She then accompanies him to her apartment, where the rest of the guests are seated—and the drinks are served.

A short time ago, so the story went, a well-meaning gentleman was admitted to the charming environment. After he had taken four or five drinks of dubious rye, he drew all the more well-meaning. He wandered over to the lady bootlegger.

"Look here, Miss Smith," he said, "do you mind if I talk to you alone for a few minutes?"

She looked at him sharply. Then she shrugged her shoulders.

"Not at all, Mr. Smith," she replied. "Come on right in here."

She led him into the kitchen, pointed to a chair and then smiled confidently.

"What's on your mind, buddy?" she chirped.

"Miss Smith," he observed, "I'm not a preacher. Smatter of fact, I'm something of a drunkard. But I know a sweet girl when I see one. And I want to tell you that, in all my experience, I never met a woman with more charming eyes or with more genuine appeal."

This man was in earnest. No question about that. The lady bootlegger lowered her eyes.

"Thanks," she murmured. "You're being very nice to me."

He waved a hand.

"I mean it," he went on. "Every word is from my heart. And all I wanna know is why you don't cut out this life. Liquor, and all that. What's going to become of you—and you such a good-looking woman, too? Don't you ever feel that you're tired of it all?"

The woman bit her lip. She placed a hand on his arm and nodded comprehendingly.

"You're right, friend," she replied softly. "I'm not being fair to myself. Those stairs are killing me!" . . .

APPEARING at one of the local vaudeville houses recently was a female motion picture actress who hadn't had a decent job in the films since the talkies arrived. A male movie reviewer who found himself with a little time on his hands—and plenty of space—decided to catch the act. He saw the performance and then went backstage to see the ex-star.

"Oooohh" gushed the movie lady. "I'm so glad to see you again. And so proud, too. Did you catch my little act?"

The reviewer nodded.

The woman tittered.

"I hope you liked my little offering," she said coyly. "And you will give me a review in your paper, won't you?"

"Sure," responded the reviewer unthinkingly. "Why not? What did you think I came to see you for—pleasure?"

SPEAKING of film stars and such, Jimmie Quirk, the editor, insists that it recently happened on a Hollywood dance floor.

"Yes," said a famous producer, "my wife and I have reached the ideal married state."

"What do you mean, 'ideal'?" inquired Kay Francis.

"She no longer cares about the shape of my nose," returned the picture magnate, "and I no longer care that she doesn't." . . .

A FORMER stage lady, recently divorced with plenty of notoriety and a generous cash settlement, decided to throw a society blowout at her Park avenue residence. Plenty of people showed up, for the divorcee was known to have a large stock of very excellent liquor on hand.

Sadly enough, the thing didn't come off as planned. The hostess very evidently didn't know much about this social game, for she mixed her invitation list in a most frightful manner, as we English often say. The society mugs looked at some of the Broadwayites and pointed their noses at the ceiling. And the Broadwayites didn't seem any too happy about the situation.

The hostess looked around and began to feel terribly embarrassed. She knew she had made a very definite mistake and she felt that she must invent some way of wriggling out of it. If only she could think of some way of pepping up her society guests. Suddenly she snapped her fingers. She had hit upon what she considered a brilliant idea.

Calling all the society folks into her bedroom, she read them the clippings of her sensational divorce! . . .

Plays and Players

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS.

Fay Templeton, the Little Buttercup of "Pinafore," which will have its last performance in the Nixon tonight before making way for the last two bills of the week, "The Mikado" and "Pirates of Penzance," knows that she has a place in the heart of Pittsburgh, for Pittsburgh said it with flowers—enough to fill her dressing room. A fine gesture for Miss Templeton has a large, generous heart herself. And she never forgot her friends of the world of make-believe when they came to Pittsburgh. Her home was open to them, always. In her years off the stage she was a constant patron of the theater. When she attended, few in the audience knew that a former musical idol occupied a seat. But one night Raymond Hitchcock told them. Hitchy was being applauded for one of his famous talks before the curtain.

"Shame on you," he said, "for applauding a ham like me when sitting right here in the audience, right down there in front of me, is one of the grandest women ever to appear on the American stage."

After which he became really laudatory. It was a beautiful tribute, delightfully and quaintly expressed. Those seated near Miss Templeton noted that she was visibly touched and that a handkerchief went to her eyes.

TELL IT TO SALLY -:- -:- Follow This Unusual Feature Day by Day -:- -:- By SALLY MARTIN

Do Most Boys Dislike Use Of Cosmetics by Girls?

Come on, Bill and Pete! Tell us—what do you think of gals who slap on the war paint?

Do you think they're just hussies, and do you pass 'em up for the h'l girl with the shiny nose and the albino eyelashes?

Or do you admire girls who help nature out a little when she makes a mistake?

Zeb thinks they're simply awful—an he sez that most gents agree with him.

Izzat so? Are us gals just wasting the money we spend at the corner Beauty Shoppe?

Come on! Now's your chance to tell us what you really think of rubied lips, carmined nails and tinted cheeks.

Dear Sally:

I wish you'd tell me, honest Injun, is a young fellow 20 years of age (meaning me) really old-fashioned and all out date because he resents girls painting their faces and slapping so-called "junk" on them?

Before I proceed any further I want to let you know that I have been called just that by an 18-year-old girl who I know and like.

She believes that a girl is not up-to-date and won't get by unless she has her face daubed with powder, her lips smeared with lipstick and her eyebrows and lashes all gooed up with something the name of which I can't remember now.

CALLED BACK NUMBER

The last in particular I rebel against and because I loathe these forms of "perking up" I am called a back number. Not that I care much about being called a thing like that but I do hate to see girls submitting themselves to these atrocious forms of so-called "beautifying."

Just what do you think of girls who paint their faces all up like that? Do you think they should do it to keep up with the times?

I would like very much to know what the general opinion of the rest of the fellows is about this too.

It seems to me that the girls ruin their looks when they go in for such stuff. Why not be natural and genuine?

FOR BOYS TO DECIDE

Why they resort to such stuff I can't see. If they think they are attracting the men, I believe they are mistaken and doomed to disappointment. I don't think the rest of the fellows like it any better than I do.

What do you think? ZEB.

Well, son, let's leave what I think out of it. After all it's the opinions of the big boys themselves that count in this fracas, so we'll put it up to them.

So how about it, fellows?

What's your idea about Susie's vanity case? Do you think it's just so much poison, and do you drop her if she uses one?

Do you take care to date up the h'l gal whose face is innocent of any fixing, or do you pass her up and give your attention and your lollipops to the clever minx who knows how to "doll up to look like a million" whether nature has done right by her or not?

And last, but not least, Is it any of Zeb's business what a lady does with her own map?

ALICE IN WONDERLAND
FAY KING

By FAY KING

For 47 years a clergyman named Charles Dodgson lectured on mathematics at Christ Church College, Oxford, England.

He wrote ponderous books on that serious subject, and doubtless believed this was his life's work.

But a delightful nonsense story which he printed by hand, illustrated himself, and presented to his little friend, Alice Liddell, was "Lewis Carrol's" real work in life.

That little Alice, now 80, has come to share in the homage being paid to the memory of the beloved author of "Alice in Wonderland" on the hundredth anniversary of his birth.

We are not always aware of our real mission on earth.

A kind word or a good deed of ours may be more important than our work of the years.

-:- How to Keep Well -:-

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Take Care of Your Health When Weather Changes

Changing weather conditions of the different seasons have a powerful influence on the comfort and well-being of a large number of apparently healthy individuals. Even the strongest of human beings are susceptible to the weather.

Dr. Copeland

Summer with its high temperature and great humidity, plays havoc with many a strong man, but there are others who endure the summer heat with remarkable fortitude. They claim they never feel as well as when the temperature rises well into the 80s. The excellent elimination through the skin which accompanies free perspiration is undoubtedly the reason for this happy state.

Then again there is a fairly large class of people who say they never feel well during the cold winter months. They shiver and shake when they are exposed to the cold, and very often their discomfort causes them to take refuge in close, over-heated rooms. This practice is most harmful and renders suffering acute when they are forced to go into the outer air again.

A sluggish circulation of the blood, often associated with anemia or with a system below physical par, is frequently at the bottom of the trouble. Incorrect diet is another very common cause.

In winter, heat-producing foods are required. A diet which may ordinarily meet the requirements in warm or temperature weather is insufficient for cold weather.

Heat-producing foods are fats, grain foods and sugars. Oatmeal with cream and sugar for breakfast, bacon and eggs, and a cup of cocoa instead of tea or coffee, make a good start for a cold day.

A salt water sponge daily, followed by energetic friction with a rough towel, is an excellent means of stimulating the circulation of the blood. Setting-up exercises after the bath are most healthful, and a daily walk in the open air has a powerful influence for good.

A common ailment of those with poor circulation is chilblains. A chilblain is a local congestion of the skin, usually on the feet or hands, and sometimes is followed by inflammation of the affected part, and sometimes by a skin eruption.

On entering a warm room from the outer cold, one should never approach a fire. If the hands or feet feel cold and numb, they should be sponged with cold water.

To escape the discomfort of chilblains, shoes should be large, and the feet should be well protected by suitable stockings. Tight garters should not be worn, as they interfere with proper circulation of the blood.

-:- Household Hints -:-

If late in starting the roast for dinner, sear it under the broiler while waiting for the oven to get hot. By the time the meat is nicely browned the oven will be hot enough to continue the cooking.

Saucepans that have been used for cooking strongly flavored foodstuffs should be filled with cold water to which a little borax has been added. Allow to remain for an hour or so, then pour off the water and dry.

Asbestos in gas fires can be kept clean with a pair of bellows. Remove smoke marks by sprinkling dry salt over the asbestos before lighting. To avoid marking apply the match after the gas is turned on.

End Play Problems

Problem 8, and its solution, are given below.

Hearts are trumps. Y is to lead. How many tricks can be won against A-B?

Those who are familiar with the strategems of end plays will find this problem very simple, but the novice may ponder over its solution in vain.

Lay down Y's Ace of spades, and discard Z's losing J of clubs. Lead another spade, trump with Z's 8 of hearts. Lead one of Z's top cards, discard one of Y's spades. What is B going to discard from this holding?

Spades K. Hearts —— Clubs Q. Diamonds 6-2.

If B discards his top spades, Y's J becomes good; the Ace of diamonds will give entry to Y's hand, and the last two tricks will be won by Y's top diamond and his good spade.

If B lets go his top club, the last two tricks will be won by Y's Ace of diamonds and his 9 of clubs.

In case B discards one of his two diamonds, both diamonds held by Z will win tricks because the next lead will be Z's last heart, and Y's Ace of diamonds can be discarded thereon.

It does not make the least difference what B discards, as Y-Z can win all six tricks.

End play problems have a more serious purpose than merely to afford entertainment. Their study so familiarizes one with all possible situations that may arise at the end of a hand, that he can cope successfully with almost any distribution encountered. Problem hands afford every player a view of all remaining cards held. Unless a student learns to detect at a glance how to obtain maximum results from problem hands, how can he expect to play properly when he sees only his own cards and those of dummy?

Spades are trumps. Y is to lead. How many tricks can Y-Z make against the best play of A-B? The answer will appear next week.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Service Plates

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. Will you please explain the use of service plates? Not long ago I went to a luncheon in a very attractive home and silver service plates were used. I might add that the lady was entertaining her bridge club, and the luncheon was limited to one course. Squab was served and to me it was rather awkward using a knife and having the luncheon plate set on the silver service plate. Would it have been just as proper to have had the service plate removed by the maid when she placed the food? In fact that is what I should have done. Which is correct?

2. When there are two guests of honor at a dinner, are the seats of honor at the right of the hostess and left of the host? And if just one guest of honor, which is the chosen place?

HELEN

1. I agree with you. With these plans for luncheon the hostess might have instructed the maid to change the service plate for the heated luncheon plate. Of course the hostess was not entirely wrong, for sometimes hostesses owning silver service plates do allow them to remain even under the plates of the main course of either luncheon or dinner. But this is an unusual form of service, and usually gives an awkward appearance to the service, as you say that it did in this case.

2. This depends on whether the guest of honor or the guests of honor are women or men. The woman guest of honor is placed at the right of the host, the second place of honor for a woman guest being the left of the host. If the guest of honor is a man, he is given the seat at the right of the hostess, and if there are two men guests of honor, the other man is given the second seat of honor, on the left of the hostess.

Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My fiance's mother and father were divorced when he was very young, and both are married again. He lives with his mother and step-father, and I would like to know if it is proper to send his father and his wife an invitation to our wedding? B.

Talk this over with your fiance, and do as he wishes about sending this invitation. But I am sure that he will wish an invitation sent to his father and his father's second wife. The omission of this invitation would be unfortunate.

MUSIC FROM CLOUDS -:- Rudy Vallee, Reser On Air Tonight -:- RADIO PROGRAMS

Plane Real 'Magic Carpet' For Sobol; Pan-American Broadcast on WCAE

Music from the clouds, high above New York, is the fare for fans during the cigaret dance hour on WCAE tonight at 10 with Louis Sobol, Broadway columnist, as master of ceremonies.

Playing from a giant 18-passenger airplane over mid-Manhattan, Marion Handy and his orchestra are heard alternating with Joe Moss and his band in a program marking still another step in radio history. The plane from which the program is presented is equipped with two microphones and insulated to deaden the roar of the motors. Two engineers and an announcer, with the pilots complete the working force of the music box of the air. A short-wave apparatus on top of the Empire State Building, the tallest in the world, picks up the program for rebroadcasting. Moss and his orchestra, and Sobol, with his choice bits of Broadway gossip, are heard from the NBC studios.

Mr. Sobol

At 11:15 tonight WCAE audiences will be taken toward the stars a second time for a "narrow casting" experiment between the U. S. S. Los Angeles and the General Electric Company at Schenectady. A beam of light will be used in the test, which will be under the direction of Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the naval aeronautics department, assisted by J. F. Evans, naval inspector of the New York district.

A half-hour program of Pan-American music, some of which never has been presented before in this country, is heard on WCAE tonight from 11:30 to midnight. The program, heard from the Esplanade, Pan-American Union, in Washington, is presented by the United States Marine Band, conducted by Capt. Taylor Branson, and Raphael Diaz, tenor, of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

What the average Japanese thinks about the present political crisis in Japan will be told by Frazier Hunt, International News Service and Universal Service correspondent, in a broadcast from Station JOAK, Tokio, to be heard over an NBC network tomorrow at 6:45 p. m.

Program Pointers

Cass Ward Whitney, well-known baritone, is heard in a group of songs as soloist with the Quality Thoroughfare Ensemble, directed by Hulda Lefridge during the Wood Street Association program on WWSW tonight at 7:45. The program, sponsored by John M. Roberts and Son Company, marks the celebration of the one-hundredth anniversary of the firm. . . . A minutely synchronized broadcast is heard on WJAS at 9:15, when the Mills Brothers, singing from Buffalo, are starred with Victor Young's orchestra, playing from New York. Three hundred miles apart, intricate line switching and song cues enable the units to broadcast as perfectly as if they were in the same studio.

Miss Lefridge

Elmer J. Waltman, end man of the KQV minstrels, returns to the air tonight after an absence of three weeks in the role of "Henry," the janitor, in the Henry and Mr. Cooper skit.

As Rin-Tin-Tin, the canine star of the films, is a real World War veteran, tonight's Rin-Tin-Tin thriller on KDKA at 8:15 is dedicated to Puppy Day. The scene for the dramatization is Eton Rapids, Mich., where the Veterans' Home for Children is located.

"The Spaniard that Blighted My Life" is Frank Crumit's plaintive opening solo on the program with Julia Sanderson on KDKA at 9.

Dr. George J. Wright presents the third of a series of talks on "Prohibition Uncovered" from WJAS tonight at 6:05.

Fan Fare

Alexander Sherwood, former newspaperman and member of the staff at KDKA, has assumed the position of manager of Station KQV. Sherwood started his career as a newsboy in Terre Haute, and was consecutively telegraph messenger and operator, reporter and chemist and engineer in a gas and coke plant. His newspaper life includes work with the Chicago and Detroit bureaus of the Associated Press. He has been affiliated with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company's advertising and sales departments.

Mr. Sherwood

Bill Hay, announcer for Amos 'n' Andy, was born at Dumfries, Scotland, but won't say when. . . . He simply maintains that he "was born very young."

Gus Van spends his Saturday afternoons coaching the baseball team of a Long Island orphanage. . . . Two years ago, when he became the coach, the team won its first championship in 13 seasons.

Graham McNamee is back on that hour with Rudy Vallee and Irene Bordoni . . . Jack and Tony, the KQV "Blues Chaser," are making personal appearances at a Brownsville road theater and distributing their pictures to the youngsters . . . The Boswell Sisters' programs are shifted to a spot a half-hour earlier beginning Monday . . . They'll be heard on Mondays and Thursdays at 10.

ENDS STOMACH GAS PAIN QUICK

"For 6 or 7 years I had been troubled with gas. There wasn't a thing I could eat without suffering afterward. Tried everything but with no success," says Gertrude Rudolph, Milwaukee, Wis. "One day I tried ACIDINE and was relieved immediately. I now take ACIDINE regularly and feel fine."

End gas, sourness, heartburn, dizziness, sleeplessness, headache resulting from acidity. Maker guarantees ACIDINE ends your stomach trouble or money back. All druggists have ACIDINE.

Screen Stars keep youthful Charm

"I'm over 40" says Florence Reed

"With a woman it's how old she looks, not how old she is that counts!" says Florence Reed, famous stage star. "Stage and screen stars know how to stay young—how to keep youthful freshness year after year. And practically every prominent star shares one secret.

"Youthful charm depends on complexion beauty! We consider our complexions priceless. For years I have used Lux Toilet Soap regularly to keep my skin youthful."

In Hollywood actually 686 of the 694 important screen actresses use this fragrant white soap.

It is so white that no other soap can rival it—its safe, gentle care will keep your skin, too, youthfully charming. Only 10¢ a cake!

McKeesport Boy Sees Brother Drown

Frank Meeson, 12, of 1201 Market street, McKeesport, drowned when he fell from a barge into the Youghiogheny River at the foot of Thirteenth street, McKeesport last night, according to the coroner's report. He slipped from the barge while playing with two companions, who attempted to revive him with an oar. Efforts made by his brother, William, 15, and others failed. The body was recovered by police a short time after the drowning occurred.

Crowning of Queen Opens Tech Carnival

With the crowning of Mary McKeon as campus queen at a ball in Thistle Hall, students of Carnegie Institute of Technology tonight will inaugurate their annual spring carnival.

President Thomas S. Baker will review the Reserve Officers' Training Corps parade Saturday morning.

Thousands Attend Goodwill Day Observance

Several thousand persons packed themselves into the seats at the Schenley Park bandstand last night for the anual Goodwill Day celebration sponsored by 40 women's organizations of the city. Mrs. A. B. Bowman, chairman of the local Cause and Cure of War Committee, welcomed the assemblage and turned the meeting over to Mrs. Joseph R. Silberstein, who presided and explained the significance of the occasion.

Edith Canter Lazear, accompanied by the South High Orchestra, sang a solo, there were folk dances by six groups from the International Institute, the little Italian children giving an especially appealing performance to accordeon accompaniment.

A high light of the evening was the group of songs by the Ukrainian Chorus which preceded an address by Howard Y. Williams on "Has Peace a Chance Today?" Recognition of Russia and reduction of tariff would be two important steps towards world peace, Mr. Williams said. After assembly singing of "America," a film, "We Americans," depicting the Americanization of immigrants into useful citizens, was shown.

GAY HUES FAVORED FOR STREET WEAR

—Sketched in Paris—

PARIS, May 19 (I.N.S.)—Black, the traditional color for street clothes, is gradually giving way to bright colors, although black, is gradually giving way to bright colors. Paris streets are dotted with splashes of blue and red and green wherever smartly dressed women appear.

THESE THREE colors, royal blue, cadet red and rich green are seen more than any others. Most often they are worn in complete ensembles. Spring in Paris is cool enough to require not only a wool coat, but a wool dress as well, and Paris women often have them made of the same material.

THE LUCILE ensemble pictured here, worn in the Bois, is a stunning example of this vogue. The coat is of blue rich pure homespun that has a raised [illegible] weave.

THE LONG COAT completely covers the dress that goes with it. It is slightly fitted at the waistline, has good-sized patch pockets and double-tooth lapels. Aside from the double puffs at the sleeves it follows pretty much the classic tailored line. The dress is slightly less tailored and has a skirt which flares a bit from under its yoke. There are inserts of white jersey lace between the shoulders and waistline.

Ugly yellow vanishes TEETH WHITEN 3 Shades in 3 days

If you think yellow, stained, unsightly-looking teeth are natural, start using Kolynos—a half-inch of this amazing dental cream on a dry brush twice daily. In 3 days you'll see your mistake. Your teeth will look 3 shades whiter!

Kolynos—unlike any preparation you've ever used—contains two important ingredients that clean and whiten teeth remarkably. One—the finest cleansing agent known—erases stain and tartar, foams into every tiny fissure and washes away decay-causing debris. While the other ingredient kills the millions of germs that cause most tooth and gum troubles and helps to make teeth absolutely clean.

Thus Kolynos gently cleans teeth right down to the natural white enamel and soon makes them more attractive than ever. It refreshes the mouth and stimulates the gums. Buy a tube of Kolynos today.

Industrialists Here Urge Congress Pass Prosperity Loan

BULLET SIGNALS HOLDUP IN BRENTWOOD BARBECUE

INDUSTRIALISTS URGE JOB LOAN ON CONGRESS

Builders and Sheet Metal Contractors Stress Need Of Public Work Bond Issue

The need of stimulation in the construction, manufacturing and building supplies industries, such as a national public construction program would create, was stressed to Congress by two organizations representing the building industry of the nation today.

Congress was petitioned, in a letter from F. O. Reed, secretary of the Master Builders Association of Allegheny County, to pass the $5,000,000,000 prosperity loan for the construction of public works.

BACK PROSPERITY LOAN

Reed, explaining the interest of the industry he represented in such a building program, said:

"We understand the need and feel that some building program must be started by the federal government to start things going in our own industry. We certainly are behind this loan and hope Congress will pass it."

Putting the full strength of all the affiliated offices of the National Association of Sheet Metal Contractors behind the loan and public works program, W. C. Markle, secretary of the national organization, said:

"We certainly are indorsing the prosperity loan for a program of necessary public improvements.

"Our board of directors is requesting every official and trustee of the National Association of Sheet Metal Contractors to inform their congressman, in many sections of the nation, that our association advocates this program and loan, and petitions Congress to take such action as to put it in motion."

U. S. AID DISCUSSED

A number of other organizations discussed the bond issue in their meetings, and requests that their national organizations petition Congress for unemployment relief and business aid were forwarded to them.

Among these were the Pittsburgh Chapter, American Institute of Architects, the Pittsburgh Motor Club and similar groups. Individual architects called attention to the fact that many professional men faced the same destitute circumstances as their less gifted and less trained fellows who are numbered in the 1,000,000 unemployed in Pennsylvania, and the 190,000 in Allegheny County.

Fireman Hurt During Steel Plant Blaze

Clifford Sands, a pumpman attached to Engine Company No. 25, Penn avenue, near Thirty-fourth street, suffered a probable fracture of the ankle when a suction hose dropped on his foot while he was attaching it to a plug at Thirty-first and Smallman streets during a fire in the Crucible Steel Company plant. Sands was treated at Mercy Hospital. Damage from the fire was estimated at $500.

CARNEGIE TECH'S DIETING FIVE . . SCALES TELL THE STORY

The scales today proved the Carnegie Tech "economy" diet of 20 cents a day a success. The six co-eds who have been living on the experimental menus ending at dinner last night, maintained their normal weight, with fluctuations of less than a pound, it was revealed this morning when they "weighed out" at the girls' gymnasium.

For the past 10 days, Frances Graham, Laila Ikola, Marion Black, Elinor Kutchka, Mabelle Steele and Florence Golomb have eaten three meals a day at a cost of slightly less than 20 cents. All six girls are senior students in the department of household economics at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

GIRLS BENEFITED

Miss Harriet F. Glendon, head of the department, at the start of the experiment said the tests would be successful if the girls, all of whom are normally healthy, maintained their normal weights. She said today that she was convinced the experiment had benefited the girls and hoped it would be of help to many housewives.

Definite results of the study are that sufficient quantities of the necessary foods can be purchased for an average family of five persons at approximately $1 a day and that the meals can be attractive as well as filling.

Miss Golomb entered the experiment as an "understudy" at the start and substituted for Miss Steele Tuesday when she attended a wedding celebration which interrupted her "economy" diet.

PRAISE DIET

The girls had this to say at the finish of their "economy" diet:

Miss Golomb — "Our meals during the experiment have been appetizing, adequate and well balanced. The experiment has given us an insight in real food economy."

Miss Graham — "Our meals during the past 10 days have been easy to prepare, sufficiently varied and quite adequate."

Miss Black—"The success of the 'economy' diet was due to our provision for four quarts of milk, three vegetables and fruit daily."

Miss Ikola—"The meals which we planned, prepared and consumed in the experiment were satisfying and adequate from the standpoint of nutrition."

Miss Kutchka—"Those who wish to live on a low food cost level can profit from our diet experiment."

Miss Steele—"Plain, simple foods have not been a hardship. They were not only adequate and satisfying, but were more easily digested."

FINAL RALLIES SCHEDULED 'IN DRY CRUSADE

Memorial Hall Meetings Will Follow Luncheons; Robins Denounces Foes

Climaxing a two-day campaign seeking pledges for support of the dry laws, leaders of the Allied Forces for Prohibition swung into a series of meetings here today to reach the business man, women supporters and the general public at Memorial Hall demonstrations this afternoon and tonight.

As the campaigners near the completion of their national drive reaching more than 587 cities, Dr. Daniel A. Poling was to address luncheon groups today. Men were to meet in the William Penn Hotel and women in the Hotel Schenley. Dr. Poling will speak with O. W. Stewart tonight at the closing mass meeting.

The afternoon session at Memorial Hall was to be addressed by Dr. Ira Landrith. Other speakers include Col. Raymond Robins and Miss Norma C. Brown, who were heard at last night's mass meeting, and Harold Singer, executive secretary.

Col. Robins last night declared:

"When any man says that a majority of the people of this country are against the American policy of prohibition, but that we are helpless because of the Constitution, he is either ignorant or false. The fact that the Constitution is the people's law and that it provides for orderly and legal change and amendment makes nullification and revolution always wrong in the United States. To select one portion of the Constitution, or the public law, for loyalty and obedience and reject other portions of the Constitution and the law is selective anarchy, whether persons guilty of this crime know it or not."

Miss Brown emphasized the gain to the morale of the dry forces in the publicity given to the Allied Forces throughout the country. She declared newspapers of dry and anti-dry hav sentiment have shown equal fairness in reporting the activities.

Prohibition Debate On Convention Eve

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP.)—Raymond Pitcairn, of Philadelphia, vice chairman of the Republican Citizens' Committee, seeking repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, said today he was arranging a radio debate with Dr. F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America. It would be held, he said, at a mass meeting in Chicago on June 13, the day before the opening of the Republican national convention.

He said other speakers would be former Senator James W. Wadsworth, president of the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment; Mrs. Charles Sabin, head of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform; Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and R. R. McCormick, of Chicago.

READY TO RADIO-DEBATE DRY LAWS

MRS. WILLIAM MACLAY HALL . . TAKING THE ANTI-DRY SIDE

Mrs. Hall, the society and club leader, taking the anti-dry side of the debate on the eighteenth amendment to be broadcast at 10 o'clock tomorrow night by the Sun-Telegraph's station, WCAE. This is a drawing of Mrs. Hall done by William R. Shulgold.

THE REV. DR. J. E. WAGNER

Dr. Wagner, pastor of the Mt. Lebanon Methodist Church, the dry side. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

INTEREST KEEN IN DRY DEBATE

Keen interest is being shown in the prohibition debate over WCAE tomorrow night between the Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, pastor of the Mt. Lebanon Methodist Episcopay Church, representing the drys, and Mrs. William Maclay Hall, civic worker, the anti-dry.

Each will debate for seven minutes the question: "Resolved, That the Eighteenth Amendment Be Repealed," the program going on the air at 10 o'clock. Rebuttal arguments will be heard beginning Saturday at 8:15 p. m.

Dr. Wagner, a pastor for over 30 years, says he is bitterly opposed to liquor in any farm principally because he has never seen any good arise from its use. He declared:

"In all my experience with people who drink as well as with people who don't, I have never seen one example of good from the use of alcoholic beverage.

"I've buried men in delerium tremens—I've seen the results of drunkenness and I've never seen alcohol do one bit of good, but I have seen it do all sorts of harm."

Dr. Wagner, the picture of health and vigor, says he never has had to turn to a stimulant to give him "pep." He says he has nothing but "hate" for liquor and pity for people who use it. He said:

"Liquor is a poison—just as deadly as any drug."

Federal Men Talk On Dope Traffic

The dope traffic and how it concerns Pittsburgh was to be discussed by Raymond D. Evans, Assistant United States Attorney, and William T. Duffy, chief of the local government bureau of narcotics, at the luncheon of the Wilkinsburg Kiwanis Club in the Penn-Lincoln Hotel today.

Plans to cut the $35 license fee assessed hucksters were being considered today by the City Law Department. A cut was asked yesterday by a delegation of hucksters. The amount of the proposed reduction has not been indicated.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 19.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

Well of all the fool things to hit the country in the face with is this guy's story. He was supposed to be a reputable business man. That should have been a tip-off to us right there, for being no business now, there can't possibly be any business man. Then he was heartily indorsed by a preacher and an ex-admiral. Well, we know that a preacher will fall for anything. And a retired admiral is not exactly a William Pinkerton. Now you can't blame poor Lindbergh, for in his position he was grabbing at every straw, but we rest of us were just carrying our America's reputation for being ——. Well, add your own last word. Yours,

WILL.

FOUR MEN ROB 40; DANCERS VICTIMS

18 Women Among Those Forced to Give Up Cash; Steal Patrons Car, Flee

Bandits invaded the Southern Star Barbecue, on Brownsville road, between Brentwood and Curry, early today and held 40 persons, 18 of them women, at bay with revolvers as they leisurely rifled the cash register and pockets of the men.

Fifteen couples were dancing to the music of an orchestra of five men when four bandits, posing as customers, entered. Each ordered a cup of coffee. One of them ordered a sandwich.

MENACED BY GUN

When William Travis, the proprietor, went to the kitchen he found the "customer" at his heels. The man, pointing a revolver, marched him to the dance floor.

The leader fired a shot in the ceiling and shouted:

"This place is being stuck up. Everybody reach for the moon!"

The other three bandits also drew revolvers, ordered all of the men, including Travis and the musicians, to face one wall and the women patrons and two waitresses, Catherine Gersth and Margaret Holzhauser, another.

WOMAN THREATENED

While the bandits were searching the clothing of the men, one of the women yelled at the leader:

"I'm not afraid."

To which he replied:

"Pipe down, lady, pipe down—or else."

Two later arrivals were herded into the resort by the lookout.

During the holdup, two of the bandits walked outside to search the automobiles. Finding a couple seated in one, the gunmen marched them into the building.

Travis told police:

"They rifled my register of $85, but didn't search my pockets in which I carried some cash. They searched every man in the place and took all the cash each had.

AUTO KEYS TAKEN

"When they were through with their search, the bandits ordered the men to throw their automobile keys to the center of the floor. The bandits scooped them up and left, saying that the keys would be found under an automobile parked outside."

The bandits escaped in the auto of W. W. Sunshine, of 815 Brownsville road, who drove up just as they were leaving. They also took Sunshine's money.

Miss Gersth was the only woman searched by the bandits. They robbed her of $1, her tip money.

Barbecue Bombing Probed by County

County detectives today are investigating the bombing of a barbecue conducted by Nicholas Lacovitch, in Spring Run road, Crescent Township, yesterday. Damage to the place was estimated at $1,000.

KERR TO SEEK BIDS ON TAGS

Plans were being worked out today for setting up the machinery to collect from parking violators who receive tags. The plans were agreed upon yesterday afternoon at a conference of city officials with Controller James P. Kerr, to whose office reports of collections must be made, in accordance with the new ordinance.

Kerr said he would advertise for bids for 500,000 tags, together with necessary records, and expects the new plan to be in working order by June 15. For the present the old tags will be used.

The new tags will be numbered serially and the supply issued monthly to the police department and receipts taken. Mutilated tags must be returned. The new system will provide a double check on all tags issued. Forms of records and samples of tags were inspected at the meeting and their adoption agreed upon.

Handcuffed Driver In Endurance Test

Seeking to break the safety and endurance automobile driving record, Chester (Happy) Waddell was to enter his second complete day this afternoon. Waddell, an adjutant in jobless army of the Rev. James R. Cox, is staging the endurance drive for the benefit of Father Cox's relief fund.

Waddell was handcuffed to the steering wheel by Traffic Inspector Jacob Dorsey yesterday, and Father Cox acted as starter. Waddell hopes to drive 241 hours.

DO YOU INHALE?

. . . wonder why cigarette advertising generally avoids this question?

ONE of the mysteries in cigarette advertising has been the apparent fear of the word "inhale." It seems rather foolish—for everybody inhales—whether they realize it or not . . . every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure that you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question . . . because when you smoke Luckies your delicate membranes get the protection no other cigarette affords. All other methods have been made old-fashioned by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? Of course you do! So truly this message is for you.

CHECK ON POOR FUNDS URGED BY WOODSIDE

Believes His Office Should Handle Finances; Cain Loath to Assume Control

Plans being considered for the County Controller to handle financial affairs of the Poor Directors may not be worked out without dissension, it was indicated at the Commissioners' meeting yesterday.

Controller Robert G. Woodside voiced the belief that the Poor Board funds should be handled through his office, as are other county finances. He declared:

"The only way that I will have anything to do with the Poor Board finances is to set up a system in my office whereby all money will be paid on warrants and payrolls, just the same as other county finances are handled."

County Treasurer Robert S. Cain said:

"Retiring Treasurer John Francies told me, 'Watch that they don't make you treasurer of the Poor Board. You will have to sign the checks.'

"I might be willing to do what you gentlemen suggest, but remember what came up over in the other building (the City-County Building). The question was, what man signed the checks. That would be me in this case."

Attorney Harry McIntosh, counsel for the Poor Directors, remarked:

"Mr. Francies, after consulting his counsel, refused to handle the Poor Board money. It was his opinion that the County Treasurer cannot legally be the Poor Board treasurer. The Poor Directors are not county officials."

County Commissioner William D. Mansfield interjected:

"This is simply a matter of providing for control of the funds. There may be no law for it, but there is no law against it."

Maj. Clyde Miller, one of the Poor Directors, expressed himself in favor of the Controller's plan. He said he would discuss it with his colleagues.

Federal Building Paint Bids Rejected

The Washington office of the supervising architect, United States Treasury Department, has rejected all of 22 bids submitted April 5 for interior painting of the Federal Building here. Rejection of the bids was said to have been due to a misunderstanding of government regulations.

New bids to be opened June 8 have been asked by the custodian of the building.

Man Held in Theft Of $10,000 Violin

Charles R. Fisher, 30, of Coraopolis Heights, arrested by detectives on a warrant from Erie charging him with theft of a $10,000 Stradivarius violin, was remanded to jail in Central Police Court today to await arrival of Erie authorities. Detectives said they had no details of the alleged theft.

ARREST FACED BY GEARY

Warrants were to be served today on Alderman Thomas M. Geary and Constable Mark O'Malley, of the Second Ward, on charges preferred by William Kessler, former deputy constable for Alderman Luke Sullivan, before Justice of the Peace Theresa Haser, of Keown Station.

Geary was charged with pointing firearms and O'Malley with assault and battery. Geary was alleged to have threatened Kessler with a revolver and O'Malley to have struck him when Constable Luke Hannan, of Sullivan's office was arrested by constables from Geary's office Saturday night.

Hannan was held for court in $500 bail by Geary yesterday on an assault and battery charge. He was accused of attacking Benjamin Kopp, an inspector of election in the Sixth Ward, last election day.

SCHOOL OPENS ON JUNE 7

Duquesne University will formally open its recently purchased downtown school in the Fitzsimons Building, June 7. The seven-story building on Fourth avenue, which will house the law school, school of business administration, commercial education department of the school of education and the school of theater arts and dramatic literature, will be open to the public all day.

Members of the committee on arrangements are John E. Laughlin, vice dean of the law school; Dr. Hugh C. Muldoon, dean of the school of pharmacy, and Dr. Albert B. Wright, head of the school of business administration.

3 SITES ADDED FOR GARDENING

Three additional sites for the thrift gardens being sponsored by the Allegheny County Emergency Association, were announced today by Attorney Andrew G. Smith, chairman of the operating committee.

They are in the Nineteenth Ward, near Saw Mill Run boulevard, where Negro gardeners will work land donated by St. Joseph's Hospital, in Beadling; Upper St. Clair Township, and at Universal, Penn Township.

Attorney Smith said he expected 10,000 persons, all of whom have applications on file, to be working the gardens next week. A fine supply of plants, he said, has been donated by Leo Lehman, of the May-Stern Company.

The plots are now being plowed by tractors furnished by the emergency association.

The garden on the McKay tract, Lincoln avenue, one of the largest plots in the system, will be officially opened tonight.

Plots for thrift gardens were assigned to approximately 31 Negro families in the Beltzhoover district at Cadet street and Pioneer avenue, Brookline, last night. The ground was provided by St. Joseph's Hospital, and is managed by Mrs. Sophia Friedman of 934 Taft avenue. It is the only garden plot in the district to be assigned entirely to Negroes.

Move to Collect $1,174,915 for County

The legal department of Allegheny County today was taking steps to collect $1,174,915 owed the county by the various political sub-divisions for construction and maintenance of roads and bridges. The amount due was called to the attention of the County Commissioners yesterday by F. J. Chester, Director of Highways. The largest item in the account is due from the City of Pittsburgh for property damage on the Sixteenth Street Bridge, and amounts to $365,264.50.

SUES TO EJECT PARK LESSEES

Another attempt was begun today to eject alleged concessionaires from the Schenley Oval in Schenley Park.

A taxpayer's suit was filed in Common Pleas Court to enjoin the City of Pittsburgh from leasing for commercial purposes any part of the oval or the attached stables. The suit also names Public Works Director Edward G. Lang, Dave McDonald, superintendent of city stables, and these persons, described as concessionaires: W. J. Berry, W. J. Moore and Harry Bell.

The suit was filed by Attorneys Manuel Kraus and Louis Rosenberg for taxpayer W. M. McNeilly, Oakland blacksmith. McNeilly contends that in the grant for the park Mary E. Schenley specified the park should be a free resort.

The attorneys said previous requests to Council to ban the concessionaires have failed.

Cafeteria Planned In New Postoffice

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(INS.)—President Hoover has requested Congress to give specific authority for installation of cafeterias in new federal buildings by 13 cities, including Pittsburgh.

Maj. Robert A. Greenfield, of Washington, construction engineer here supervising erection of the new $8,000,000 postoffice and federal building, Seventh avenue and Grant street, said it was planned to install a cafeteria but definite plans had not been made.

Ask Poles Removed In Shetland Avenue

Protests were under consideration by Council today against the widening of Shetland avenue between Larimer and Paulson from 22 to 25 feet. The protestants also objected to so many poles in the thoroughfare, but said they would be satisfied to have the street widened if the poles are removed. The Department of Public Works was requested to make a report.

PARK ENTRANCE DEAL DROPPED

After months of negotiations the County Commissioners have rescinded their decision to buy the 59-acre property of John F. Mueller bordering on South Park for $36,000. The step was taken yesterday after Director of Parks Paul B. Riis told the Commissioners the land was needed for a park entrance. Chairman Charles C. McGovern asked Riis:

"When are you going to get through buying park entrances? That's all you have been doing for four years, buying park entrances. Why wasn't this property acquired by condemnation?"

Riis answered:

"The condemnation was done before I came here."

Commissioner C. M. Barr asked about North Park entrances, declaring there was not a "decent one" there.

Riis said providing entrances for parks, particularly North Park, is a matter of "road development and park development." He was directed to make a report on the entrances in general.

FRANCE IN NEW DEBT STAND

By ARNO DOSCH-FLEUROT
International News Service.

PARIS, May 19.—A sharp change in the traditional French attitude toward political debts, enabling cancellation of reparations "provided the French taxpayers are spared new burdens," may be advocated by Edouard Herriot, slated to become Premier, according to reliable indications today.

Herriot, leader of the Radical Socialists, has been called into consultation by President Albert Lebrun for the first of a series of conferences preceding his formation of a cabinet.

In an article appearing in the Ere Nouvelle, coinciding significantly with his visit to the Elysee Palace, Herriot recommended an attitude of "suppleness" on the part of France at the forthcoming Lausanne conference.

He cleverly sidestepped the inter-relationship of war debts and reparations, but hinted strongly that he would favor a more conciliatory stand toward Germany on condition that such an attitude will not strain the pocketbooks of France's taxpayers.

Fireman Falls Dead In Hill Top Home

Elmer Dolloff, 60, fireman at No. 1 Engine Company, fell dead in his home at 1406 Virginia avenue, Mt. Washington, today, a victim of apoplexy, according to the morgue report.

Dolloff, a fireman 20 years, had planned to retire in a few months. Recently he bought a farm on which he expected to spend his remaining days.

Mt. Lebanon Doctor To Visit Germany

Dr. Frank J. Cryns, optometrist, of 720 Roselawn avenue, Mt. Lebanon, will sail Friday on the steamer Breman for Germany, where he plans to spend several weeks. He will visit the University of Bonn, of which he is a graduate.

Penn Pupils Picnic At Kennywood Park

The annual outing of Penn Township Schools is being held today at Kennywood Park under the supervision of C. G. Hershey and J. E. Hetrick, of the school board. Wilkinsburg school children will attend their annual picnic at the park tomorrow.

SPORT COMMENT

By James J. Long

Yank Staff Keeps It Up. Slump in Coast League.
Outdoor Boxing's Start. Japs Busy on Olympics.
Cards Mourn Warneke. Petrolle in Lucky Spot.

M'CARTHY'S PENNANT STOCK ON RISE

WHEN THE AMERICAN League race began, one more pitcher appeared to be all the Yanks needed to make them possible pennant winners. Not only have Ivy Andrews and Johnny Allen made good, but George Pipgras has risen to his best form in two years and now comes Henry Johnson to be added to the list with a victory and 12 strikeouts in his first start after an appendicitis operation.

Henry Johnson

Somebody said the Yanks couldn't win without Babe Ruth's slugging. Until he poled his seventh of the year yesterday, Ruth hadn't made a home run since April 30 and his batting average for the season was only .269. Yet the Yanks won nine games in a row up to today and captured 15 of their last 18 contests. That shows how well the pitching staff has been clicking. Not once in the last nine games was McCarthy forced to use a relief pitcher. In those nine games opposing clubs were held to eight runs and 47 hits, an average of less than one run and six hits to a game, and they batted only .168. Washington's loss of four straight to the Browns after winning 11 out of 12 and 16 out of 19 shows that there's never any telling what may happen, but if the Yanks continue to get a fair approach to that kind of pitching, on top of their powerful attack, there won't be much doubt about the outcome of the race.

WITH BUCK McTIERNAN now under the management of Jack Barry, starting a comeback campaign against Jack Wilson, Promoter John L. Hernon is offering an attractive card of local color for the opening of the outdoor boxing season in the Pittsburgh district at Hickey Park Bowl in Millvale tonight.

Promoter Hernon's plan to develop and feature home boxers as far as possible strikes a popular chord. Moreover he has installed a scale of prices to suit the times. In a general sense he is starting off on the right foot and in a way that will meet with the approval of the fans, continuing the policy of fair-dealing and careful matchmaking that has made him for years one of the most popular and successful fistic showmen in this part of the country.

SOME TIME AGO Joe McCarthy combed the American League in an effort to make a trade. He wanted a pitcher and was willing to put Tony Lazzeri on the block. But nobody would swap with him.

Now it's the other way around. Rival clubs are proposing trades to the Yanks. The White Sox would give up Vic Frasier and the Indians would like to make a new offer for Lazzeri. But McCarthy is no longer in the mood. He has found the pitchers he needed and Lazzeri's great comeback has made the club.

THE YANKEE PILOT figures that his outfit is set, and his plans are so well shaped for the remainder of the pennant fight that he has practically decided on how the crew will be made up after the 23-player limit goes into force on June 15. He will carry 10 pitchers, dropping Brown or Murphy. Dickey and Jorgens will do the catching, with Coach Perkins available in an emergency. Six infielders will be retained, with Sewell or Farrell going away, and it is intended to keep five outfielders, making room for Hoag by putting Cooke on the retired list for the year.

Lonnie Warneke

THE SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENT of Lonnie Warneke into one of the year's most successful pitchers for the Cubs has not caused any wild cheering around Cardinal headquarters. Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey are not likely to find any joy in the reflection that they had this young pitcher and let him get away.

Warneke was farmed out to Houston, then to another Card plant, and finally was allowed to leave the chain stores to be picked up by the Cubs. Now, after a course of seasoning at Los Angeles and Reading, he looks like one of the most valuable new hurlers of the season.

BASEBALL MEN ARE awaiting further developments in the Pacific Coast League to get a line on how minor leagues in general are likely to fare this year. The outlook isn't so good on the Coast. At that the Oakland club's proposal to cut salaries 25 per cent was surprising in that the distress cry did not come from the outfit that had been expected to send it out.

For the Seattle club had been reported as in far worse condition than Oakland. Its players were given only 50 per cent of their salary checks at the end of the first month.

DISCUSSING THE SLUMP in the Coast League, James Morley, owner of the Los Angeles club more than 10 years ago, says coast baseball is going back and attributes it to a lack of rivalry between players and between club owners. "Why, for two years when I owned the Angels, Cal Ewing, of the Oakland club, and I wouldn't speak to each other," he said. "That applied to any time or any place. We meant it, too. And you don't have any protracted player feuds as in the old days. These drawbacks have made the public apathetic. We actually played to more people when Los Angeles was a city of 400,000 persons than the L. A. club does now when the population is 1,500,000."

JAPAN IS REPORTED preparing for the Olympic Games with the same thoroughness it prepares for war. Members of the organizing committee say that Japanese representatives are everywhere around headquarters and the prospective scene of the games, asking questions and jotting down notes.

No matter where an official of another country calls, he finds that the Japs have been there before him. They're giving minute attention even to the place where the equestrian events will be held. "There's a new one every day, asking all about horses," Snowy Baker reports. "They've gone over every inch of the field. One of them even went tapping around the concrete in the stables. Their horses have just arrived, by the way. Japan's preparations are most thorough."

ACCORDING TO THE contact men escorting parties through the Olympic Village, the Japanese representatives also have manifested a keen interest in the little bungalows which will house the Olympic athletes during the meet.

Billy Petrolle

There's a noval idea behind this. They want to buy the home of every Jap athlete who wins a championship title in the Games. They will ship these bungalows back home and make national monuments of them.

IF THERE IS such a thing as a lucky spot for a fighter, that's another factor that Billy Petrolle will have in his favor when he meets Battling Battalino for the second time tomorrow night in a 10-round bout at Chicago. For it was in that city that Petrolle started his sensational comeback almost two years ago. Supposed to be all washed up, Billy got a match with Tony Canzoneri there on September 11, 1930. Canzoneri was a heavy favorite, but Petrolle pulled a surprise by scoring a decisive victory. That was the starting point of the great climb that lifted Petrolle from threatened oblivion to a position among the outstanding fighters of the world, even thought he does not hold a title. The Fargo Express has not fought in Chicago since.

STAR CAPTURES LOW GROSS, NET HONORS

By TOM BIRKS

Shooting a brilliant round of golf, George McClure, Chartiers Heights Country Club star, won both low net and low gross prizes in the first Pennsylvania State Golf Association one-day tourney played over the South Hills Country Club layout yesterday. McClure bagged a 35 on the outward trek, one under par, then came home in 37, two over par, to win over Jack Benson and Jack Bernet of the home club. McClure's gross score was 72, and his net score 67.

McClure teamed with W. T. Gundelfinger, also of Chartiers Heights, won the four-ball best ball match play against par event under seven-eighths handicap, finishing 8 up.

BEYER GETS 77

Lloyd Beyer, Pennsylvania state amateur champion, came from State College with Fred Brand, Jr., to participate in the event. Beyer was erratic, but his putting was sensational, and he scored a gross 77. Brand was hitting the ball better than ever before, but he had too many three-putt greens, and took a 79. The scores:

G. McClure, Chartiers Heights	72	5	67
Jack Benson, South Hills	75	7	68

MISS ABERNATHY WINS

Betty Abernathy, diminutive Oakmont Country Club star, copped the low gross prize in the first Western Pennsylvania Women's Golf Association's tourney over the Allegheny course yesterday. Miss Abernathy shot a 45-47—92. Mrs. M. K. Garber and Miss Anjeannette Hunter, with 95s, tied for second.

Mrs. Garber won the low net prize with an 84. Mrs. J. Bernd Rose, the home club star, took an 8 on the tricky No. 2 par 5 hole, and had a 95. The driving wind did not help the scoring.

Miss Bertha Brooks, also of Allegheny, shot a 101 to lead the second division players home. Her handicap gave her a net 83. She led the field in easy fashion.

The Valley Heights Country Club women held their first tourney of the season yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. Colledge and Mrs. Linderman tied for honors.

St. Clair Country Club women will hold a tournament today.

One-day tourneys will be sponsored by the P. G. A. July 20 at Stanton Heights, August 10 at Aleoma, August 24 at Shannopin, September 14 at Wildwood, September 28 at Westmoreland, October 5 at Edgewood and October 19 at Highland, according to an announcement by George Flinn, secretary of the association.

The first half of the annual Grogan Cup match between Highland and Shannopin players will be staged at Highland next Wednesday.

TRADE LIKELY TO BE CLOSED TOMORROW

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

A big deal between the Pittsburgh and Brooklyn baseball clubs, of the National League, whereby holdout Pitcher Heinie Meine is slated to be swapped to the Dodgers in return for one or more unnamed Brooklyn players, was all but completed at the office of the Pirates this afternoon.

William E. Benswanger, president, and George Gibson, manager, of the Pittsburgh club, and Max Carey, manager of Brooklyn, were in session for almost two hours on the trade question. Benswanger and Gibson made a flat proposition to Carey. The reaction of Carey to the proposal was said to be satisfactory, but Scoops, it is said, asked for a little more time in which to consider the various angles of the proposition. Also it is altogether likely Carey may wish to confer with Frank York, president of the Dodgers, before Brooklyn gives the proposal a final O. K.

PLAYERS UNKNOWN

None of the officials in attendance at the trade pow wow would disclose the names of the Brooklyn player or players sought by the Pittsburgh club. That Meine is the Pittsburgh athlete involved was taken as a matter of course, as Carey is eager to land Heinie and the home team is just as anxious to dispose of him.

A definite answer from Carey is expected tomorrow. The Brooklyn club is operated by the Ebbets-McKeever factions which are not friendly. Carey, therefore, must exercise good diplomacy, and he probably would wish to consult the owners before making a final decision.

The Pittsburgh club wanted Southpaw Bill Clark, who defeated the Pirates on four hits yesterday, in return for Meine, but Carey is believed to have thrown cold water on this proposition. He is said to have countered with an offer to give Pitcher Joe Shaute, Catcher Clyde Sukeforth and Secondbaseman Fresco Thompson, but the Pirates are thought to have asked for Shortstop Gordon Slade.

PICNICH MENTIONED

Catcher Val Picinich's name also has been brought into the negotiations. In any event, the Pirates doubtless would demand a catcher in a trade if they could not land Clark or another first-string pitcher.

Danny Taylor, West Newton boy in centerfield for the Dodgers, saved the game for Clark in the eighth inning yesterday when he raced to deep left-center to capture a liner from P. Waner's bat. The drive probably would have scored three Pirates had it got away as the bases were filled with two out. Taylor's circus catch retired the side and the Dodgers carried on to a 4 to 2 success.

SUPPORT IS RAGGED

Bill Swift pitched cleverly for the Pirates, in fact Bill was in a shutout stride, but loose work in leftfield made the journey tough for the Kansas City graduate. Barbee lost O'Doul's fly in the sun in the fourth, the little misfortune opening the way for three runs. Barbee and L. Waner were mixed in the sixth on another drive from O'Doul's bat and a triple and another run resulted.

Clark pitched six hitless rounds against the Pirates. The Buccos scored a run in the seventh and another in the eighth, but Taylor's feat stopped the home players.

Defeating Langley yesterday, 10 to 2, in a postponed Section 1 City League contest, Allegheny High School's diamond team moved a step nearer to the section title. Napier, Allegheny pitcher, slammed a home run in the sixth with two men on base.

Kersting, Carrick High pitcher, had a no-run, no-hit game in his pocket against Vocational in an inter-sectional contest until Schmitt, Vocational left fielder, got a lucky single when the ball hit a stone in the infield and took a bad hop. Carrick won, 16-0.

Westinghouse stepped into W. P. I. A. L. territory and defeated Ambridge, 4 to 1. Rankin downed the Duke Preps, 10 to 4.

The Monongahela High track team defeated Donora, by a single point in a dual meet, 57 to 56, and McKees Rocks captured the independent school meet at Homestead, leading Wilkinsburg by five points. McKees Rocks scored 37 points, Wilkinsburg 32, Homestead 21, Braddock 16, Bellevue 3, Clairton 2 and Dormont 1.

The Arnold School tennis team defeated Shady Side, 3 to 2, on the Shady Side courts, and Peabody's golf team downed the Academy linksmen, 11 to 7.

Carrick has signed Walter Loeffler, pro at South Hills, to coach the Carrick golf team for the remainder of the season.

National League Rescinds Ban On Talking

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—The National Baseball League today announced it has rescinded its much discussed and criticized rule prohibiting ball players on the field from speaking to anyone in the stands.

The rule was adopted this year after considerable discussion and a fine of $5 set as the penalty for its infraction. Gabby Street, manager of the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals, was the only manager or player to be reported and fined.

"The rule proved to be unpopular with public and press," President John Heydler said, "as well as with those engaged in the playing of the game. It is hereby rescinded."

TENNIS LINEUP KEPT INTACT

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—The same American Davis Cup team which triumphed over Canada and Mexico without the loss of a match today was named to oppose Australia in the North American zone final at Philadelphia, May 27, 28 and 29.

The team consists of Ellsworth Vines, the National champion; Wilmer Allison, John Van Ryn and Frank Shields.

BAER VS. LEVINSKY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(AP)—Max Baer, California heavyweight, will meet King Levinsky, of Chicago, in a 20-round fight in Reno, July 4, Arch Hoffman, Baer's co-manager, announced today. Hoffman said he had completed negotiations with Leonard Sachs, manager of Jack Dempsey, who is engaged with Dempsey in promoting the fight. Last July 4 Baer lost a decision to Pauline Uzcudun in Reno.

CARDS SIGN SHERDEL

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—Bill Sherdel, veteran southpaw released by the Boston Braves, has signed with the St. Louis Cardinals, Sherdel started his career with the local club.

DATE, SITE SET FOR AMATEUR

NEW YORK, May 19.—(INS.)—The thirty-sixth annual amateur golf championship tournament of the United States Golf Association will be played on the course of the Baltimore Country Club, September 12 to 17, it was announced today.

Sectional elimination rounds of 36 holes will be held August 16 in the 18 districts of the association, entries for which close July 24.

In the New York district the elimination rounds of 36 holes will be held August 16 in the 18 districts of the association, entries for which close July 24.

In the New York district the elimination round will be played at the Cherry Valley Club, Garden City; Boston, Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton, Mass.; Philadelphia, Pine Valley Golf Club, Clementon, N. J.; Washington, Chevy Chase Club, Chevy Chase, Md.; Pittsburgh, Oakmont Country Club, Oakmont, Pa.; Chicago, Bryn Maur Country Club, Morton Grove, Ill.; Cleveland, Mayfield Country Club, South Euclid, O.; Cincinnati, the Camargo Club.

1,010 ENTERED IN OPEN

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—The United States Golf Association today announced that 1,010 entries had been received for the 1932 Open golf championships, which will be played at Fresh Meadow, Flushing, L. I., June 23, 24 and 25.

The entry list is 131 less than last year, when 1,141 players competed in the qualifying tests.

BILL LARUE DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—(AP)—William J. Heureux, known to fight fans as Bill Larue, former national amateur heavyweight boxing champion, died here yesterday. He had been ill three years with respiratory paralysis. He turned professional after winning the national amateur title and was credited officially with defeating Willie Meehan and Jim Flynn, and unofficially with beating Jack Dempsey during the latter's climb toward fistic heights.

LOCAL AUTO RACER HURT

INDIANAPOLIS, May 19.—(AP.)—Roy W. Painter, of Pittsburgh, escaped injury when his race car crashed into the wall on the north turn of the speedway late yesterday as he was practicing for the 500-mile automobile race here May 30.

Although the car was slightly damaged, Painter announced he believed repairs could be completed in time for qualification trials Saturday.

Waynesburg Track Team Tops Juniata

WAYNESBURG, Pa., May 19.—The Waynesburg College track team provided another sensation here yesterday by defeating Juniata College 69¾ to 56¼ in dual meet, the triumph being the third scored within the past five days by the Yellow Jackets.

It was the fourth consecutive victory of the season for the Greene County collegians, Juniata being added to a list of victims which already included West Virginia Wesleyan, Grove City and Washington and Jefferson.

Sooner Shelton, South Brownsville freshman, again led individual scoring with three firsts and a tie for a fourth for a total of 18 points. He also established a new Waynesburg record in the broad jump by leaping 21 feet 7 inches.

Burgoo King Entry In American Derby

CHICAGO, May 19.—(AP.)—Burgoo King, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, will go after the rich $50,000 American Derby at Washington Park June 18.

The entry of E. R. Bradley's 3-year-old was received today.

WILSON FACES M'TIERNAN IN OPENER

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS

Buck McTiernan vs. Jack Wilson, 10 rounds, and Matty Oldach vs. Marty Gornick, Frank Novak vs. Kid Gelbert and Johnny Catalino vs. Johnny Warner, 6 rounds each, Hickey Park, Millvale. Amateur bouts, Howard A. C., Beaver Falls, Pa.

Jimmy Britt vs. Leo Duncan, 10 rounds, Phillipsburg, N. J.

Kitty Tut vs. Mickey O'Neil, 10 rounds, and Wilbur Chevalier vs. Jackie Stewart, 8 rounds, Green Bay, Wis.

Kid Leonard vs. Millie Millett, 10 rounds, Davenport, Ia.

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor.

The outdoor boxing season will get under way in the Pittsburgh district tonight, when Buck McTiernan, of Swissvale, and Jack Wilson, of Oakland, middleweight rivals, meet in the 10-round main bout at Hickey Park, Millvale.

Jack Wilson

The battle is more or less of a "natural," one that was talked about last year. Wilson has been to New York and back since then, while McTiernan indulged in a long layoff and recently came back to defeat Joe Trippe in Erie. Buck now is under the new management of Jack Barry, of Erie, former local welterweight boxer. The fans will watch his work with critical eyes as a result of the slump he suffered last year prior to resting up.

Both McTiernan and Wilson are good hitters, and a knockout may result.

Matty (Popeye) Oldach, of Erie, and Marty Gornick, of Whitaker, box the six-round semi-final, and Frank Novak, North Side heavyweight, meets Kid Gelbert, of West Virginia, and Johnny Cataline, of Oakland, engages Johnny Warner, of Clairton, in the preliminaries. The show gets under way at 9 o'clock daylight saving time.

Between Rounds

The card now is complete for the Champion Tony Canzoneri-Hatting Gizzy non-title show, which will serve to usher in the season at the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock, next Monday night, with the opening of the first two bouts. Panther Brown, of Salem, and George Bordell, of New Kensington, top the opener, and Al Schuln, of New York, and Patsy Hennigan, of Clairton, are in the second bout, with Jack Kearns, of Charleston, W. Va., meeting Charley Masters, of New York, in the eight-round semi-final, and Jack Kilbourne, of Chicago, boxing Harry Harris, of Bellaire, O., in a special six-round bout to go on after the windup. On the whole, it shapes up as the best card presented here in years.

Jack Zivic is back in Pittsburgh from New York for a visit, and may decide he make it a prolonged one.

Mickey Davis and Tommy Bland will box the main bout of a show in Johnstown, May 31. Walter Straggle and Kayro Angeloff are in the semi-final.

DEALERS CONTINUE TO OFFER THE GREATEST VALUES

The Tire That Taught THRIFT to Millions

GUM-DIPPED CORDS
The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, one-way unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA GUM-DIPPED CORD PLIES UNDER THE TREAD
This is a patented construction, and the two extra Gum-Dipped cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 26% greater protection against punctures and blowouts. It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD
Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

CUBS, YANKS FARE BEST IN HOME STANDS

RUTH'S HOMER BEATS TRIBE; CARDS LOSE

Associated Press

Returns from the year's first intersectional strife were at hand today and the only outstanding beneficiaries of the movement appeared to be the Chicago Cubs in the National League and the New York Yankees in the American.

By sweeping all nine engagements with the invaders from the west, the Yankees have passed Washington and are in first place. The Cubs, winning eight of 10 from the National League's eastern delegates, likewise entrenched themselves at the top.

Cincinnati's Reds, with nine wins and five losses at home and the Philadelphia Athletics with seven victories against four defeats, were the only other teams to show a substantial profit.

YANKS BREAK EVEN

Washington failed to fatten its standing at the expense of the visiting western clubs. Losing their last four straight to St. Louis, the Senators wound up with an even break in 10 games.

The Yankees terminated their remarkable streak by nosing out Cleveland, 3 to 2, on the strength of Babe Ruth's smash into the bleachers in the tenth inning.

Washington bowed to the Browns, 11 to 7.

Lefty Grove's pitching and home runs by Foxx, Dykes and Simmons featured the Athletics' parting lick at Detroit. The score was 8 to 2.

Smead Jolley's hitting helped the Boston Red Sox break a six-game losing streak at Chicago's expense, 13 to 10.

Bill Clark, Brooklyn southpaw, checked in with the day's best performance in the National League when he beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4 to 2.

GIANTS BEAT REDS

A big seventh inning in which they scored seven runs gave the New York Giants a 9 to 3 victory over Cincinnati.

Charley Grimm continued his batting rampage as the Cubs took their final from the Phillies, 6 to 4.

Led by Wally Berger, who walloped a double and three singles, the Boston Braves defeated St. Louis, 5 to 3. The veteran Tom Zachary limited the champions to five hits.

KIRCHMEYER MAT 'HIT'

A new local wrestling favorite flashed upon the scene as the indoor season was brought to a close at Motor Square Garden last night with only a scattered crowd in the seats.

The newcomer, who took the fans by storm with his showmanship, size, strength and aggressiveness is Roland Kirchmeyer, former Oklahoma Aggies' star. Weighing 225 pounds and standing 6 feet 7 inches, the red-headed Kirchmeyer tossed 212-pound Paul Harper, of Texas, about the ring as if he were a sack of wheat and finally spread himself over his opponent in grapevine fashion for the fall after 11 minutes 54 seconds of as fine wrestling as has been shown here all season. He was cheered all of the way to the dressing room as he left the ring the victor, and ought to be a good drawing card when he next appears here.

Gino Garibaldi, Italian, who threw Frank Speers in the Garden two weeks ago, repeated against John Maxos, the Greek, after 30 minutes 11 seconds of the main bout. He won with a half-nelson and crotch hold, ending a rough and hard battle.

Howard Cantonwine, of Utah, threw Wee Willie Davis, of Virginia, after 21 minutes 18 second, with a head scissors.

Hans Steinke, of Germany, toyed with Jack McCarthy, of Butte, Mont., subbing for Rudy Dusek, who is injured, and finally threw his man with a headlock in 12:54.

Steve Znoski, of Boston, and Charley Fox, of Cleveland, went 30 minutes to a draw in the opener.

A. A. Veteran Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Win

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—(AP)—Bryan (Slim) Harris, veteran St. Paul right-hander, turned back Kansas City without a hit or run and issued only three walks as the Saints defeated the Blues, 9 to 0, in an American Association game yesterday.

Backed up by sparkling fielding, he faced only 28 men. Two of his passes were followed up by double plays. Pick, who walked in the second, was the only Blue left on base.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—I wish President Hoover would lend us one of his commissions to straighten this weather business out. So far this season the U. S. has had enough cold and rain to equip Siberia for a couple of winters.

The way postponements are piling up, we'll be playing triplehead-ers and doing night performances to get the schedule played out. The only club the bum weather has helped is the Red Sox. They can't lose a game on a rainy day.

I see the Robins pulled off a triple play the other day. That's supporting the Brooklyn pitchers in a manner to which they ain't accustomed.

SEC. II TENNIS OPENING SET

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

Section I stars of the Pittsburgh Tennis Association Inter-Club League will swing into the 1932 chase for the Davis Keg Saturday, but they'll do it without aid or abetment from the racqueters of Section II. Teams of the seconders division of the local loop, according to announcement of P. T. A. authorities following a special session yesterday of the sanction and schedule committee, have been granted reprieve from start of action till Saturday, June 4.

Decision to postpone the Section II inaugural was reached after consideration of requests for additional time for preparation of courts and players had been received from several leaders of lower-circuit squads.

It is understood that tentative plans for the insertion of at least one more outfit into the group weighed no little in final determination to set back the inaugural date.

Ratification of last-minute application for return of the Edgewood Seconds to league competition was a feature of yesterday's conclave.

Acquisition of Edgewood raises the Section II list to seven delegations, College Avenue, Duquesne Library, Rockwood, Washington Heights, Westinghouse Seconds, Y. M. H. A. and Edgewood Seconds, the last-named pair of entrants being the sole contenders added since close of the 1931 race.

VANCE TURNS ON SCRIBES

Dazzy Vance, star pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, hit back at baseball writers in his talk during the Trained Seals period of the sports department of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph over WCAE last night. In a good-natured manner, he turned critic of the critics of the baseball men, pointing out that a player could not "circle" the bases on a home run, as has been printed. He also said he noticed that when a baseball player is injured, it always appears in the papers that he has a stiff neck or a bad leg or some other injury, whereas, when three New York baseball writers traveling with the Brooklyn club were injured in an automobile accident here, it was reported that they were suffering from "contusions and abrasions."

Dazzy Vance

Manager Max Carey and Coach Casey Stengel, of the Brooklyn club, also spoke, along with Steve Swetonic, shutout pitching star of the Pirates, being interviewed by Charles J. Doyle.

Charley Manning, of Shannopin, and Ted Luther, of Valley Heights, star golf professionals, gave tips on their sport, and Tom Birks and Harry Klaas sang, with Miss Marian Salmon at the piano, while Julius Levin directed the barking of the Seals, and Harry Keck, sports editor, was master of ceremonies, with Bill Sutherland the announcer.

Locals May Run In Ohio Marathon

Pittsburgh district runners are expected to participate in the modified marathon of a little less than 18 miles from Warren, O., to Idora Park, Youngstown, June 11 under the auspices of the Sixth District of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. There is no entry fee. Entries may be made locally through Ed W. Miller, 800 South Main street.

GRAYS, DETROIT CLASH TODAY

A quartet of star attractions in the City circuit, a heavy league program and the East-West Negro League battle at Forbes Field between the Homestead Grays and the crack Detroit Wolverines offer district sandlot baseball followers a variety of action this evening.

A hard fought game is in prospect at Forbes Field as the Grays grapple with the Detroit club. Play will start at 6:15 o'clock. The Grays are going to endeavor to avenge the setbacks they suffered in Detroit last week when they lost three games out of four, three of the battles going into extra innings before a decision was reached.

CITY LOOP CARD FULL

Four games will be staged in the City League. The Geislers will make the trip to Bellevue to meet the Reliance Life nine. At Olympic Park, old rivals will tangle when Homewood makes the trip up the hill to meet Books, and at the Salt Works grounds, the champions from Dormont will tangle with Art Rooney's North Siders.

The fourth game will be played at Bloomfield and finds the Frank Ferris club clashing with the J. L. Thomas entry.

Yesterday, at Wheeling, the Grays completed their series with the Cuban Giants, winning 6 to 1. In the City League, the Ferris club played another tie, drawing with the Books, 4-4, and Dormont defeated Reliance Life, 8 to 3.

The Soho McKnights were defeated by the Homesteas' Aces in a West Penn loop fray, 5 to 1. Griffins defeated Springdale, 4-1, and Edgewood blanked Iroquois, 1-0, in the Greater Pittsburgh League and in the County League, the Scott Morgans defeated the Potts team, 4-0, and Carnegie nosed out the Millikens, 4-3.

"Beautiful Girls are only 30% of a Revue"

"I put the pick of American girls in my choruses, but I put a lot more than just that in my shows," says the famous glorifier of American beauty. "Take my newest production, 'Hot-Cha.' It's got Lupe Velez and a lot of other very lovely girls in it. But it's also got Bert Lahr to make you laugh, Brown & Henderson music to set your feet tapping, and fine dancing, beautiful settings and romance to thrill you. It takes everything to make a show a real hit."

A GREAT gasoline can't be lopsided either. Figure it out yourself. Suppose it gives you mileage. Mileage is just one thing.

No gasoline is economical when you pay for it twice—once when you use it, and again when you're paying hard-earned cash for new spark plugs, or reseating valves, or carbon removal.

1932 gasoline must have everything.

"Standard" 1932 gasoline has everything!

It keeps your car on the road. Out of the repair shop. It saves you money. It gives you power when you need it, and a sweet engine.

Read the list below. Check it. And next time you buy gasoline, buy "Standard."

"Standard" has everything a real gasoline should have.

"STANDARD" HAS EVERYTHING!
Check it!

- ✓ CARBON-LESS—Spark plugs, pistons, cylinders and valves stay clean. Saves repair bills.
- ✓ GUM-LESS—No clogged manifolds—no sticky valves. Cuts repair bills.
- ✓ SULPHUR-LESS—No corrosion. Saves repair bills.
- ✓ ANTI-KNOCK—Extra power, less noise, less upkeep cost through reduced hammering of pistons and bearings. Cuts repair bills.
- ✓ QUICK STARTING—Minimum use of choke—quick power and pick-up—less contamination of crankcase oil.
- ✓ "BUBBLE-FREE"—No stalling and bucking from vapor bubbles in gas line and carburetor—even, steady flow of power in the hottest motor.
- ✓ ODOR-LESS—Refined "sweet"—no disagreeable smells.
- ✓ CRYSTAL CLEAR—Made clear—stays clear—a guarantee of perfect cleanliness. Saves money.
- ✓ UNIFORM—Same quality and results always, everywhere. Always more miles for your money.

STOCK TRADING EXTREMELY SLUGGISH

Tobacco and Utility Issues Recover Early Declines; Telephone, U. S. Steel Up

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP.)—Inertia continued to rule the stock market today, with prices maintaining a fairly good undertone.

Tobaccos and utilities, along with a few miscellaneous issues, had a period of heaviness in the morning, but the list recovered substantially after midday. The market was so sluggish, however, that price movements were not regarded as of much significance.

In the tobaccos, American Tobacco "B" Liggett and Myers "B," and Lorillard lost a point or two, and failed to recover appreciably. In the utilities, North American, Consolidated Gas, American Pacific gas and Electric, and Consolidated Gas got down a point or so, then recovered partially. American Telephone, after losing a point, rallied to show a gain of like extent, and Standard of New Jersey, developed notable firmness, getting up more than a point. United States Steel, Santa Fe and Johns Manville rallied nearly as much.

Charles M. Schwab's analysis of the steel situation before the American Iron and Steel Institute, in which he pointed out that the five leading companies fell about $25,000,000 short of earning bond interest and other charges in the first quarter, was rather gloomy, but he pointed out that companies have substantial business on their books which await only the necessary financing. This led to the hope that once the credit expansion program of the Reserve System takes effect, this basic industry may be one of the first to reflect a more normal functioning of credit machinery.

Indications that the Reserve authorities may slow up their open market purchases of government securities for a time, while they concentrate on getting member banks to put the $250,000,000 of excess reserves to work which have already been piled up, were not regarded in banking quarters as indicating any fundamental change in the program.

The sag in the tobaccos presumably reflected recent advance estimates, indicating that the April cigaret figures will show a substantial decline from last year. Selling of the utilities also probably reflected yesterday's electric power consumption figures, which were off about 13 per cent from last year. Oils, however, continued under the favorable influence of better control of production, and hopes of success in the international conferences looking to prevention of dumping.

FARM RELIEF OUTSTANDING ISSUE

Farm Aid to Prove Feature Of Presidential Campaign Unless Congress Acts Now

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service

NEW YORK, May 19.—Unless Congress adopts an effective agricultural relief bill within the next few weeks, farm relief will doubtless become one of the outstanding economic issues of the campaign.

Former Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, who was in New York earlier in the week, told me that as head of the California delegation to the Democratic National Convention he will make a fight at Chicago to have a plank inserted in the platform indorsing his plan for price fixing for wheat and cotton. He is hopeful that a bill embodying his recommendations will be introduced in the House of Representatives in the near future, and might be passed before the election.

Mr. Rukeyser

BIGNESS OBVIOUS

Bernard M. Baruch, financier and war-time chairman of the War Industries Board, has long been a leader in directing public opinion to the relationship between farm purchasing power and urban prosperity. He long ago suggested testing out some of the newer ideas on wheat and later applying the experience to other commodities. His idea was to give the farmer the benefit of the tariff through segregating home consumption from exportable surplus.

Recently a variety of industrial leaders, including Owen D. Young, have recognized the importance to business of a solution of the farm problem.

Asked to comment on the trend, Mr. Baruch indicated that he saw no reason to add anything to his previous utterances. He reiterated:

"No revival can come until that great segment of our population, known as the agricultural interests, can make a profit from their labors. Again, I believe that the ownership of homes by farmers is the very Ark of the Covenant of our Constitution and our liberties. Unfortunately, they have often been led by men who were suspicious of the motives of others and themselves and who have, on many occasions, alienated men who, perhaps, would have been able to help in some degree."

PRIMARY WEALTH

Mr. Baruch added:

"You may recall that back in 1929 and 1930 and since then on every occasion, I predicted that unless primary wealth—agricultural from the soil and minerals and metals from the bowels of the earth—show a profit to the producers, we can have no return even toward a normal condition.

"All one has to do is to see through 1929 and 1930 and up to today the downward curve in employment and agricultural prices to see what has caused the lack of buying. Of course, cutting wages and discharging people is producing the spiralling depressing effect, the opposite of what occurred in 1928 and 1929."

LEADERS SEEK OIL ACCORD

NEW YORK, May 19.—(AP)—Plans for the stabilization of world production and distribution of petroleum were discussed further today by the international conference at the Waldorf-Astoria, and satisfactory progress reported.

Charles E. Arnott, president of the Socony-Vacuum Corporation, and James A. Moffett, Jr., vice president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, acted as spokesmen for the conferees.

While no specific plan has thus far been developed, the spokesmen said that several were in the making and that various fundamentals were being talked over by the delegates.

Representatives of Soviet Russia, it was pointed out, are cooperating fully with the European and American leaders in an effort to find a solution for the problems of the oil industry.

Retail Food Index Off 16% From 1931

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(INS)—Retail food prices decreased approximately 1½ per cent in April from March prices, while the decrease since April a year ago amounted to about 16 per cent, the Bureau of Labor Statistics announced today. The figures were based on reports from 51 representative cities.

P. R. R. Carloadings Decline for Week

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—Pennsylvania Railroad system loadings in the week ended May 14 were 81,179 cars, against 84,262 in the previous week and 118,828 in the like 1931 week. From January 1 to May 14 loadings totaled 1,771,411 cars, compared with 2,314,589 a year ago.

MURDER OF THE NIGHT CLUB LADY :-: :-: By ANTHONY ABBOT

Commissioner Colt Explains Difficulties of Case Against Rowland

CHAPTER XXXVII

"Christine was in the room at the time, so was Guy Everett, so was Mrs. Carewe. None of them seems to remember that Rowland did anything suspicious with the sleeve. I should fancy it would be a deliberate and delicate—and certainly dangerous—operation. But even granting that he was able to manage all that, what more are we asked to believe? That the scorpion remained quietly in the sleeve all the time Lola was out of the house? It seems to me a man of Rowland's intelligence would hesitate taking such a risk of failure as that?"

"By jumping juniper!" exclaimed Dougherty. "I must say Thatcher, that I didn't figure all that out. Is Vincent Rowland cleared in your opinion then?"

"By no means. If he was mixed up in any crooked schemes and Guy Everett and Baldwin were threatening a complete exposure he had a perfect motive for wanting to get rid of those two girls. He had the intelligence to plan it. It is even possible that he connived with Lola and made her his dupe in getting the scorpions—she thought they were to murder someone else, never dreaming that they were intended for her. That is a possibility. Whoever is guilty made Lola purchase the scorpions—I feel sure of that. But we have no complete case yet against Rowland or anyone else. Until we find the modus operandi of the murders I think we should let the case seem as unsolvable a puzzle as possible."

STUDIED MOTHER

Dougherty poured himself his fourth cup of steaming coffee and ordered another serving of stuffed Long Island duckling.

"Agreed, Thatcher. Have you found any indications pointing to anyone else?"

"Plenty. There is a distinct possibility that the murder was committed by Mrs. Carewe."

"Thatcher! Good God, man—what are you saying? You don't really mean that seriously?"

Thatcher Colt was calmly lighting a cigaret.

"I am in deadly earnest about it. There has not been since the moment we walked through the pent-house door anything that seemed spontaneously affectionate or genuine in the relationship of Lola and her mother. All the outer signs were there but not the inner spirit. Mrs. Carewe has grieved nobly, but as far as I am concerned, unconvincingly. Her hysterics and her excitement have not moved me. Only once have I seen genuine emotion in that old lady. That was when I roused all her excitement by the mention of the name of Basil."

"But that has nothing to do with this case," interjected Dougherty testily.

"Perhaps not. At all events, there I found a real reaction."

"But a mother—to kill her own daughter?"

DOUGHERTY DOUBTFUL

Thatcher Colt shrugged his shoulders.

"It happens every year—almost every month," he reminded the District Attorney. "Fratricide, matricide, patricide—blood relatives let blood in great quantities."

"I know—but among people of this class!"

"Consider the facts," returned Colt. "It happens among the good solid citizens of the United States. I can quote you innumerable examples. What of that amiable mother of Havre de Grace, down in Maryland, who poisoned her children to collect the insurance? Do you think she was a monster? There are a hundred like her. And how many that are never caught and punished. God only knows. And by the way, the death note was left at the desk just about the time the old lady came home from the theater."

"But what motive could Mrs. Carewe have?" rumbled Dougherty unhappily.

"Hatred is the most common when mothers kill their children, or children their mothers and fathers. Very seldom is insurance the cause. Insanity may be a word to gloss it all over. Mrs. Carewe may have some practical motive which we have not as yet discovered."

"I am sure you will find that Lola was not killed by her mother," Dougherty stated with all the conviction of deep-rooted prejudice. "Anybody else?"

INSPECTOR REPORTS

"The rest of the servants naturally. They, too, had opportunity. Only someone with access to the premises could have done these crimes. Eunice does not seem to me to have brains enough. As for Chung—"

"He looks to me to have dark ways and peculiar tricks," paraphrased Dougherty. "He's an Oriental and—"

At this moment, Colt was called to the telephone. When he returned, the chief wore a slight smile and at once told us the encouraging news he had just been given by Inspector Flynn.

"First," explained Thatcher Colt, "Flynn has had another talk with Ricardo Villafranca, of the laboratory supply agency. The South American at once confirmed all the details regarding the scorpion mentioned in Baldwin's letter. Also he told the circumstances of the last meeting he had with Dr. Baldwin—the one at West End avenue and Seventy-second street about 10 this morning. It seems that Baldwin called Villafranca and insisted on meeting him in the manner described by Deems this morning in his report. This did not puzzle Villafranca. Baldwin had never called at his shop to carry the scorpions off with him. Of course, it was understood between them that the scorpions were for the use of scientific research. Nevertheless, Baldwin had always been very secretive. They must meet away from the shop. Apparently this morning Baldwin had no idea that he was being followed. Although when we returned his needle and apparatus to him, he should have been suspicious. Furthermore, Villafranca willingly gave our man another box, a duplicate of the several used in this affair. All search of the penthouse yielded no further signs of such boxes. But Flynn has traced one just the same. The ashes in the fireplace, when sifted, showed the exact same size of nails as in the sample—and the same number, also some infinitesimal fragments of burned cotton. Thus ends the search for the boxes—the second set which Baldwin undoubtedly gave to Lola. The killer burned them in the fireplace."

"Thatcher," groaned Dougherty, "I am at last beginning to believe we are up against a problem that cannot be solved!"

"Nonsense," returned Colt. "Let's talk about something else."

And for the next quarter of an hour we discussed the latest move for arms reduction, the erratic movements of the stock market, and the finding of a treasure box in Long Island, filled with coins bearing Phoenician inscriptions.

Promptly at 2 o'clock we were back at headquarters and in the private office of Thatcher Colt. In our absence, the papers stacked for the chief's scrutiny had accumulated two feet high. Colt had missed the lineup that morning, and there were notations of significant facts developed during the daily parade of criminals on the platform erected in the old police gymnasium. Colt attended the lineup whenever possible. It was he who abolished the use of masks on the faces of the assembled detectives. Instead he set up a range of nine powerful lamps beating down on the prisoner exposed to the glare. Every other light in the room is out. The prisoner is blinded, but he is radiantly visible to the army of man-hunters seated before him. It was here that Colt promoted patrolmen and gave public praise and blame, his rewards going most often to the patrolmen who had shot down criminals in open battle. It was here, too, that Colt announced some of the most important changes he introduced into the department, including the opening of the police school for rookies—"Enter to learn and leave to serve"—and his bureau for free medical attention for the department.

Apparently the line-up of the morning after the New Year's Eve celebration had been full of surprises. Two Italian troubadours who sang and played for the riders on the Dyckman street ferry boats had been caught with several ounces of morphine hidden in the bellies of their guitars. Through them the head of the narcotic squad was working to trace back the drugs to the source—a never-ending quest that seemingly succeeds only in spots, the hardest of all wars waged by the police. There is an immeasurable distance between the arrest of the lowly dope-peddler and the conviction of the man higher up. Beneath the typewritten report on the ferry boat minstrels appeared a clipping from one of the daily tabloids in New York—a vicious attack on the Police Department and on Colt personally, and demanding that politics be thrown out of the department. With a brief smile, Colt thrust this aside. Ever since he had been in public life he had known, as does every other strong administrator, constant assaults like these. They may originate in someone with an object to serve. But as often as not they are simply yellow journalism; an unsuccessful newspaper trying to make a noise in town. They are a symptom of modern political life in modern American cities. Thatcher Colt had time for only a casual glance at the printed attack.

Synopsis

Lola Carewe and her guest, Christine Quires, are mysteriously murdered in the former's apartment. Scorpions were the instruments of death. The police suspect Guy Everett, the last person to see Christine alive. Lola had blackmailed Everett. He, however, claims that Christine discovered a plot to kill Lola and feared for her own life because of her knowledge. Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt learns that a young Paris bank clerk, named Basil Boucher, loved Lola. After robbing a bank to buy her a ruby, Basil disappeared. His parents sold medical laboratory specimens. Edward Quires, Christine's brother, left his Rochester home for New York following the receipt of a telegram the day of the murders. Christine was to have inherited wealth shortly. Suspicion also points to Dr. Hugh Baldwin when it is disclosed that he purchased scorpions. He had stated heart failure caused the deaths. Colt, calling to question Baldwin, finds him dead—from a scorpion bite! Colt wonders if Baldwin was the victim of a trick or deliberately released the scorpion. In Baldwin's desk Colt finds a statement in which the doctor says he accidentally poisoned Gaylord Gifford, Lola's husband. Lola's knowledge of this placed Baldwin in her power. She forced him to supply narcotics which she used to victimize her friends and later blackmail them. Then she ordered him to obtain a scorpion to commit a murder. Baldwin learned that Vincent Rowland was behind Lola's activities. Realizing he would be exposed, Baldwin secured another scorpion and committed suicide. The District Attorney favors the immediate arrest of Rowland, but Colt objects.

Now Go On

"We should let the case seem as unsolvable as possible," said Colt.

Heart of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Recalls Decision Her Mother Made

I fairly jumped in my chair as Philip Veritzen asked me if Madame ——, the famous retired actress, who had trained my speaking voice when I was a girl, had never advised me to go upon the stage. I had not thought of her in years, for it was in my early girlhood that she had paid a debt of gratitude to my little mother by training me. That she had performed her task conscientiously, I had realized anew when Philip Veritzen at the close of my reading of the fourth act of my play had astonished me by saying that my voice and my ability to lose myself in a part justified him in offering me the leading role in my own drama, provided that I would leave my home and devote a whole year to intensive study under him.

It had been that early training of my voice which had decided him, in his offer, I knew, for as he himself had said "with that voice half your dramatic battle would have been fought." And with his last question had come a rush of memory.

Again I saw the tall, stately old woman, unbent by age and unbowed by adversity. Though little of her beauty was left, though only occasional haunting cadences revealed how matchless a thing had been her voice, yet her spirit, her sapience, and her rare teaching ability had been such as to make of her a marvelous instructor of youth, one who was able to preserve her economic independence until death.

MOTHER OBJECTED

All her pupils adored her, no one more than I. And suddenly I saw her, at the end of a voice lesson at which my mother had been present, spring to her feet and come over to me, as I rose deferentially with her. I saw her put her hands upon my shoulders and then turn with me, her arm about my shoulders, to my mother, and I heard her vibrant voice say:

"Mrs. Spencer, this child has the spark without which no fire can be kindled, and I have taken care of her voice. I can make her a great actress if she will work with me. Will you let me have her?"

I remembered the minute that I stood there, motionless, breathless, waiting for my mother's verdict. I believe there are few girls in the world who, when in their "teens" at least, do not believe that they are destined for a great stage career if given the opportunity. But to me, even then, the prospect of stage roles was dwarfed by the idea of writing plays and producing them. That seemed to me the greatest thing in the world.

But my mother's verdict had been swift and damning.

"No! Oh, no!" she said in a voice so vehement, so horrified, that I did not know it. "An actress! I would rather see her dead!"

Madame had stiffened as at a blow.

"In that case," she began, but my mother interrupted her.

"You do not know—I do not mean—I must tell you," she said wildly, and then she turned to me.

"Please go away for awhile, Margaret," she said dully. "I must talk with Madame."

SECOND OPPORTUNITY

The subject was never brought up again, although my lessons continued with Madame for over a year longer. I loved my little mother too much to protest a decision, the altering of which, patently would mean agony to her. But it was years afterwards, when my mother, nearing her death, told me of her tragedy, my father's desertion of her when I was four years old, that I learned the reason for her vehemence.

The woman, my mother's best friend, who had fled with my father, was an actress.

All this unrolled in kaleidoscopic fashion before my eyes, as Philip Veritzen's question still echoed between us, and when I looked up to answer him, he was smiling.

"I see you are remembering things," he said. "Was I right in my surmise about Mme. ——?"

"Yes, you were," I said slowly. "I was sure of it!" he said. Mme. —— was too keen a judge of talent to pass you by unheeding. And what an actress you would have made!"

His gaze swept me from head to foot coolly, appraisingly, and I felt my cheeks go hot.

"Usually opportunity knocks but once," he said at last. "In your case, there is a second summons. You sacrificed the first for your mother, are you bent upon sacrificing the second for your husband?"

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

Last Saturday the South Hills Theater, where the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club meets, was filled with happy care-free youngsters and the stage show had been in progress for some time, when one little chap in the audience became noisy. Immediately an usher had the little fellow by the hand and led him upon the stage where he was greeted by Harry Koch, manager of the South Hills.

"What's the matter, youngster?" asked Harry. "Don't you like our show?"

"Sure, I think that your show is swell," replied the youngster. "Well, then tell us why you made all that noise and what's your name?"

"Joe Mulligan, is my name, and the reason that I was noisy is because I want to sing a song. Is it okay with you?"

"Okay, Joe, what are you going to sing?"

With that Joe sat down at the piano and played and sang "Nows The Time to Fall in Love" and stopped the show right then and there. For the next 20 minutes young Joe Mulligan entertained the youngsters and they would not let the rest of the show go on until Joe had promised to return to the South Hills Theater next Saturday with more songs for the members of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theater Junior Komic Club.

The following new members were enrolled last Saturday in the South Hills chapter:

Melvin Cummins, Hollis Muller, Virginia Dresser, Charles Kreimendahl, Irene Kreimendahl, Sidney Rapport, Quintan Le Monte, George Tyson, Selma Cohen, De Vera Cohen, Paul Good, William Beck, Donald McKeagy, Betty Anne Nath, Vincent De Wilt, Clarence De Puy, Theodore Stark, Robert Schake, Maureen Gillespie, Herman Buder, Peggy Miller and Raymond Corrigan.

Remember boys and girls, tonight at 6 o'clock those two loveable persons, "Uncle Bob and Betty" will read you the Sun-Telegraph daily comics from radio station WCAE. They are honorary members of your club so be sure to listen to them.

If you are not a member of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club, send your name and address, name of your parents, school you attend, date and year of your birth, to the Secretary, Junior Komic Club, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a membership card and button will be mailed you.

Congratulations to the following boys and girls, all members of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club who are celebrating their birthdays today:

Belmar—Mike Bellusico, Mary Arnold.

Davis (downtown) — Jack Manby, Norman Brenner, Frocco Jannetti.

Cuticura Healed Red, Itchy Pimples on Back and Face.

"I had trouble with my back and face for quite a while. Hard, red pimples broke out on them and were so itchy that they caused me to scratch. The pimples were scattered, and disfigured my face for about three months.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample of each. They helped me so I purchased more and after using two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, together with the Cuticura Soap, I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Anna Suja, 207 E. MEN WHO MAKE AMERICA WHAT IT IS TODAY

Friends, shake hands with J. Wilbert Limbergrip, organizer of the Limbergrip Loan Plan for white collar workers. If you have a doctor bill, or a mortgage to meet, the Limbergrip plan is designed to help you. All you need do is deposit twice the amount of the loan, pay a small "get-acquainted fee," and have four ex-Presidents of the United States sign the guarantee. A modest interest, not exceeding 12 per cent, is computed hourly. A new feature makes it possible to reduce the interest 10 per cent after the recipient has reached the age of 65, provided he is completely disabled and has lost the sight of his remaining eye.

Misconception of Duty

The Senate Voting Machine Committee Is Not a Judicial, But an Investigating Body

Senator Frank J. Harris, chairman of the Senate Voting Machine Committee, has reached a sensible decision in deciding to go ahead with the investigation notwithstanding Senator Joseph G. Armstrong's opinion that there is nothing for the committee to do "until definite charges are made."

Young Armstrong and his associate on the committee, Senator C. W. Parkinson, apparently have an incorrect understanding of its duties. They seem to think it is a judicial body, whose duty it is to pass judgment on charges that may be brought in connection with the curious circumstances that have attended Allegheny County's purchase of voting machines.

The committee is not, of course, a judicial but an investigating body. If there have been violations of law in the strange transactions into which the committee inquired in its earlier sessions, it is for the committee to uncover them, and for the courts to pass judgment.

The only way in which an investigation of this kind can be conducted is by asking questions—plain questions, pointed questions. Armstrong and Parkinson defeat the very purpose of the committee in refusing to permit such questions to be asked.

To do a good job of it the committee may have to engage in what is called "a fishing expedition." Very well, let it do so. There is nothing inherently objectionable in such a plan. It is the method that has been used in some of the most noteworthy investigations made by Congressional investigating committees, and has proved the means of curing many an unhealthy condition.

The School Quandary

The Board of Education's Decision to Economize Seems the Best Way Out of the Dilemma

With the school tax rate, though unchanged from last year, producing less revenue because of the inability of many citizens to pay, and threatening to yield still less next year, the Board of Public Education was faced with this dilemma: It had to choose between reducing expenses and raising taxes.

It has chosen the former alternative, and in pursuance of that choice announces that building projects will be postponed, wages of all employes directly controlled by the Board will be reduced 10 per cent, and teachers, whose wages are fixed by law, will be asked to make a voluntary refund of 10 per cent of their salaries.

The Board, we believe, has chosen the lesser of the two evils. The effect of reducing the pay, and consequently the buying power, of 1,700 employes, exclusive of the 3,300 teachers, will be bad. The temporary abandonment of $1,500,000 worth of building operations will be bad, not only because it will affect the employment situation adversely, but also because it will make for congestion in schools already crowded.

But it would be worse to add to the burden of the small property owners of Pittsburgh who are already struggling desperately, and in many cases failing, in the effort to save their homes from confiscation for failure to pay taxes.

The situation again brings to the fore the question of the desirability of providing municipal institutions with other important sources of revenue besides the taxes on real estate.

Medical Center Grows

Laying of Eye and Ear Hospital Cornerstone Marks Another Step in Pittsburgh's Progress

The cornerstone of the new Eye and Ear Hospital will be laid tomorrow afternoon. It is an auspicious event in itself, for the Eye and Ear Hospital is a useful institution whose usefulness will be increased by its removal into more commodious quarters; but it is still more significant as marking another step forward in the creation of the Medical Center.

The hospital is to occupy one wing of a building on a tract bounded by Fifth avenue, DeSoto, Terrace and Lathrop streets; the Presbyterian General Hospital and several other special hospitals will also be housed in the structure.

Hard by are the Children's Hospital, the Falk Clinic and the University of Pittsburgh Medical School.

When the money is forthcoming other medical institutions are also to have their headquarters in this center, among them the proposed State Psychiatric Hospital, for which a site on the University of Pittsburgh campus has already been donated to the Commonwealth.

The Medical Center, on completion, will provide unsurpassed facilities for the study and treatment of all the ills to which the human body is subject. It will furnish opportunities for close co-operation between the different institutions, making the equipment of one available to all. The benefits of such a system require no enumeration.

Trout Are Biting

Conditions Are Now Favorable for an Outing on Pennsylvania's Mountain Streams.

The hold that trout fishing has taken on lovers of the outdoors in Pennsylvania is shown in the prominence given the subject in the Commonwealth's news service. Hardly a week passes that "Capitol News," the State Government's official clip sheet, does not contain a fish story or two, or comment on conditions in the streams.

The current issue states that until recently the trout were pretty well fed up with the larvae of the caddis fly, which were found in great abundance in many of the mountain creeks, and so showed no enthusiasm for the baits and lures of anglers. But the heavy rains of the past week washed the worms out of the streams, and the trout are now biting.

The news, trivial to some, will be of profound interest to hundreds of thousands of men, women and children.

The Star Boarder Takes His Fifth

Waste and extravagance stalk through the land to spread disaster if not checked.

Expenditures for government—local, state and national—have increased from THREE THOUSAND MILLIONS of dollars in 1913 to FIFTEEN THOUSAND MILLIONS of dollars in 1931.

In amount this is an increase in the last 19 years of 400 per cent—an increase of more than four times the amount which citizens have to pay.

This means that one dollar out of every five earned today by the tax-ridden American people goes to 250,000 tax-gathering and tax-spending agencies.

Eighteen million American citizens now depend for their livelihood upon the tax rolls of government.

The cost of government is known to be excessive.

To continue the waste is INDEFENSIBLE.

A Prosperity Loan! No Hoover 'Plan'

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

The Democratic House passed, and the Senate accepted, a tariff act asking the President to open negotiations for reciprocal action on the part of the nations to reopen the markets of the world to American products.

These markets were closed to us because Mr. Grundy "raised a million dollars for the election of Mr. Hoover" from among certain men, and something having been bought, in his opinion, something bigger and better had to be delivered; and so the tariff act was passed over the protest of every intelligent economist in the land, and of merchants and business men.

With the damage done, there has been a general demand among business men for just such action as the Democratic bill provided.

And Mr. Hoover has vetoed the bill; and administration organs that have been protesting against the economic isolation forced upon us by the Grundy tariff fall in line with commendation of presidential wisdom.

And the same day the same papers publish an enlightening story which begins thus:

"The leading republics of Latin-America have begun diplomatic negotiations looking toward the formation of a Latin-American customs union for United defense and concerted reprisals against the United States tariff policy."

The President refuses to negotiate for the reopening of the markets, and other nations begin negotiations to close more markets in our face.

Surely, comment is superfluous.

* * *

Others Lead, the President Follows

Others lead, the President follows.

It is a matter of precedence to which we have become accustomed during the last three years of human misery.

Thus the Democrats announce plans for governmental savings through consolidations, and the administration immediately discovers it has a plan which has been a dark secret for three years.

Thus the Democrats in the Senate let it be known one day that they will favor a prosperity loan for public works to put some of the 8,000,000 denied the right to work in jobs; and the next day the President, who has kept it a dark secret all the time, announces the "President's plan" for unemployment.

Others lead; the President follows.

* * *

Is U. S. Steel in That Condition!

But he does not follow very far. Instead of a prosperity loan of proportions commensurate with the crisis, the gravest in American history, which is worse today as far as unemployment is concerned than it was two months ago, the presidential plan is to give the Reconstruction Finance Corporation an additional $1,160,000,000 to be loaned to private business which is unable to borrow from the banks, bulging with hoarded money.

The theory is that private corporations have orders they cannot fill without a loan; that the loan will put men to work to fill the orders, and one case is cited. It would be interesting to know how many big corporations have big orders, but are not employing workers and filling the orders because they cannot make a loan. Is United States Steel in that condition?

Then $40,000,000 is to be used for export agricultural aid.

And $300,000,000 is to be loaned to states, not municipalities, to be used to prevent starvation. Since these are loans, the prevention of starvation among people who are victims of stupid national economic and business policies is not to cost the federal government one red cent.

* * *

Problems of the Nation's Government

In the President's statement he reiterates, as a virtue, that the principle of having the Nation's Government do nothing to prevent starvation in a national crisis "is not to be changed." And he concedes, reluctantly, it seems, that "fear has arisen that existing relief measures and resources may prove inadequate." Is that a fair statement? Doesn't every one know positively that existing relief measures and resources are inadequate? Is the Salvation Army in New York City inciting to unjustified fear when it says:

"Social problems are now business problems. The chief concern of business leaders and of men in high governmental places is no longer only a question of when business recovery will take place. It is also a question of preventing crime and disorder, by relieving the present strain on those of our people who, through no fault of their own, find themselves on the verge of desperation."

And not only "business problems," either; we submit they have become the problems of the Nation's Government.

* * *

The Theory of the Presidential Plan

But better than giving or loaning money to prevent starvation is furnishing funds to furnish jobs and on a scale that will approximately approach the needs of the hour. The President proposes to make just a little over one billion available for private corporations that have contracts on hand they cannot fill without a loan.

There is no assurance that any impressive part of that one billion will be asked on the ground that orders are waiting to be filled. The whole theory of the presidential plan is based upon the theory that there is, or will be, a business revival, and whether the jobless men get any jobs or not depends upon there being a business revival this summer.

Under the presidential plan of opening jobs—he calls it his plan of "unemployment relief"—not 50 per cent of the unemployed in New York City alone could hope for a job.

* * *

We Hope It Is Not True

One billion is a recognition of the principle we have been advocating amidst much jeering, but it means little more than a gesture as far as getting anywhere with unemployment is concerned. The two billion dollar plan of Senator Wagner is not enough, but it is many times better; for it not only doubles the amount the President proposes, but it does not wait on the recovery of private business to become operative. It becomes operative now on public work—and public work of real service to the nation. A great national network of permanently improved highways does not pay private business a dividend in money, but it pays the nation and keeps on paying the nation.

It would be an amazing thing were the Democrats in Congress to dump the Wagner bill or some other bill providing a prosperity loan at the behest of the President and on his plan. It would be so amazing and so indefensible that we hope it is not true. They ought to know by this time that they do not become impressive by permitting the President, alarmed by their program, to chisel in with something not so good.

* * *

A Prosperity Loan Could Be Floated

A huge prosperity loan could be floated—just as we would float a huge patriotic loan in the event of war. The reasons urged against the prosperity loan would not be urged were the nation engaged in battle with a foreign foe. We can imagine what would be said of these reasons in that event.

But we are engaged in a struggle that is worse than war; that will wreck and ruin, if not kill, more people than in war; that shows no chivalry toward women and children and old men; and if we lose that struggle there is infinitely more danger to American institutions than in the losing of a war with another country. Should we lose a foreign war the hate would be turned against the foreign nation; if we lose this war all confidence will be lost by millions in our own governmental plan.

But there is a thought here that we cannot expect to reach the "market-minded statesmanship" that now sits in the seats of the mighty.

Lovers—And Others

In these days of rapid-fire marriages, husbands are like nasturtiums or gray hairs—the more a woman gets rid of, the thicker they seem to come.

* * *

The success of a doctor or a psychoanalyst depends largely on his ability to start a woman talking about herself, and then to sit and listen until she gets the last "symptom" out of her system.

You may have a new romance or a new infatuation every spring. But love, like an operation for appendicitis, is something that can happen to you only once in a lifetime.

* * *

The more of an idealist a woman is, the worse failure she appears to make of marriage—and the oftener she makes it.

* * *

Mother would have felt that it would ruin her reputation to kiss a man she didn't know; but nowadays Daughter seems to think that it spoils her record to know a man that she hasn't kissed.

* * *

Many a pair of lovers who believed themselves twin-souls, can't even agree, after marriage, on where to hang the thermometer or when to turn off the radio.

Marriage was a pretty safe bet when we regarded it as a sacrament, or a life-partnership! It did not lose its significance until we began to regard it as an experiment, an adventure or a compromise.

* * *

Before marriage a girl thinks that she "can never do enough to make that man happy." After marriage she KNOWS it.

* * *

A man who loves peace never disputes a woman's word, except when she says something uncomplimentary about herself.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Building Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the day that waits
For us beyond the dawn,
Beyond morn's pearl and opal gates
A little way withdrawn.

It bears strange gifts within its hands,
And it will steal away
Some things we love, when to dim lands
It goes, as yesterday.

They tell us none can ever guess
What it will give or take,
For it may bring us loveliness
Or make our hearts to ache.

But, as tomorrow's veil unfolds,
Each man will see at last
The threat or promise which it holds
He fashioned in the past.

Each one has built through bygone years
His hidden destiny—
Tomorrow, with its hopes or fears;
The day that is to be!

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, May 19.—I have had several close-ups recently of that supine and national idiocy known as marathon dancing. The dancers are fenced in on a smooth floor like so many sideshow exhibits with a background of seats thrown up circus fashion. Some customers remain all night.

Out of 60 contesting couples at one dance in its forty-seventh day, nine pairs were carrying on and one determined Italian, bald and grim, was soloing it, having lost his partner. They are supposed to dance 45 minutes and rest 15 and are fed every three hours on a special diet. Nearly all gain weight, some 10 pounds.

At rest intervals, they try to snatch 40 winks, receive rub downs and are aroused by a siren. Mostly those standing the gaff are professionals, who have been in major events all over the country. Their dress is unusual—pajamas, crazily patched overalls, shorts and sweaters bearing ads.

A middle-aged mother and her cake-eating son were among those striving for the $1,000 prize. There was a honeymoon couple, married the day of the start, a brother and sister and what the ballyhooer calls "sweetheart couples." A duo of disgustingly unfunny comics heckle the dancers and otherwise make themselves a nuisance.

The greatest difficulty is after the rest periods. They come back to the floor in a desperate fight to remain awake. The one widest awake holds up the partner. After a time one of them is able to sleep soundly while the other acts as a support for a drag around the floor.

The soloist had reached the point of napping on his feet and waking himself by the sensation of falling. At intervals a master of ceremonies introduces participants and calls upon them for "stunts"—clogging, singing, etc. The audience is supposed to shower change.

The ace of tony apartment houses is the cream-colored structure, flush on the East River with a bleak vista of Welfare Island's prison yard, known as No. 1 Sutton place. It is 100 per cent cooperative and the selective process for tenants is strictest in town. The building was sponsored by John D. Rockefeller's son-in-law, David Milton. Yachts nose up to tenants' back doors.

* * *

Until two years ago, major circuses exploited "a cigaret fiend" in side shows. He was usually cadaverous, hollow-eyed, pasty and dressed in black tights. For many years the horrible example was not exhibited in New York on account of the snickers. This amusement eventually spread to the outland and the "cigaret fiend" was withdrawn.

There is a sober intensity about movies as presented at a self-effacing cinema called the Cameo in West Forty-second street. There are none of the humorous ingenuities of Krazy Kat or Jimmy Durante. But instead, films from Soviet Russia, travel expeditions into forgotten lands, etc. Its audiences are mostly intellectuals.

Oddly enough, New York, save on the Bowery and in psychopathic wards, rarely reveal a "periodical drinker." In small towns where I have lived were always one or two men of respectability on hi-lonesomes. They drank themselves into deliriums bordering on the horrors for weeks at a stretch and as suddenly returned to complete sobriety, a little pale, enormously ashamed.

I am able to recall my first intoxicating drink—a glass of beer. The emptied glass was placed back on the mahogany with a lip smack and sleeve wipe as my father popped glowering through the swing doors. The ominous quiet before the cyclone. And I was yanked by the collar down the main street, walking Spanish. That evening I was given $20, along with the suggestion travel broadened the mind. And Plattsburg (Mo.'s) loss was Dayton (O.'s) gain.

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

"What do you mean by saying that 'love is many answers?'" he writes.

I mean that love isn't a unique experience that suddenly falls upon us, out of the blue.

It is not a peculiar phenomenon, distinct from all our preceding life, into which we accidentally blunder.

Love does not happen outside us. It happens inside us.

We do not find love. We make it. We make it out of our own hungers and dreams.

Love is the answer to those hungers; the realization of those dreams.

Love is many answers, for we have many hungers which need answerings.

We have physical hungers, and mental hungers and spiritual hungers.

Noble hungers, some of them. Contemptible hungers, others.

LOVE IS THE ANSWER TO OUR NEED OF BEAUTY.

(Here, at last, is that gentle, shining thing of which we have dreamed, which we had despaired of finding. Here is that sweet wonder that will compensate for all the ugliness of life!)

LOVE IS THE ANSWER TO LONELINESS.

(Here, we think, is someone who will fill the emptiness.)

LOVE IS THE ANSWER TO FEAR.

(Here, in this tender understanding, we can hide from doubt, and criticism, and disillusion; can hide from the conflict within ourselves as well as in the world.)

LOVE IS THE ANSWER TO CONCEIT.

(Here, at last, is the chance to be as important as we want to be; to create a world for ourselves; to rule, undisputed in that world of our own making.)

Yes, love is many answers to many needs. Noble needs. Contemptible needs.

Why is love never perfect?

That is why. Our needs are never perfect.

Love is as high as we are—and as low. It is as strong—and as weak.

Love is not the measure of another soul. Its success does not depend on the quality of that other spirit.

Love is the measure of our own souls. Its success depends on the quality of our own spirits.

Love is that dream which we create in the hidden places of the heart. THEN SUDDENLY, ECSTATICALLY, TRANSFER TO ANOTHER HUMAN CHARACTER—where maybe it fits, and maybe it doesn't!

But whether it fits or whether it doesn't, love is what we make it.

No love is a failure, if you give to it the noblest thing in you. Even though the object of your love should fail you, love itself will not fail you if you have built it nobly.

Great love is always worth while, always worth what it costs.

And no love is a success if it is built on your weakness, your cheapness, your cowardice. Even though it batters and delights you, comforts and coddles you, LOVE IS A FAILURE IF IT LETS YOU FAIL YOURSELF.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

It is not always a kindness and a favor to fail to reprimand or censure the person who deserves it.

The fact that you do not exercise your right to make a complaint causes the person offending to minimize his actions.

Every person missteps at some time, but an inexcusable error merits a reminder by the one in position to do so.

This should be done in the right spirit with no more emphasis than the conditions warrant.

It should not be presented in heated, irritable, antagonistic style, unless the offense be of too frequent occurrence.

One of the reasons why bosses make so many errors themselves is that they do not have to report to anyone but themselves and they may be too lenient in their own self-accusation.

They pass over their own mistakes lightly but are most humiliating in their denunciation of others' mistakes.

Of course there will always be errors in judgment and there will be the careless, thoughtless workers who make mistakes.

But the latter should not be permitted to continue their careless work—they should get a "jacking up" when they need it.

Electric Refrigeration RECIPE BOOK

THE PROFITABLE SERVANT

Gone are the days when the housewife moaned over the wrecking of the household budget through spoilage of meats and other perishable foodstuffs—and the answer is simply told in two words: Electric refrigeration.

Electric refrigeration means constant refrigeration. It means a fixed and steady temperature, unchanged by sudden heat waves and dependent on no whims of delivery.

In addition to this outstanding improvement, electric refrigeration brings still another boon to the always worried hostess, for desserts can be made in the freezing chambers without the slightest attention from the time they are placed there until they are taken out ready for serving.

There probably is no one development of that great household servant—electricity—that has brought as many reliefs and as much help to the woman who runs her own home, whether with or without servants.

Electrical refrigeration is economical, dependable and, above all, satisfactory. What more can any housewife ask?

Electric Refrigeration Reduces Food Waste

Housewife Is Able To Cut Cost Of Living

The primary function of an electrical refrigerator is of course, the preservation of food; and as long as it does that it is doing its duty. An understanding of why food spoils and how proper refrigeration can be depended upon to prevent such spoilage would give the housewife a greater appreciation of the advantage of mechanical refrigeration.

Through the science of bacteriology it has been discovered that microbes are chiefly responsible for the destruction of our food supplies. Bacteria, yeasts and mold growths multiply very rapidly under favorable conditions of temperature and moisture. Decomposition is an essential part of nature, and to prevent it, we must find a way to inhibit the growth of those agents that cause it.

Below the temperature of 50 degrees growth of all forms of germ life is distinctly retarded. The difference between 50 degrees and 55 degrees is very small, but in the electric refrigerator it means the difference between proper preservation of food and rapid spoilage. The ideal temperature is between 45 degrees and 50 degrees.

Food Budget Cut By Electric Refrigeration

Only the users of modern electric refrigeration can fully appreciate the many advantages to be derived and the saving in food cost the housewife is able to accomplish.

By keeping food fresh, safe and delicious and by adding new ease to meal preparation, the electric refrigerator proves a real convenience many times a day. In addition to budget saving the electric refrigerator brings tempting frozen salads and desserts into the home, not possible without these modern devises.

A few cents saved here, a few there—by buying in larger quantities, will soon make an appreciable difference in the family food bills.

Food Preserved

The constant low temperature maintained by the electric refrigerator makes it possible for the housewife to keep perish-foods for a much longer period of time than she did when she had to depend on other means. Consider what this means to her in safety, convenience, economy, and varied menus for the family.

The food bill is one of the major items of household expense, and the small economies made possible here and there every week will amount up over a period of weeks or months. There need be no food loss due to spoilage. Left-overs will keep in a wholesome condition for some time so that they can be used to best advantage. Marketing can be reduced from the daily trip to twice a week at most.

For most families, marketing twice a week is the best routine because of the size of the refrigerator. When the housewife is able to preserve perishable foods in her own home, she can take advantage of the fluctuations in food price. Canned goods may be bought in large sizes for even though the entire contents of the can is not used, what is left over may be safely kept in the refrigerator until needed.

British Scientist Dean in Electric Refrigeration

Electric refrigeration, it is revealed, dates back to 1775, but it was not until recent years that the invention was perfected well enough for commercial value.

In England in 1775, Dr. William Cullen invented an artificial ice making machine. During the next 75 years other inventions were made along similar lines. In 1850 Dr. John Gorrie, Florida, perfected an air machine for producing low temperatures. Michael Faraday, in England, finally succeeded in adapting gas expansion to refrigeration problems, succeeding in condensing ammonia gas to a liquid by applying pressure and cooling it.

Practical application of this principle led to the development of the modern electric refrigerator type. A Chicago packing house installed the first mechanical refrigeration equipment used in that industry in 1880.

Do Not Crowd

There is a warning, however; do not overcrowd the box. Space should be left between the container for free circulation of air, for air circulation is necessary to maintain the low temperature. Most foods should be kept in covered containers, raw meats, however, should never be covered. Before storing fruits and vegetables, wash them and cut off parts that are not to be used such as celery stalks and cauliflower leaves. There is no use to refrigerate waste. Unwrap all food because paper acts as an insulator, making the refrigerator work harder to chill those foods wrapped in it.

Besides keeping perishable food, the electric refrigerator is also an active housekeeping assistant. Cookie dough made into a long roll can be kept satisfactorily for days. As cookies are needed, slices may be cut from the roll and baked in a few minutes. Unused cake batter will keep from 24 to 48 hours without injury. Yeast dough will keep 3 days or more. The busy housewife can mix a quantity of dough, let it rise, knead it down once, and store it, tightly covered until wanted.

Hot Weather Aid

In the same way pie crust can be kept chilled for use as needed. Evaporated milk, which has just been heated in hot water, chilled and then stored in the refrigerator ready to whip, will tide over an emergency call for whipped cream. Foods, such as cream sauces, soup foundations, etc., can be made in fairly large quantities whenever the opportunity presents itself and stored in the refrigerator for use later on. The freezing unit of the refrigerator may be used to shorten the time for setting gelatin salads and desserts.

Make full use of this freezing compartment. It is such an easy way to make frozen dishes. Mousses, frozen salads, parfaits, in fact, any of the cream mixtures can be frozen in the automatic refrigerator with no trouble at all. Such mixtures can be prepared and gotten out of the way long before they are to be used, for they do not become crystalline with standing.

Fruit juices, partially frozen and then combined with whipped cream or beaten egg whites before completing the freezing, make delicious sherbets. These mixtures can be frozen in all sorts of interesting molds.

Large molds, small individual molds, and paper baking cups are all satisfactory. The hot weather that is slowly but surely drawing nearer will make our families grateful for one of these deliciously cool and refreshing desserts.

Low Temperature Eliminates Bacteria

Left-Overs Made Into Tempting Tidbits

One of the great problems confronting the average housewife is the economical use of "leftovers." The electric refrigerator answers this need by properly storing such foods until such time as they may be used.

It maintains and sometimes improves the flavors and it offers the means of preparing many dishes from these tidbits.

Recipes may be adapted for use with whatever foods are to be found in the refrigerator.

Unusual combinations may be inspired by the necessity for using up odds and ends of different foods. The electric refrigerator has made the use of leftovers a pleasure rather than an irksome task.

HOT WEATHER SUGGESTS ICED DISHES

Problem Easily Solved for Housewife

With the approach of the summer months the housewife casts about for some manner in which to offset the hot days to come.

The electric refrigerator is the solution to her problem, and she will make full use of this household convenience.

It is such an easy way to make frozen dishes. Mousses, parfaits, in fact any of the cream mixtures, can be frozen in the automatic refrigerator with no trouble at all. Such mixtures can be prepared and gotten out of the way long before they are to be used for they do not become crystalline with standing. Fruit juices, partially frozen and then combined with whipped cream or beaten egg whites before completing the freezing, make delicious sherbets. These mixtures can be frozen in all sorts of interesting molds. Large molds, small individual molds and paper baking cups are all satisfactory. The hot weather that is slowly but surely drawing nearer will make families grateful for one of these deliciously cool and refreshing desserts.

FROZEN DESSERTS

PINEAPPLE SHERBET

1 cup sugar.
1 cup canned pineapple juice.
2 teaspoons lemon juice.
1 egg white.

Boil sugar and water 10 minutes, cool, then add pineapple and lemon juice and freeze to a mush in freezing tray. Remove and fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Return to tray and freeze for 1½ to 2½ hours longer.

* * *

STRAWBERRY MOUSSE

1 quart strawberries.
1½ cups sugar.
Juice ½ lemon.
1 pint cream.

Mash strawberries well, add sugar and lemon juice. Whip cream and fold in strawberries. Pour in refrigerator tray and freeze about 3 hours.

* * *

FROZEN PEACH TAPIOCA

2 cups milk.
3 tablespoons tapioca.
¼ cup sugar.
⅛ teaspoon salt.
1 egg yolk.
½ teaspoon vanilla.
½ cup peach pulp.
2 tablespoons confectioners sugar.

Scald milk in double boiler, add tapioca, sugar and salt, and cook 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Pour over slightly beaten egg yolk and return to double boiler and cook until mixture thickens. Remove from fire, add peach pulp and chill. Whip cream, combine with confectioners sugar, and vanilla, and when custard is cool combine with whipped cream. Turn into refrigerator tray and freeze for 3 hours.

* * *

TUTTI FRUTTI TRIFLE

½ grapefruit.
1 orange.
6 marshmallows.
2 tablespoons maraschino juice.
6 maraschino cherries.
3 egg whites.
6 tablespoons confectioners sugar.

Cut grapefruit and orange in halves and remove sections with grapefruit knife. Cut pineapple into small pieces, and cut marshmallows in eighths. Soak marshmallows and cocoanut in combined juices. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in sugar. Drain marshmallow mixture, combine with fruits, and fold in egg whites. Turn into refrigerator tray and freeze for 2½ to 3 hours.

* * *

VANILLA ICE CREAM

1 cup cream.
¾ cup sugar.
2 tablespoons flour.
1 cup heavy cream.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Pinch of salt.

Scald milk and cream in double boiler. Mix sugar and flour and add gradually to hot milk. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Add vanilla and whipped cream. Mix thoroughly. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze about 3 hours.

* * *

CHOCOLATE FROZEN CREAM

6 tablespoons cocoa.
1 tablespoon flour.
1 cup sugar.
1 cup milk.
2 eggs.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 cup cream.
1 cup heavy cream.

Heat milk in top of double boiler. Combine sugar, flour, cocoa and beaten egg yolks and beat well. Add to milk and cook until thick. Cool, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Chill, add cream, then fold in heavy cream which has been whipped. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze about 3 hours.

HINTS IN PREPARING SANDWICHES

Busy Hostess Yields to Science

The electric refrigerator has proved a boon to the busy hostess, who due to the stress of time, occasioned by many activities, often finds it necessary to prepare a luncheon on short notice.

The scientific refrigeration method has opened to her many possibilities in the art of sandwich making. She has but to prepare many of the fillings popular with her family and friends and to keep them in covered jars in her refrigerator.

Here are some suggestions for sandwich fillings that may be prepared and placed in the refrigerator ready for use on a moment's notice when the guests arrive:

Grated carrot mixed with enough mayonnaise dressing to moisten.

Chopped celery and Roquefort cheese. (Mix finely chopped celery with mashed cheese and enough cream or mayonnaise dressing to moisten. Add a few drops Worcestershire sauce).

Snappy cheese and pimiento. (Mash cheese with fork or press through sieve; mix with chopped pimiento and milk or cream to moisten.)

Cream cheese, chopped olives and mayonnaise.

Baked beans and chili sauce. (Mash beans and moisten with chili sauce. Add chopped pickle if desired.)

Chopped chicken, ham and pickle relish mixed with mayonnaise dressing to moisten.

Chopped corn beef, celery and watercress mixed with Russian dressing to moisten.

Chopped ham, hard-cooked egg and pickle relish mixed with cooked or mayonnaise dressing.

Chopped bacon and hard-cooked mixed egg with cooked or mayonnaise dressing.

Hard-cooked egg, tuna fish, pickle relish. (Mix with cooked or mayonnaise dressing to moisten.)

Beef, veal or ham loaf with Russian dressing.

Peanut butter and chopped ginger, mixed with mayonnaise.

Peanut butter and chopped dates, mixed with mayonnaise.

Shrimp, pineapple, celery and mayonnaise. (Chop shrimp and celery, mix with shredded pineapple and mayonnaise to moisten.)

Anchovy butter—butter which has been softened and mixed with anchovy paste to taste.

Watercress butter—finely chopped watercress blended with softened butter.

Chicken giblets and hard-cooked egg. (Chop giblets and egg and mix with mayonnaise dressing to moisten.)

Tongue, chopped cabbage, pickle and mayonnaise. (Mix finely chopped tongue, chopped cabbage, and chopped pickle or pickle relish, with enough mayonnaise or Russian dressing to moisten.)

Choped egg, sardine and mayonnaise dressing.

Liver, bacon and hard-cooked eggs. (Cooked liver put through food chopper and mixed with finely chopped crisp bacon and chopped hard-cooked egg. Mix with mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing.)

SLIDING SHELVES

No groping to the farthest corner for elusive foodstuffs. General Electric's sliding shelves bring everything in the sturdy all-steel, acid-resisting porcelain-lined cabinet within easy hand reach.

HEALTH PROTECTION

The assurance of health protection is offered with the easy-to-clean Coldspot. Its porcelain on steel interior, heavy insulation, snug doors, flat buffet top and quick freeze control are indorsed by Good Housekeeping Institute.

Crosley Offers New Features

Announcing the new Crosley electric refrigerators in Pittsburgh, M. Fischman, of the Keystone Radio Corporation, local Crosley distributors, said:

"The new Crosley Electric Refrigerators are without doubt the greatest electric refrigerator values ever offered in the history of the industry."

He pointed out that Crosley, while bringing every feature to commend it as the equal of similar units now available, has the added advantage of extreme low cost.

More than six years of research by Crosley engineers have resulted in the development of distinctly new principles, according to Mr. Fischman.

He declared the unit possesses the finist possible insulation facilities, provided with walls and doors of three and three and a half-inch thickness.

Among the many features incorporated in the new Crosley refrigerator are those of temperature control, thermal cutout, defrosting switch, rubber mounted motor, forced air cooling condenser, maximum storage space and removable top.

Production on the Crosley refrigerator which is now under way, will be in full swing shortly and stocks of the new units will soon be in the hands of the 20,000 Crosley dealers scattered throughout the United States and Canada.

Tomato Juice Cocktail

1 cup water.
Celery tops.
1 teaspoon salt.
⅛ teaspoon pepper.
1 tablespoon sugar.
4 or 5 cloves.
5 or 6 drops Tabasco sauce.
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
2 teaspoons lemon juice.

Combine all ingredients except the lemon juice and boil slowly for 20 minutes. Press through a sieve, forcing through as much pulp as possible. Add lemon juice and chill thoroughly. Serve very cold. This may be kept in screw-top jar in your refrigerator for several days.

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION AIDS COOK

Saturday Baking No Longer Drudgery

The worry and drudgery of "Saturday baking" has definitely been overcome by science and the cook has turned to the electric refrigerator for many delicacies to be served to the family and guests on Sunday.

No longer does she fuss and fume over the oven in the preparation of pies, cakes and confections. These are now prepared in advance and placed in efficient storage until the time comes for their consumption.

Here are some tried and proven recipes that will ease the preparation of meals during the hot summer months:

FRUIT CAKE

½-lb. Graham crackers
1 cup dates, chopped.
½-cup raisins, chopped.
2 tablespoons chopped orange peel.
½-cup citron, sliced very thin.
¼-teaspoon grated nutmeg.
¼-teaspoon ground all spice.
1 cup cut marshmallows.
1 cup thick cream.
½-cup currants.
2 tablespoons chopped candied cherries.
1 scant teaspoon cinnamon
¼-teaspoon ground cloves.
¼-teaspoon salt.
1 cup nutmeats.

Crumble crackers rather fine, soften currants in hot water and drain. Add spices and salt to dry cracker crumbs and mix, then add other ingredients. Marshmallows should be cut into very small pieces, soaked in cream and added last. Mix thoroughly until cracker crumbs are all moistened. Pack into square tin or mold lined with waxed paper and let stand in electric refrigerator 12 hours. Slice thin and serve with or without whipped cream or hard sauce. Makes 2-lb. loaf. Will keep in electric refrigerator several weeks.

Summer Foods

The joy of frozen dessert on a hot summer day. Plenty of ice cubes for cold drinks with Star-Freeze.

Refrigerator Aid to Family

Of all facilities and features for which electric refrigeration in general has become famous, their insuring healthful foods and preventing the wastage that ordinarily results from so much spoilage in the household are the two of paramount importance.

They lighten the homemaker task as well, by making it possible for her to shop less frequently, by chilling desserts quickly for her, by keeping her supplied with plenty of ice in usable size at all times, and by affording countless other such conveniences never possible before the advent of electric refrigeration.

* * *

REFRIGERATOR BISCUITS

2 cups flour.
4 teaspoons baking powder.
1 teaspoon salt.
2 tablespoons shortening.
¾ cup liquid (milk, water or mixture).

Mix dry ingredients and sift. Cut in shortening or work in with tips of fingers. Add liquid gradually, mixing with a fork to a soft dough. Wrap dough in parchment paper and place in a covered dish. May be stored a week before baking.

5 solid Trainloads in one day

$1,500,000 worth of Rollator Refrigeration in this One prosperity shipment!

They're buying Norge Electric Refrigerators... buying them by the thousands. Month after month for fifteen months, Norge has shown an increase over the previous year's sales records. The first three months of this year saw Norge sales 241% of the same period last year. And now—

A single shipment of $1,500,000 worth of Norge refrigerators!

April 29th, five solid trainloads of Norge refrigerators left the factory. A fitting climax to April shipments... going out to provide more thousands of homes with Rollator Refrigeration.

Think of a Norge in your home. A beautiful cabinet with smoothly rounded corners inside and out ... with thoughtfully arranged, waist-high, flat shelves... an odor-proof freezing compartment with spring-hinged, gasket-cushioned door ... the Icevoir for quickly freezing bars of ice which can be removed untouched by tap water ... the Watervoir for keeping a gallon of cold water on tap without ice ... the Preservoir for prolonged storage of food at lower temperatures ... the Hydrovoir for keeping fruits and vegetables garden fresh.

These are just a few of the features you'll see when you inspect the Norge. But after all, the best part of the Norge is the part you never see... the famous "Powered-for-the-Tropics" Rollator mechanism. So simple, it has but three slowly moving parts ... so sturdy that years of constant use only increases its efficiency ... so powerful that the blistering heat of summer in the tropics will not affect its faithful performance ... certainly the almost everlasting Rollator is one of the important reasons for Norge popularity. And only Norge has the Rollator!

Consider every feature of the Norge... every fact about Rollator Refrigeration before you select a refrigerator. See the Norge before you buy.

SALADS INDISPENSABLE IN SUMMER

Proper Menu Marks Good Hostess

It is in the summer time that the hostess turns to salads. The luncheon, bridge or tea party are not a success without some cool, refreshing salad and your electric refrigerator makes it possible for you to become the model hostess.

The following recipes are given as an aid for the housewife in preparation of her menus:

WATER CRESS SALAD

Remove crisp water cress from refrigerator. Break leafy parts from stems and remove all coarse parts. Arrange portions as desired on individual plates and serve with salt and vinegar as desired. French dressing is ofttimes more desirable.

* * *

CHICKEN SALAD

2 cups chicken meat (diced).
1 cup celery (chopped).
⅔ cup lettuce broken into small parts.
½ cup cooked cream mayonnaise.
½ teaspoon salt.

Place meat, olives and celery in mixing bowl, add mayonnaise and mix well with a fork. Serve on crisp lettuce from the refrigerator or crisp endive can be used, garnishing the salad with several stuffed olives.

* * *

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD

Peel 2 grapefruit and remove sections. Dissolve the contents of one package of lime flavored gelatine in 1¾ cups boiling water. Cool and when it begins to set add the grapefruit sections and a little chopped pimento. Mold and chill. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

CRAB MEAT SALAD

1 small can crab meat.
6 hard boiled eggs.
½ cup thick mayonnaise.
Parsley.
Lettuce.

Cut hard boiled eggs lengthwise and remove yolk. Fill whites with crab meat chopped fine and mixed with mayonnaise. Chop yolks and mix with finely chopped parsley. Arrange crisp lettuce from the refrigerator on individual plates. Arrange stuffed eggs and garnish by sprinkling stuffed eggs with chopped yolks and parsley.

PEAR AND CHEESE SALAD

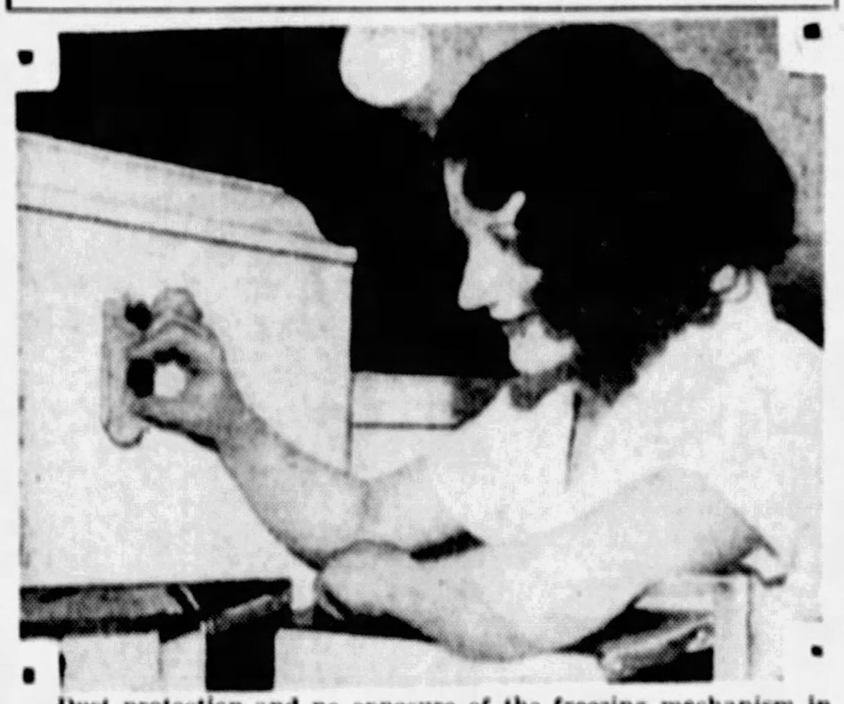
6 pears (dessert pears).
1 3-ounce cake cream cheese.
1-3 cup English walnut meats (chopped).
¾ cup creamed mayonnaise.
Lettuce.

Divide cream cheese into six portions, shape into balls and roll in nut meats. Place in refrigerator. Arrange pear halves on crisp lettuce. One-half pear will make one serving. Place cheese balls in center of pear, add mayonnaise to each serving, garnish each serving with a few chopped nut meats.

BLACK CAP SALAD

Force through food chopper enough raw cabbage to make 1 cup, then put through enough raw carrot, scrubbed and scraped, to make 1 cup. Next put through ½ cup raisins. Mix raisins with 1 tablespoon cooked salad dressing and pack in bottom of 4 custard cups. Mix carrots with 2 tablespoons salad dressing and pack on top of raisins. Add 2 tablespoons salad dressing to cabbage and pack on top of carrot. Chill and turn out in cabbage or lettuce nests.

SEALED FREEZING UNIT



Dust protection and no exposure of the freezing mechanism in the Majestic, with its flat table top, porcelain interior, heavy insulation, 8½ square feet of shelf area and "Elasto" finish.

"Our Electric Refrigerator proved a wise investment" this way

Look on the table—on every plate—in every glass—are evidences of the thrift and convenience of an electric refrigerator

THIS WAY it is a wise investment. Adequate refrigeration is food insurance. Its cold, even temperature protects your meat, fruit and vegetables from spoiling.

THIS WAY it is a wise investment. It guards the health of growing youngsters by keeping milk wholesome and sweet—always safe.

THIS WAY it is a wise investment. The ends of roasts, the "dabs" left over from other meals it helps to make into chilly soups, souffles and frozen salads. Nothing need be thrown away—everything is used.

THIS WAY it is a wise investment. Those tempting desserts—shivery jellies, frosty fruit cocktails—which everyone likes so much can be made in an electric refrigerator so economically that you may enjoy them every day—and all sorts of cooling beverages with tinkling cubes of ice.

THIS WAY it is a wise investment. An electric refrigerator may be had on such easy terms that you can easily meet the very small payments. You begin to enjoy the benefits of an electric refrigerator the very day it is delivered to your home!

Consider quality above price when buying an electric refrigerator . . . Select one adequate to your family needs . . . A good rule is to provide 2 cubic feet of refrigerator capacity for each member of your household.

ELECTRIC LEAGUE of PITTSBURGH

INVEST IN AN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION BUREAU

Buyer Should Be Mindful Of Needs

In the selection of an electric refrigerator, the prospective purchaser should take into consideration the space it is to occupy and the storage needs of the family it is to serve. Its capacity may be as low as four cubic feet or as high as 18 cubic feet.

All that is needed for its installation is an electric service outlet to which it may be attached for its electric supply.

If it is necessary to install new wiring to connect an electric refrigeration, this wiring should be done by a competent electrician.

Electric refrigerators consist of two main pieces of mechanism in addition to the cabinet. One is the cooling unit, which corresponds to the ice in an ice refrigerator, and which may be inside the cabinet or outside, one make having this mechanism on top. The other is the motor and its attendant mechanism.

Trays, singly or in series, provide for freezing. They may be divided into compartments so that ice is produced in small cubes convenient for any household use. Food, as well as ice, may be frozen in these trays.

The cabinet may be a hard wood which has been treated to prevent shrinkage, cracking or the absorption of moisture, or it may be enameled metal.

The frame should be sturdy, well-built of sufficient thickness and rigidity so that it will not warp or sag. It must be watertight and air-tight.

The lining should be of material which will not absorb moisture, grease or odor. In most refrigerators may be found a porcelain lining, made in one solid piece with corners smoothy rounded. This makes for ease in cleaning and being air-tight adds materially to the insulation.

Doors should operate easily, and should have simple but strong, self-locking latches. There should be closely-fitted insulating strips around the doors and insulation between the inner walls and outer walls of the refrigerator to maintain low temperature which is necessary for safety. Proper insulation keeps cold air in and keeps warm air out. The most familiarly known insulation material is corkboard. To this is sometimes added a thin sheathing of firm-grained wood. The insulation is pressed into the walls of the cabinet and sealed into all joints, to make everything air-tight. Insulating material should be germ-proof, free from rot, mold and odor. There should be at least two inches of insulation.

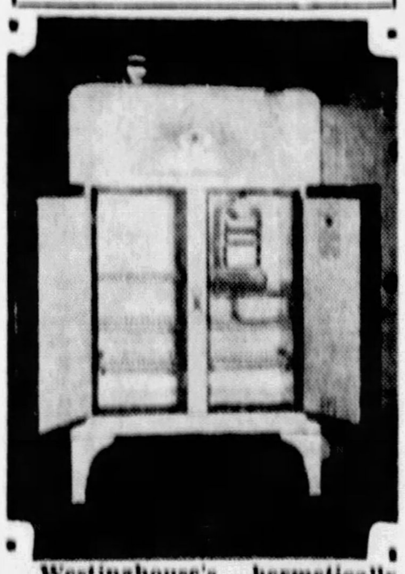
Frozen Plum Pudding

2-3 cup brown sugar.
3 tablespoons flour.
2-3 cup orange juice.
1½ cups plain raisins.
Malaga or Sultana raisins or currants.
½ rind of orange.
½ rind of lemon.
1½ teaspoons cinnamon.
½ teaspoon ground cloves.
¼ cup citron, cut very fine.
½ cup English walnuts, chopped fine.
1-3 cup maraschino cherries, quartered.
1 cup sherry wine flavoring.
2 cups plain cake crumbs, or ginger cake, spice cake or graham crackers.
1½ pints cream, half coffee and half whipping cream preferred.
¾ teaspoon mace.

If desired, Malaga, Sultana raisins or currents may be substituted for plain raisins. Spice cake, ginger cake or graham cracker crumbs can be used in place of the plain sponge cake crumbs.

Mix sugar, flour and raisins, then add orange juice and cook in sauce pan directly over the fire, stirring all the while. These raisins should be soaked in boiling water one hour before using. When the mixture comes to the boiling point, add lemon and orange rind, and cook all together, approximating 15 minutes. Stir constantly to prevent scorching. Remove from fire and add mixed spices and heat again over the fire just a minute. Remove from fire and add chopped citron, stir all together well and allow this to cool.

Sealed Unit



Westinghouse's hermetically sealed freezing mechanism is concealed. Sanitary porcelain frosters are protected with a duo-automatic temperature control.

LET'S TALK FACTS

ABOUT ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

THE ONE FACTOR that determines the long life and continuous operation of any refrigerator is the mechanism. When the mechanism of a refrigerator fails, refrigeration ceases. Every benefit of electric refrigeration is lost to you until the mechanism is repaired. Service expense begins.

There is no mechanism like that of the General Electric Refrigerator. It was designed and built—not to meet a price—but to afford care-free refrigeration service year-after-year. It is different in design, appearance and operation.

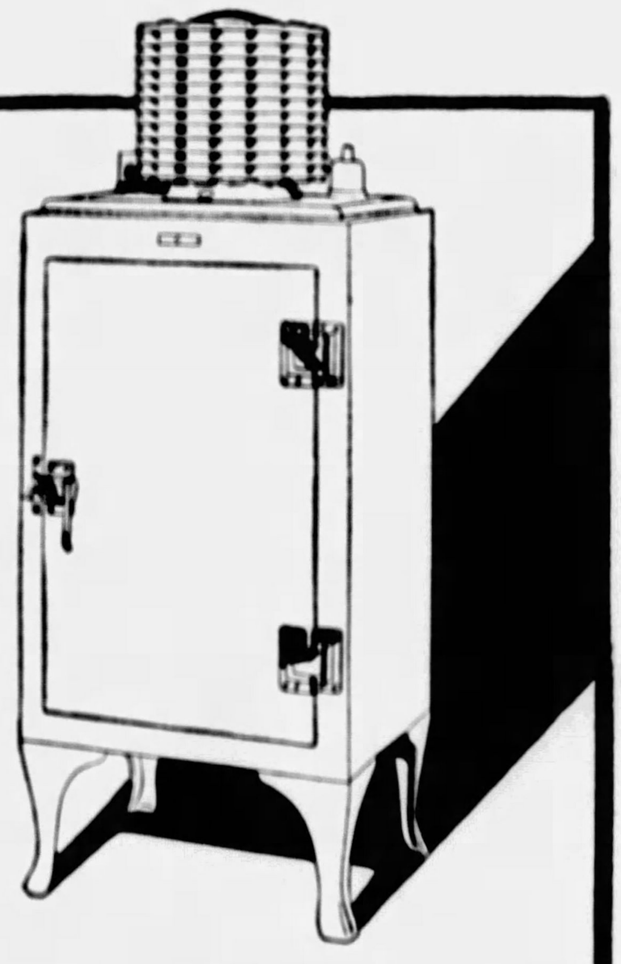
The finest case-hardened steel is used throughout its construction. The moving parts of the General Electric Refrigerator's mechanism are machined to a precision one-twentieth the thickness of a cigarette paper.

General Electric's engineers and scientists spent fifteen years in test and research perfecting the G-E mechanism. Every moving part is hermetically sealed-in-steel in the Monitor Top. The General Electric's mechanism requires no attention—not even oiling.

It cannot fail because of neglect—because there is nothing for you to neglect. Air, dust and moisture cannot reach the mechanism. Your children can't reach it. It's simple, clean, compact and efficient.

To more than a million and a quarter homes, the General Electric Refrigerator has furnished the lowest cost refrigeration service obtainable.

$10 down will deliver a full-sized General Electric to your home tomorrow. The balance may be paid in amounts no larger than the General Electric can actually save you. Select your model today.



- Monitor Top sealed-in-steel mechanism requires no attention—not even oiling.
- All-Steel cabinet—built like a safe to give life-time service.
- Acid and stain-resisting porcelain interior; accessible temperature control; broom-high legs.
- Sliding Shelves add convenience—bring all food into plain sight and easy reach.
- Sanitary Super-Freezer—all porcelain, inside and out; easy to clean and keep clean.

COOLING DRINKS BOON IN SUMMERTIME

Items Supplied By Electric Refrigerator

What is more refreshing on a hot summer day than a cool refreshing drink? With your electric refrigerator this is available any time. It requires but a small space to store the necessary items for a healthful, refreshing beverage. A bottle of sugar syrup coffee, tea, ginger ale or grape juice and the cubes your refrigerator supplies you can do wonders.

Here are some simple recipes with which to fight summer temperatures.

* * *

SUGAR SYRUP

1 cup sugar
1 cup water

Put sugar and water in a saucepan and stir until sugar is dissolved. Bring to boil, and boil without stirring for about five minutes. Cool. Pour into covered jar and keep in refrigerator, using as needed.

* * *

COFFEE SYRUP

Follow directions for sugar syrup, using strong coffee instead of water, and boiling for 10 minutes instead of five minutes.

* * *

CHOCOLATE SYRUP

1 cup water.
2 teaspoons vanilla.
⅛ teaspoon salt.
2 cups sugar.

Cook cocoa and water together over direct heat, stirring until smooth. Add sugar and salt and continue stirring until they are dissolved. Boil three minutes; add vanilla. Pour into a pint jar. Seal with a rubber ring and keep in refrigerator. After each using replace rubber and cover and seal tightly. Keeping air-tight prevents sugaring.

* * *

LEMONADE

6 cups water.
Sugar syrup.
Juice of 4 lemons.

Mix water and lemon juice. Add sugar syrup to taste. Serve with colored ice cubes or serve a spoonful of grape juice that has been frozen to a mush in each glass.

* * *

GINGER ALE FLOAT

Fill tall beverage glasses two-thirds full of ginger ale and add a scoop of pineapple sherbet. Garnish with sprigs of mint.

* * *

FRUIT PUNCH

1 cup strong tea.
¾ cup orange juice.
1-3 cup lemon juice.
1 cup pineapple juice.
1 pint ginger ale.
Sugar syrup.
Slices of orange and lemon.

Mix fruit juices and tea. Chill in the refrigerator, and just before serving add ginger ale, sugar syrup to taste, and slices of orange and lemon. Serve with ice cubes in each glass.

Little Frost

Virtually no frost accumulation on these ice trays! Dehydration is practically eliminated in the Mohawk, with the duozone unit. The absence of frost accumulation eliminates frequent defrosting periods.

Upside Down Cake Recipe

3 tablespoons butter.
Halves of apricots.
¼ cup butter.
½ cup sugar.
2 eggs.
½ cup apricot juice.
1¼ cups flour.
2½ teaspoons baking powder.
⅛ teaspoon salt.
½ teaspoon vanilla.

Melt butter and brown sugar in heavy cake pan about 3 inches deep. Place halves of apricots, hollow side down, which have been drained of juice, in bottom of the pan and let this stand. Cream butter and sugar, add well-beaten eggs, then stir in apricot juice alternately with the flour, sifted with the baking powder and salt. Add vanilla. Cover and let this batter stand in the refrigerator until ready to bake. A half-hour before dinner pour batter into pan containing the apricots and sugar and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes. Turn out and serve with whipped cream, hard sauce or lemon sauce.

Food Savings

Bulk buying at bargain prices effects remarkable savings in family budgets, insuring against food spoilage, Frigidaire makers emphasize. Leftovers are preserved instead of being thrown away.

How often can you afford to buy a new Electric Refrigerator?

IT IS important to you to know that Ice-O-Matic refrigeration is built by the Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating Corporation in one of the most extensive and finest equipped factories in the country.

Years ago, Williams engineers perfected and introduced Ice-O-Matic refrigeration. They designed Ice-O-Matic so scientifically right in principle and held its production to such unvarying microscopic limits of precision, that the first Ice-O-Matic ever built is still running "on test" today. It has never stopped.

Every one of the thousands of Ice-O-Matics in use today is built to the same high standards.

Such mechanical accuracy, especially when associated with cabinet quality such as Ice-O-Matic offers, should outweigh all other arguments you may hear advanced in favor of lesser refrigerators.

Ice-O-Matic, for all its quality, costs you no more.

PROPER PRESERVATION OF FOOD VITAL

Storage Center Important in Household

The preservation of food is one of the most vital points to be considered in maintaining the health of the family. For this reason the electric refrigerator is a very important unit in household equipment.

Ask yourself this question; "Do you know when foods are spoiled and when they're not?" now answer it . . . honestly. Certainly, when they are obviously moldy or rancid, you dispose of them hastily. But do you know that long before these signs are evident the tiny invisible living things known as bacteria may be at work . . . if the food has not been kept at the proper temperature? If you are conscious of such conditions then you are in the happy minority. For, the more the public comes to realize the necessity for even temperature in the preservation of foods, the healthier this nation will become.

Milk, kept in a refrigerator that is inadequate for proper food preservation may become laden with deadly germs. Vegetables, while not wholly injurious, may lose their all-important vitamines. Meats may indeed become unfit for use long before either odor or taste warns us of the danger.

In efficient home-making, kitchen grouping, to save steps, is a very vital consideration, and the most important unit in the group is the refrigerator or storage center. The home-maker should make sure it is capable of providing the food protection health demands. And just what is that standard? Briefly this: a refrigerator must provide consistently a temperature provenly calculated to prevent the growth of molds and bacteria. These destructive agents thrive, multiply and attack foodstuffs wherever they find warmth or moisture.

It is more important that our perishable food be kept protected by safe cold storage than it is that riches be kept locked up in safe deposit vaults or burglar-proof safes.

Refrigerator Cookies

1 cup sugar.
1 egg
1¾ cups flour.
½ teaspoon vanilla.
2 teaspoons baking powder.
½ teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and sugar together. Add the beaten egg. Add flour, baking powder, salt and vanilla. Shape with the hands into a roll two inches in diameter, adding a little more flour if necessary. Place in a covered dish and keep in the refrigerator, using as needed. When ready to bake, cut in thin slices and lay on a lightly greased pan. Bake in a quick oven (425 degrees F.) until a delicate brown (about five to eight minutes). If desired, cookies may be decorated with chocolate shot, chopped or shredded nuts, or raisins. Makes about 4 dozen.

Economical

Good Housekeeping Institute recommends Ice-o-matic as an economical electrical servant.

Lemon Sherbet Recipe

1 teaspoon gelatin.
½ cup cold water.
1½ cups sugar.
1½ cups boiling water.
Grated rind 2 oranges.
2 eggs.
1 cup lemon juice.
1½ cups orange juice.
1 pint (2 cups) cream or evaporated milk.
½ cup powdered sugar.
Few grains salt.

Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Dissolve gelatin and 1½ cups sugar in boiling water; add orange rind, lemon juice and orang. juice. Place in tray in refrigerator and freeze to a mush. Beat cream (or evaporated milk) until stiff; add ½ cup sugar and salt. Separate yolks from whites of eggs. Beat yolks until thick and lemon colored, and whites until stiff; combine, and add to cream. Freeze, stirring twice during freezing process. Serves 8.

ICED TEA

4 cups boiling water.
6 teaspoons tea.

Scald an earthenware or china teapot. Put in the tea and pour boiling water over it. Let stand 5 minutes. Cool. Strain and add sugar syrup to taste.

GRAPE LEMONADE

3 cups grape juice.
Sugar syrup.
Juice of 3 lemons.

Mix grape juice and lemon juice and add sugar syrup to taste. Chill and serve in tall glasses partially filled with crushed ice cubes.

Pastry Made in Refrigerator

2 cups flour.
1 teaspoon salt.
Ice water
1-3 cup shortening.
1-3 cup butter.

Mix and sift flour and salt. With two knives or a pastry blender, cut in shortening. Add enough ice water to make a stiff dough. Roll out in an oblong piece and dot with bits of butter. Fold ends to the center and fold again to make four layers. Press the ends together and roll out. Dot again with butter, fold and roll out. Fold again and place in a covered dish; keep in refrigerator until ready to use. Makes enough for one two-crust pie.

Automatic

Guess work and hand adjustments are eliminated in Kelvinator, its manufacturers point out. Four cold zones are constantly below 50 degrees. A frost chest maintains a temperature below freezing for meats, fish and game.

Convenient Payments

Here Are the Conveniences in the 1932 Copeland Line Available According to Price and Style of Model

COLDIAL—Freezing at various speeds is made possible—temperature regulated at will—by a touch of the finger on the inside Coldial.

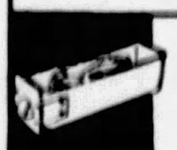
WATER CHILLER—Chilled drinking water flows at a touch at an inside faucet, from a reservoir that holds 32 tumblerfuls without refilling.

TELESCOPE SHELF—Lowest shelf telescopes to one-half depth to accommodate bottles and other higher objects. Flat-bar shelves.

SLIDE BASKET—All Copeland Models now have a sliding removable container to hold fruit and other loose articles in one separate receptacle.

ICE SUPPLY—From 63 to 162 quickly-frozen ice cubes, according to the model used. Cubes quickly ejected from flexible rubber tray.

COLDCRISPER—Leafy vegetables are kept fresh, moist and crisp—flavor preserved—wilted leaves freshened—in this roomy storage pan.



COLDRAWER—Meats, game and poultry may be stored—desserts frozen—or ten pounds of ice made in this near-zero compartment.

COLDTRAY—An extra tray for food—a receptacle for defrosting drip (eliminating unsanitary drain pipe)—and a cover for the Coldcrisper.

SIMPLIFIED MECHANISM—Permanently quiet—fully enclosed in locked, but accessible compartment—extra power in hot weather.

CABINETS OF DISTINCTION—White porcelain or enamel finish—chromium-plated fittings—deeply embossed top—all cabinets on legs.

WHITE PORCELAIN INTERIOR—Glass-hard walls—rounded corners. Planned for most storage space and convenience.

ILLUMINATED—Light floods the interior, automatically, the moment the door is opened—is extinguished when the door is closed.
